Survey Technician Opening

Due to explosive growth, Yalgo, LLC currently has an opening for a non-conventional Survey Technician. The Survey Technician works alone without assistance, outdoors in all conditions. Tasks performed include locating existing property corners, setting new property corners, topographic surveying, and construction staking. Hardware utilized includes TOPCON GPS and TOPCON robotic total station. Software utilized includes AutoCAD, Carlson Survey, TOPCON 3D-Office and Pocket 3D, and MS Office. No surveying experience is necessary, but applicants must have a basic understanding of trigonometry and be self-starters who can function without constant supervision. On-the-job training will be provided. Applicants must have a valid driver's license with a clean record and must be able to pass a drug screening, as well as a criminal background check. Veterans are strongly encouraged to apply. We offer competitive benefits and wages. Send resumes and cover letter/email to inquiries@yalgoengineering.com.

About Yalgo:

Yalgo, a Texas licensed survey and engineering firm, is part of a family-owned residential land development organization located in Killeen, Texas. Since the organization's inception more than four decades ago, we have grown to a team of about one-hundred individuals and have maintained zero debt. As a vertically-integrated land development organization, all activities, from the initial land purchase, through design, construction, and sale of the finished residential lots, are performed in-house by our talented employees. This unique corporate structure affords us a competitive advantage that is unrivaled in the land development industry.
