The Jim Haswell Gold Dust Arena

When first conceived, a small group of hard working individuals formed what is now called the Gold Dust Arena Committee. The Arena was built in 2004 by rodeo enthusiasts on a piece of land leased from the Bureau of Land Management. The original facility was hand built from materials donated to, or bought by the original committee members. In 2010 the Arena was renamed in memory of a founding member, Jim Haswell. Today all members are volunteers who spend countless hours building, maintaining, organizing and coordinating all of the numerous aspects necessary to host large-scale events. Since its inception, the rodeo facility has undergone many changes to reflect growth of this very popular sporting facility. Recently city water was added with bathroom facilities along with an amphitheater with stage. Future improvements planned include additional parking, lighting and seating. The Rodeo itself is sanctioned by the Idaho Cowboy Association (ICA) and is very popular with its members, competitors and spectators. Many other equine groups also use the facility to host their own particular style and preference in horse sports, such as: barrel racing, gymkhanas, ranch horse events, team roping, drill team competitions, 4-H functions, etc. With today's economic uncertainties, the only way to continue such improvements is through the generosity of companies like yours.

About The Idaho Cowboy's Association

The Idaho Cowboy's Association (ICA) has been in existence since the early 1950s. The objective of the ICA is to promote the sport of rodeo. Through the instrument of this association, rodeos attract bigger crowds, and cowboys compete for larger purses. All ICA approved rodeos meet standards designed to enhance the quality of the rodeo, the talent of all competing cowboys and cowgirls, and the safety of the rodeo stock.

The ICA approves rodeos in Idaho, Oregon, Washington, and Nevada. Most rodeos average three performances with 1500 spectators per performance. Many of the July and August rodeos are held in conjunction with county fairs, therefore attracting many agriculture and livestock related consumers.

The ICA has eight standard events: bareback riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, team roping, barrel racing, and breakaway roping. In November of each year the ICA sponsors a year-end awards banquet to honor the year-end Champions, All-Around Champion, rodeo committees and sponsors.

The flavor of an ICA rodeo is a spirit many seek to experience from days gone by. Many rodeos have an annual tradition where generations of cowboys have competed, and many rodeos represent the single, largest and most exciting event that comes to town.

The Idaho Cowboy's Association is dedicated to promoting rodeo; an important link to our Western heritage and some of today's best most action packed entertainment.
