

Nine Great Ways To Celebrate 4th Of July In San Diego

See + Do San Diego has to be one of the very best places in the country to celebrate 4th of July...here's why.

It's the most patriotic time of the year again! Just because Fourth of July falls in the middle of the week this year, it doesn't mean that you're going to miss out on celebrating our nation's birthday – we wouldn't stand for it!

San Diego has to be one of the very best places in the country to celebrate 4th of July. Between our beaches and strong military presence, we have some really unique opportunities to show our love for our great country!

Whether you're looking for an all-day celebration or something a little more low key this year, we've got you covered with lots of red, white and blue ideas.

Hold Down a Seat at a Beach Bar!

Why not?! Take the day off and indulge with a lazy day in the sun and fruity cocktail in hand while enjoying the people watching at one of San Diego's incredible beach bars! Head to Mavericks Beach Club in Pacific Beach for an all-day party complete with a DJ and a buffet filled with mouthwatering picnic fare, or for something more low key, check out the patio at Miss B's Coconut Club in Mission Beach. You can't really go wrong!
