

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

TransPar Group of Companies to Tackle School Transportation Issues at NAPT Conference and Trade Show

Industry Experts Speak to School Officials About Overcoming Issues and Optimizing School Transportation Operations

Charleston, S.C. (October 25, 2018) – The TransPar Group of Companies announced that representatives will be attending the National Association for Pupil Transportation (NAPT) 44th Annual Conference and Trade Show on October 27-30 at the Kansas City Marriott Downtown in Kansas City, Missouri. The NAPT conference is recognized as the premier school transportation conference in the nation. This year's program will inspire student transportation professionals at all levels to think differently and take on common challenges in thoughtful, innovative ways.

"We look forward to meeting with many transportation professionals focused on improving their operations and pursuing professional development," stated Tim Ammon, Chief Business Development Officer of TransPar Group of Companies. "We have been finding that many organizations may be able to identify there is a concern in their operation but are unsure how to fully assess the scope of the problem. More importantly, it is often difficult for them to design and oversee the implementation of solutions because of all the other demands on their time. We believe that our organization is uniquely capable of supporting analysis and change management of driver staffing issues, bus replacement, bell time changes, and other critical issues facing the industry."

Ammon will be presenting at the conference sharing his transportation and logistics expertise with attendees. He will be presenting 'On-Demand Services & Their Impact on Student Transportation' on Saturday, October 27th, from 9:00 AM – 10:00 AM and co-presenting 'Using Bell Times Studies to Maximize Routing Efficiency' on Sunday, October 28th, from 9:15 AM – 10:45 AM.

"We hope to provoke transportation managers to think about the future of service expectations and how on-demand services are likely to be very disruptive to them as programs evolve to meet the changing demands of educational systems," Ammon said.

“We are also focused on helping districts identify both the analytical and practical aspects of bell change assessments with Keith Henry from Lee’s Summit Schools. Given the continuing focus on bell times as both an efficiency and service quality tool, we think this session will be very valuable for participants.”

Representatives from the TransPar Group of Companies will be available to discuss school transportation improvements and answer questions at NAPT Booth #138.

For more information about the TransPar Group of Companies and their portfolio of services and products, please visit www.TransParGroup.com and follow on Twitter at @TPGoC.

###

About TransPar Group of Companies

The TransPar Group of Companies offers a diverse portfolio of services and products which represent the most comprehensive offering in the industry. The three business units include TransPar, which provides Management and Staffing Services to develop solutions for difficult operational questions and problems; School Bus Consultants which offers Advisory Services to deliver resources and expertise that transportation contractors and organizations often cannot access on their own; and Transportation Services Co. providing Fleet Management Services and Training Products to help customers create the strong foundation necessary to support effective service delivery. TransPar Group of Companies is the all-inclusive solution for school districts looking to operate a successful, reliable, and effective student transportation program. For more information, please visit www.TransParGroup.com.