Private Instruction Contract

Private Instruction lessons are based on availability. Students must be in the same style genre (rec or competition) class in order to be considered for private lessons. Private lessons should not be choreography based but rather an emphasis on technique, skill and showmanship. The first private lesson must be technique based instruction. The second private lesson session can incorporate choreography. Only one solo, per student, will be performed at Recital culminating the session. Recital performance is Optional. Private lesson priority will go to competition team members first and then the list will be filled based on availability of instructor, studio availability and genre specified. Private lesson fees must be paid in full to reserve the lesson date and time. Private lessons can not be discounted and are excluded from scholarships and extreme dancer discount programs.
