STAR TREK: THE NEXT GENERATION

"Deja Q"
#40273-161

Written by Richard Danus

Directed by Les Landau

THE WRITING CREDITS MAY NOT BE FINAL AND SHOULD NOT BE USED FOR PUBLICITY OR ADVERTISING PURPOSES WITHOUT FIRST CHECKING WITH THE TELEVISION LEGAL DEPARTMENT.

Copyright 1989 Paramount Pictures Corporation. All Rights Reserved. This script is not for publication or reproduction. No one is authorized to dispose of same. If lost or destroyed, please notify the Script Department.

FINAL DRAFT

NOVEMBER 14, 1989
STAR TREK: "Deja Q" - 11/14/89 - CAST

STAR TREK: THE NEXT GENERATION
"Deja Q"

CAST

PICARD   Q
RIKER     Q2
DATA      DOCTOR GARIN BEVERLY   SCIENTIST TROI
GEORDI
WORF      Non-Speaking GUINAN    TECHNICIANS

ENGINEER'S VOICE
Non-Speaking SECURITY GUARDS
SUPERNUMERARIES
STAR TREK: "Deja Q" - 11/14/89 - SETS

STAR TREK: THE NEXT GENERATION
"Deja Q"

SETS

INTERIORS                EXTERIORS

USS ENTERPRISE           USS ENTERPRISE
MAIN BRIDGE              SHUTTLCRAFT
ENGINEERING              CORRIDOR
CORRIDOR                 DETENTION CELL
DETENTION CELL           CAPTAIN'S READY ROOM
CAPTAIN'S READY ROOM     TEN FORWARD
TEN FORWARD              TURBOLIFT
TURBOLIFT                SHUTTLECRRAFT
STAR TREK: "Deja Q" - 11/14/89 - PRONUNCIATION

STAR TREK: THE NEXT GENERATION
"Deja Q"

PRONUNCIATION GUIDE

<table> <thead>
<tr>
<th>BRE'EL</th>
<th>bree-EL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>CALAMARAIN</td>
<td>kal-ah-mah-REIGN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DELTIVED</td>
<td>DEL-tih-ved</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
FADE IN:

1 EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL)

The ship orbits Bre'el, a small, verdant planet orbited by a single moon, irregularly shaped.

PICARD (V.O.)
Captain's log, Stardate 43539.1.
We have moved into orbit around Bre'el Four to investigate a potentially catastrophic threat to the population from a descending asteroidal moon...

2 INT. MAIN BRIDGE (OPTICAL)

To include MAIN VIEWER. PICARD, TROI and RIKER in the Command Chairs. DATA and WORF at their stations. SUPERNUMERARY at Conn. On the Main Viewer is DOCTOR GARIN, a middle-aged man. He is obviously very troubled. Another SCIENTIST is at his side. In the b.g. various TECHNICIANS check monitors. It has the look of controlled chaos that fills a hurricane center during a big storm.

DATA
The satellite's trajectory continues to deteriorate, Captain... This orbit will bring it to within five hundred kilometers of the planet's surface.

GARIN
We're predicting the atmospheric drag will bring it down on the next orbit.

SCIENTIST
Have you been able to find any explanation for this?

DATA
No, Doctor... it is a most unusual phenomenon.
STAR TREK: "Deja Q" - REV. 11/17/89 - TEASER 1A.

CONTINUED:

PICARD
Won't the moon disintegrate prior to impact?

SCIENTIST
No, it has a ferrous crystalline structure and will be able to withstand tidal forces, Captain...

RIKER
Couldn't we just blow it into harmless chunks?

DATA
The total mass of the moon would remain the same, Commander. And the impact of thousands of fragments would spread destruction over an even wider area.
2 CONTINUED:

PICARD
How long before impact...

DATA
Twenty-nine hours... projected somewhere on the western continent. It would destroy an area eight hundred kilometers in radius.

SCIENTIST
That damage would be insignificant, Captain, compared to the seismic repercussions... massive landquakes, and tsunami...

GARIN
The force would raise a cloud of dust around the planet, leading to a significant temperature reduction. We could be looking at our own ice age.

PICARD
(keying insignia)
Commander La Forge, is there any way the Enterprise might be able to coax this satellite back where it belongs...?

INTERCUT:

3 INT. ENGINEERING

GEORDI's at a console. SUPERNUMERARIES at various positions. The matter/anti-matter blender bubbling with power.

GEORDI
We'd need to apply a delta-kee of at least four kilometers per second. Even with warp power to the tractor beam, it would mean exceeding recommended impulse engine output by at least forty-seven percent. It'd be like an ant pushing a tricycle... a slim chance at best...
CONTINUED:

RIKER
(to Picard)
Given a choice between slim and none, I'll take slim any day...

PICARD
Make it so.

RIKER
Lieutenant Worf, signal all ships in this sector to rendezvous and join us in relief efforts.

WORF Aye, sir.

PICARD
(to Main Viewer)
We'll keep you informed of our progress. Picard out.

EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL)

The tractor beam flares out of the ship and grabs onto the small moon. The warp engines flare brighter as we apply power. The ship is trying to "plow" the moon into a higher orbit.

INT. BRIDGE (OPTICAL)

As before. Picard and Riker looking at the viewer. The tractor beam holds the small moon. The moon does not move.

Picard gets up and walks closer to the viewer.

RIKER
Can you give us any more, Geordi...?

GEORDI'S COM VOICE
Not without burning out the tractor beam emitter... the circuits are already beyond their thermal limit.
DATA
Delta-vee is ninety-two meters per second. The mass is too great. We are having an effect but it is negligible.

In the background, a strange noise... it begins low... more like a million voices than a million machines...

RIKER
What is that...

DATA
Unable to identify source...

It gets louder...

GEORDI'S COM VOICE
Impulse engines passing safety limits. We're seconds from automatic shutdown.

PICARD
Reduce engines... tractor beam off...

The sound continues to grow... and seems to surround the ship... they react... almost deafening now...

RIKER
Worf, what the hell do the sensors show...?

WORF
The sound is not registering, Commander...

The sound swirling inside and all around... ends with a slight POP. Q APPEARS, naked, suspended above everyone, as though held by an invisible puppet.

Q
Red Alert.

PICARD
Q.

And Q promptly crashes to the floor. On reactions...

END TEASER
FADE IN:

17 EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL)

As it orbits Bre'el, maintaining its distance to the moon, Klyo.

PICARD (V.O.)
Captain's log, supplemental. We are no closer to finding a solution to the deteriorating orbit of the Bre'el Four moon... but with the arrival of Q, we now have a good idea of the cause.

18 INT. BRIDGE

Starting with Q putting on his jump suit...

GEORDI (O.S.)
We couldn't drive the tractor emitters hard enough, Captain...

Panning to find Picard is getting a debriefing on the failed moon attempt from Geordi...

GEORDI
The beam was flexing, and it was impossible to transfer enough kinetic energy to the moon...

PICARD
Our options?

GEORDI
We did everything by the book and a little extra... we need more time or more power and we're short on both. I'll take a look and see if there are any rules I haven't broken.
CONTINUED:

PICARD

Keep me advised.

Geordi EXITS. Picard turns toward Q with loathing in his eyes...

RIKER

We know you're behind this, Q...

Q

(re: the jumpsuit)

It's not at all my best color...

Behind what... what are you blathering about, Riker...

Picard moves to confront him...

PICARD

What kind of twisted pleasure does it give you to bring terror into their lives... ?

Q

What? Whose lives?

PICARD

The millions of people down there who are watching as their moon falls out of the sky...

Q

I haven't the vaguest idea what you're talking about... and I have a much more serious problem... I am no longer a member of the continuum. My superiors have decided to punish me.

Picard frowns... refusing to participate with this game of Q's...

PICARD

And punish us as well, it seems...

He ignores Q, moves away...
Q
They said I've spread too much chaos through the universe and they have stripped me of all my powers.

They look at him with disbelieving eyes. Off their reaction --

Q
You do not believe me... ? Would I humiliate myself like this?

RIKER
If it served your purposes, yes.

Q
It is the truth. I stand before you, defrocked. I'm condemned to be a member of this lowest of species. A normal, imperfect, lumpen human being.

TROI
Turning you into a human was part of their punishment... ?

Q
No, it was my request. I could have chosen to exist as a Markoffian fire lizard or a Belzoidian flea, anything I wished... so long as it was mortal, but I only had a fraction of a second to mull and I chose... "this"... and asked them to bring me here...

TROI Why?
CONTINUED: (3)

Q
(moving to Picard)
Because in all the universe you are the closest thing I have to a friend, Jean-Luc.

Q smiles to Picard... Picard's look says it all. Data aims a tricorder at Q.

DATA
He is reading as fully human.

Q (looks around the bridge)
Is there an echo in here?

TROI
I'm even sensing an emotional presence in him. I would normally describe it as being terrified.

Q
How rude.

Enough of this... Picard rises, moves back into the fray.

PICARD
Q, what is it you want...

Q
Your compassion...
(a beat, off Picard's look)
All right... Sanctuary on your ship... dreary as that may sound to both of us...

PICARD
Return the moon to its orbit.

Q
I have no powers. Q the ordinary.

PICARD
Q, the liar. Q, the misanthrope.
Q Q, the miserable. Q, the desperate. What must I do to convince you people...

WORF Die.
CONTINUED: (5)

Q
Very clever, Worf. Eat any good books lately?

PICARD
Fine. You wish to be treated as a human?

Q Absolutely.

PICARD
Mister Worf, throw him in the brig.

WORF Delighted, Captain.

Q
Jean-Luc... you can't do this...

Worf moves to him...

WORF
You will walk or I will carry you.

Q
Given the options -- I'll walk.

As they EXIT...

Q
(to Picard)
You've disappointed me, Jean-Luc... I'm very disa...

And Worf closes the turbolift doors... Riker and Picard exchange a glance.

18A INT. TURBOLIFT (FORMERLY SCENE 19)

Worf and Q.

Q
It was a mistake... I never should have picked human... I knew it the minute I said it.

(MORE)
18A CONTINUED:

Q (Cont'd)
To think of the future in this shell... forced to cover myself with fabric because of outdated human morality, to say nothing of being too hot or too cold, growing feeble as the years pass, losing my hair, catching a disease, being ticklish, sneezing, having an itch, a pimple, bad breath, having to bathe...

WORF (acknowledges) Too bad.

19 INT. CORRIDOR (FORMERLY SCENE 20)

Q and Worf exit the turbolift and walk down the corridor.

Q
"Klingon"... I should have said "Klingon". In my heart, I am a Klingon, Worf... So you understand I could never survive in confinement...
The universe has been my back yard... this is cruel and unusual punishment. As a fellow Klingon, if you would speak to the captain on my behalf, I would be eternally grateful... which doesn't mean as much as it used to, I admit.

19A INT. DETENTION CELL (OPTICAL)

WORF
Be quiet or disappear back where you came from.

Worf ushers him in.

Q
I can't disappear any more than you can win a beauty contest. (MORE) 19A CONTINUED:

Q (Cont'd)
If I ask a very simple question, do you think you can grasp it without troubling your intellect too much... ready? If I still had powers, would I permit you to lock me away?

WORF
You have fooled us too often, Q.

Q
Perspicacity incarnate. Please don't feel compelled to tell me the story of "the boy who cried Worf"?

WORF
Computer, activate forcefield.

The room is now divided by a rim of lights. Q tests the force field. We see the EFFECT. Worf leaves. A security guard holds position...

Q
(yelling at Worf)
I demand to be let out of here, do you hear me? You will deactivate this cell immediately.
(no answer)
"Romulan". I should have said "Romulan", you Klingon goat!

And he sits down in frustration.

20 OMITTED

21 INT. READY ROOM

Picard and Riker seated at the desk.

PICARD
The question is -- what sort of jaded game is he playing this time?
21 CONTINUED:

RIKER
Maybe he just wants a big laugh. He'll take Bre'el Four to the edge of disaster, then pull the moon back.

PICARD
(thoughtful)
Or he may have nothing to do with it at all.

RIKER
Do you honestly believe Q is telling the truth?

PICARD
Oh, I agree that is highly unlikely. But we have to proceed with our current dilemma as though Q is powerless to prevent it, don't we?

RIKER
As he sits, and watches us struggle...

PICARD
I don't see much choice.
(speaking to com)
Mister Worf, hail the Bre'el Four science station...

WORF'S COM VOICE
They're standing by, Captain...

Picard turns on his monitor to reveal Garin and the Scientist.

PICARD
I'm sorry to report that our first attempt to restore the moon to its proper orbit has failed.

GARIN
We have less than twenty-five hours before impact...
CONTINUED: (2)

RIKER
Our chief engineer is working on ways to reinforce our tractor beam.

PICARD
There is hope... but if you have an evacuation plan...

GARIN
We have already started moving people from the coastal areas of the western continent...

PICARD
(acknowledges)
We will make another attempt shortly... Picard out.

He turns off the monitor...

RIKER
I gotta tell you Geordi is not optimistic...

Suddenly, the room begins to glow... Picard and Riker exchange glances and head for the door.

PICARD
What the devil... ?

As they exit...

INT. MAIN BRIDGE

the EFFECT continues... Picard and Riker ENTER from the Ready Room... Data and supernumeraries are reacting.
22 CONTINUED:

RIKER
Data... ?

DATA
Sensors are showing broad band emissions... including Berthold rays...

RIKER Lethal?

DATA
No, Commander. Overall exposure is under seventy-five rems. Very low intensity. More like a soft medical scan... I would speculate that we are being probed...

PICARD
By whom?

DATA
The sensors cannot identify point of origin. It seems to be coming from all around us...

Off their reactions...

22A INT. ENGINEERING

Geordi reacts as the EFFECT rolls by...

22B INT. DETENTION (OPTICAL)

Q is asleep with a rather pleasant expression on his face as the EFFECT zips right through the forcefields holding him prisoner... As the probe penetrates the field there is an additional EFFECT. The probe finds him and lingers on his face... and as it suddenly zips away...

FADE OUT.

END ACT ONE
FADE IN:

22C  EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL)

in orbit.

23  INT. DETENTION (OPTICAL)

Picard ENTERS... Q, lying on his bunk, opens an eye...

Q
Ah, you've come to apologize... how nice... no offense taken... all is forgiven...

He rises.

PICARD
Enough. I want to know exactly what is going on, Q...

Q
But Jean-Luc, how can I know what is going on? I have been in this dungeon of yours, helpless and alone... bored to tears...

PICARD
We have a moon that is inexplicably falling out of orbit... and now the ship has been probed with Berthold radiation...

Q (coversing up some concern)
When? I wasn't aware of it.
(off Picard's look) Truthfully, Jean-Luc. I have been entirely preoccupied by a most frightening experience of my own. A couple of hours ago, I started realizing this body was no longer functioning properly...
I felt weak, the life oozing out of me... I could no longer stand... and then I lost consciousness...
23 CONTINUED:

PICARD
You fell asleep...

Q
It's terrifying... how can you stand it day after day...

PICARD
One gets used to it...

Q
What other dangers are in store for me... I am totally unprepared for this... I need guidance...

Picard frowns, getting nowhere.

PICARD
I am unwilling to play along, Q. If you must keep up the charade, you will do it alone...

As he starts to leave...

Q
Jean-Luc... wait...

He walks into the FORCEFIELD... bounces back...

Q
This is getting on my nerves... now that I have nerves...

Picard pauses at the door...

Q
You have a moon with a deteriorating orbit... I've known moons across the universe... big ones, small ones... I'm an expert... I can help you with this one... if you let me out of here.

Picard reacts.

PICARD
Q, we're dealing with millions of lives... if you have the power to...
Q
I have no power... But I still have the knowledge... locked in this puny brain. You cannot afford to dismiss that advantage, can you?

Picard must hold himself back... finally keys his insignia...

PICARD
Mister Data, please report to Detention Cell Three. Computer, remove the forcefield.
(to Q)
If this is what I must do to save those lives, I will.

The field is removed. Q tentatively crosses past the barrier...

PICARD
(continuing)
You will not be left alone for one moment while you are on this ship, Q. If you are human, which I seriously doubt, I suggest you work hard to earn our welcome.

Q
Oh, I'll earn your welcome. You only dislike me. There are others in the cosmos that truly despise me.

Data ENTERS.

PICARD
You are hereby assigned to Q for the remainder of his stay... escort him to Mister La Forge in Engineering...

Q
Can I have a Starfleet uniform...

That does not require an answer... Picard EXITS...
Data studies Q.

Q
What are you looking at?
DATA
I was considering the possibility that you are telling the truth... and really are human.

Q
It's the ghastly truth, Mister Data... I can now stub my toe with the best of them.

DATA (recognizing) An irony.
(off Q's reaction)
It would mean you have achieved in disgrace what I have always aspired to be.

A beat on Data, then...

23A INT. CORRIDOR

Q accompanying Data to Engineering.

Q
Humans are such commonplace little creatures. They roam the galaxy looking for something, and they don't even know what it is.

DATA
The human race has an enduring desire for knowledge, and for new opportunities to improve itself...

Q
There is certainly room for improvement. The truth is, Data, they are a minor species in the grand scheme. Not worth your envy...

DATA
Oh, I do not feel envy.

Q
Good.
DATA
I feel nothing at all. That is part of my dilemma. I have the curiosity of the human... but there are some questions I will never be able to answer... what is it like to laugh or to cry or to experience any human emotion... ?

Q
Believe me, life's a lot simpler without feelings... a lot simpler...

And as they proceed down the hall...

INT. ENGINEERING (OPTICAL)

Q is with Data and Geordi, bending over, studying data, photographs at the pool table...

GEORDI
The moon will hit its perigee in ten hours... we match its trajectory... increase emitter coolant rate so we can apply continuous warp-equivalent power nine to the tractor beam. We can keep pushing it for nearly seven hours and I think that might do it... but there's a problem...

DATA
The Enterprise will be dangerously close to the atmosphere.

GEORDI
That's the problem.

Q
This is incredible.
GEORDI
You see something here, Q?

Q
I think I just hurt my back. I'm feeling pain. I don't think I like it. What's the right thing to say... "ow"?

GEORDI
(frustrated) Yeah...

Q
Ow. I don't think I can straighten up...

DATA
(keying insignia)
Medical assistance to Engineering...

GEORDI
Q, I've got a few people down on Bre'el Four who are gonna be hurt if we don't...

Q (interrupting)
Yes, with your marvelous plan, you will not only tear the moon to pieces... but your precious ship as well.

GEORDI
You have a better idea... ?

Q
I would certainly begin by examining the cause and not the symptom.

GEORDI
We've done that, Q... and there's no way to determine...
Q
This is obviously the result of a large celestial object passing through at near right angles to the plane of the star system... probably a black hole...

DATA
Can you recommend a way to counter the effect?

Q
Simple. Change the gravitational constant of the universe.

GEORDI
(reacts) What...?

Q
Change the gravitational constant of the universe. And thereby alter the mass of the asteroid...

GEORDI
Redefine gravity. How am I supposed to do that?

Q
You just do it. Where is that doctor anyway...?

DATA
Geordi is trying to say that changing the gravitational constant of the universe is beyond our capabilities.

Q
Oh. In that case, never mind.

Beverly ENTERS from the Engineering turbolift.

Q
Ah, Doctor Crusher, Starfleet shipped you back into exile, I see...

DATA
Q says he has hurt his back...
CONTINUED: (3)

BEVERLY (disbelieving)
Uh huh.

Geordi's mind is working now... as Beverly examines Q's back, he goes to the computer, starts working on something...

BEVERLY
Well, I wouldn't believe it if I didn't see it with my own eyes, ... and I still don't believe it... according to this, you have classic back trauma, muscle spasms...

Q
I've been under a lot of stress. Family problems...

BEVERLY
You won't get any sympathy from me. You've been a pain in our backside often enough...

Q
Your bedside manner is admirable, Doctor. I'm sure your patients recover quickly just to get away from you.

She gives him a hypospray and he immediately feels better... at the computer --

GEORDI
You know, it might work...

Data moves to Geordi...

GEORDI
We can't change the gravitational constant of the universe but if we wrap a low level warp field around that moon, we could reduce its gravitational constant... make it lighter so we can push it.

Q
Glad I could help.
(reacts)
Ow... I think.
STAR TREK: "Deja Q" - 11/14/89 - ACT TWO 20.

24 CONTINUED: (4)

BEVERLY Now what?

Q
Something's wrong with my stomach...

BEVERLY
It hurts?

Q
It's making noise.

BEVERLY
Maybe you're hungry.

25 thru OMITTED

28

29 INT. TEN FORWARD

Q and Data ENTER...

Q
What do I ask for? I've never eaten before.

DATA
The choice of meal is determined by individual tastes.

Q
What do you like?

DATA
Although I do not require sustenance, I occasionally ingest a semi-organic nutrient suspension in a silicon-based liquid medium.

They sit at the bar.

Q
Is it good?

DATA
It would be more accurate to say it is "good for me" as it lubricates my bio-functions.
Q
It doesn't sound too appealing. What else is there?

DATA
A wide variety of items... the replicator can make anything you desire.

Q
How am I supposed to know what I desire?

DATA
I have observed that many food selections are influenced by the mood of the person ordering...

Q
I'm in a dreadful mood... get me something appropriate...

DATA (considers)
When Counselor Troi is in an unhappy mood, she often has something chocolate...

Q Chocolate...

DATA
For example, a hot fudge sundae. I cannot speak from personal experience, but I have seen it often has a profound psychological impact.

A waiter comes over.

Q
I'll have ten hot fudge sundaes.

The waiter reacts.

DATA
I have never seen anyone eat ten.

Q
I'm in a really bad mood. And since I've never eaten before, I should be very hungry.
CONTINUED: (2)

The waiter shrugs and moves off. Q reacts as he sees -- down the bar, coming out from the back... she sees him, reacts... Q frowns...

29A ANGLE - GUINAN

Q (sotto, to Data)
This... is not a moment I've been looking forward to.

She slowly comes over... with a controlled grin, a long beat as they look each other. Finally...

GUINAN
I heard you were drummed out of the continuum.

Q
I prefer to look at it as a significant career change.

GUINAN
Just one of the boys, huh?

Q
One of the boys with an IQ of two thousand and five.

DATA
The Captain and much of the crew are not yet convinced that he is truly human.

GUINAN
Is that right?

Guinan never takes her eyes off Q as she casually picks up a fork from behind the counter... and sharply stabs Q's hand...

Q AAAAH...

GUINAN
He's human.
29A CONTINUED:

Q
(to Data)
This is a dangerous creature.
You have no idea... how could Picard allow her to join the crew and not me...

GUINAN
It must be frightening... totally defenseless... after being omnipotent all those centuries...

Q (intimidated) I'm warning you... I still have friends in high places...

GUINAN
... terrorizing one race after another... teasing them like helpless animals... delighting at the fear of your victims...

Q
(sarcastic)
From now on, I'll do missionary work...

DATA
That would be a very noble cause,
Q.

GUINAN
(re: Data)
You could learn a few things from this one.

Q Sure, the robot who teaches the course in humanities.

DATA
I am an android, not a robot.

Q
I beg your pardon.

GUINAN
Get used to it, Q.

Q
What?
GUINAN
Begging. You're a pitiful excuse for a human and the only way you're going to survive is by the charity of others.

She moves down the bar.

Two waiters bring Q's ten hot fudge sundaes... he's depressed, turns to Data, sighs --

Q
I'm not hungry.

On Data's reaction...

INT. MAIN BRIDGE

Picard, Riker, Worf, supernumeraries.

WORF
Captain, sensors are picking up a cloud of energetic plasma... bearing three-four-one mark two-zero... range twelve kilometers and closing...

PICARD
On screen.

ANGLE - INCLUDE MAIN VIEWER (OPTICAL)

An amorphous mass, shapeless and changing.

WORF Energy patterns are reading as highly organized...

RIKER
(to Picard)
A lifeform?

PICARD
Mister Worf, attempt to make contact...

WORF Receiving a signal, sir... on speaker...
STAR TREK: "Deja Q" - REV. 11/17/89 - ACT TWO

30A CONTINUED:

Worf puts it on speaker... it sounds like a series of computer modem signals... hurts the ears...

RIKER
Computer, analysis of signal...

COMPUTER
Signal patterns indicate intelligence. Unable to derive necessary referants to establish translation matrix.

30B INT. TEN FORWARD (OPTICAL)

As people react to the cloud in view out the windows... Guinan reacts more than the others...

GUINAN
Calamarain...

... and as she glances at Q who hasn't seen it yet... there is a shot of light from the cloud which shoots through the window... and immediately isolates Q... he yells... avoids them briefly... but they move after him... as Data reacts...

30C INT. MAIN BRIDGE

As before.

WORF
We're being hit by a field of energetic tachyons... penetrating the hull... location... deck ten... forward...

PICARD
Red alert.

RIKER
Increase power to shields...

GEORDI'S COM VOICE
Increasing power by twenty percent...

WORF
No effect...
30C CONTINUED:

GEORDI'S COM VOICE
Increasing to forty percent...

WORF
Still no effect...

30D INT. TEN FORWARD (OPTICAL)

The light EFFECT has wrapped up Q's legs as he scrambles helplessly to escape... Data tries to assist but the light EFFECT effectively blocks him off...

30E INT. ENGINEERING

Geordi working feverishly...

GEORDI
Adjusting shield harmonics...
Diverting power to the forward grids.

30EA INT. MAIN BRIDGE

As before.

WORF
The added harmonics are blocking the tachyon field.

30F INT. TEN FORWARD (OPTICAL)

The light EFFECT is cut off... Q is freed... still terrified... rolling on the ground...

Q
HELP ME. SOMEBODY HELP ME...

On Guinan's reaction...

GUINAN
How the mighty have fallen.

FADE OUT.

END OF ACT TWO FADE IN:

31 EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL)

Orbiting Bre'el. The plasma cloud is still ominously present.

PICARD (V.O.)
Captain's log, supplemental. We have sustained light damage from an attack by an alien species known as the Calamarain. They apparently have a grievance with Q... no doubt one of many lifeforms that do.

32 INT. BRIDGE

Picard, Riker, Data, Worf, Troi are on the bridge. Q paces nervously. His rhetoric remains, but there is an underlying fear that we've never seen from him.

Q
The Calamarain are not very hospitable creatures. They exist as swirls of ionized gas.

PICARD
What did you do to them to motivate such a vengeance?

Q
Nothing bizarre. Nothing grotesque.

RIKER
You tormented them --

Q
A subjective term, Riker. One creature's torment, is another creature's delight. They simply have no sense of humor... a character flaw with which you can personally identify.

RIKER
I say we turn him over to them.
CONTINUED:

Q
Oh, my mistake... you do have a sense of humor... a dreadful one.

RIKER
I'm serious.

Picard is adding things up... realizing...
CONTINUED:

PICARD
Of course. You knew this would happen, didn't you?

Q
I assure you one cannot anticipate the Calamarain, Picard... they're intelligent, yes... but undependable... very flighty...

PICARD
But you have so many enemies, Q, of various shapes and sizes... certainly you must have been concerned that once you became mortal... some of them might try to look you up...

Q
It occurred to me.

PICARD
With all your chatter about "friendship", the real reason you're here is for protection, isn't it?

Q
You're so bright, Jean-Luc. Yes, of course, you're correct. I know human beings. You are all sopping over with compassion and forgiveness. The human race can't wait to absolve almost any offense. It's an inherent weakness in the breed.

PICARD
What you call weakness, some of us would call strength.

Q
Call it what you want, Picard. I know you'll protect me even though I've tortured you now and again...

RIKER
Fighting off every species you've insulted would be a full time mission. And it's not the one I signed up for.
32 CONTINUED: (2)

PICARD
Indeed. Human or not, I want no part of you. We will deposit you at the first starbase. Let them deal with you...

Q
But I can be a valuable member of your team, Picard...

PICARD
As though you have the faintest notion about team-work or cooperation...
CONTINUED: (3)

Q
I can learn. I'm human.

PICARD
Then I suggest you apply to Starfleet Academy...

RIKER
Don't use me as a reference.

DATA
He has provided important theoretical guidance for Geordi's analysis of the Bre'el satellite, Captain.

Reactions. Surprise at Data speaking up on his behalf.

TROI
It seems you have an advocate,
Q.

DATA
I am only stating a fact, Counselor.

Picard reluctantly acknowledges that fact... keys his insignia...

PICARD
Mister La Forge, your status?

INT. ENGINEERING
At the console...

GEORDI
I've been putting together a program to extend the forward lobe of our warp field. The field coils are not designed to envelop such a large volume. But I'm attempting to modify their alignment parameters.
DATA
Maintaining field integrity will be difficult, Geordi.

GEORDI
I think we can do it manually. The moon's reaching its perigee in fourteen minutes...
STAR TREK: "Deja Q" - REV. 11/15/89 - ACT THREE

36 INT. MAIN BRIDGE

PICARD
Mister Data, escort Q to Engineering...
(to Q)
You will assist Mister La Forge.

Data and Q EXIT.

PICARD
Mister Worf, hail the Bre'el Four science station.

36A INT. TURBO Lift

Data and Q... Q fuming...

Q
Picard really thinks I can't cut it on his starship... I can do anything his little trained minions can do.

DATA
I do not perceive that your skills are doubted, Q. I believe the captain is more concerned with your ability to interact successfully with... his "little trained minions".

The turbolift opens... they EXIT...

36B INT. CORRIDOR - CONTINUOUS

Leading to Engineering.

DATA
Human interpersonal relationships are most complex... your experiences may not have adequately prepared you.
Q
I don't want human interpersonal relationships. I just want to prove to Picard that I'm indispensable.

DATA
To function aboard a starship, or in any human activity, you will have to form relationships.

Q
Why does this have to be so hard...

DATA
Of more immediate importance is your ability to work within groups...

Q
I've never been any good in groups... it's difficult working in a group when you're omnipotent...

Moving down the corridor toward Engineering...

INT. MAIN BRIDGE (OPTICAL)

Doctor Garin and the scientist are on the Main Viewer... Troi has left the bridge.

GARIN
The tides reached ten meters on the last orbit. They are already beginning to swell again. We have a lot of frightened people down here, Captain...

PICARD
Your moon has begun moving toward its perigee, Doctor... we are prepared to make our attempt...
CONTINUED:

SCIENTIST
(acknowledges)
Our population has already taken shelter... but I'm afraid no shelter will be adequate if you fail... Especially for the people on the western continent.

GARIN
Whatever the results, we know you've done your best, Picard. It's appreciated.
CONTINUED: (2)

PICARD
I'll keep you advised, Doctor.
Picard out.

WORF
Captain, sensors are reading increased energy output from the Calamarain...

39A PICARD
reacts...

GEORDI'S COM VOICE
La Forge to bridge. The moon has reached its minimum orbital distance... it's time, Captain...

RIKER
We'll have to lower shields...

PICARD
(knowing the risks)
Proceed.
(beat) Mister Worf, keep a close eye on Q's friends out there...

WORF Understood.

INT. ENGINEERING

Geordi and supernumeraries are working the controls as Data and Q ENTER... Q, the "camp director"...

Q
Okay, everyone, here's what we're going to do...

Geordi reacts...
CONTINUED:

GEORDI
Q, everybody already knows what they're going to do, except for you... now here's what I need...

Q
La Forge, obviously my knowledge and experience exceed yours... by about a billion times... so if you'll just step aside gracefully...

GEORDI
(impatient)
Your experience will be most valuable to me if you can manually control the field integrity...

Q
(reacts)
Don't be foolish. That's a waste of my talents...

GEORDI
Get to the controls or get the hell out of here...

And he moves off to serious business...

GEORDI
Data, you're my liason to the bridge... I'll need you with me...

Q
(to Data)
Who does he think he is to give me orders...

DATA
Geordi thinks he is in command here... and he is correct.

Q swallows hard... moves to the controls... as Data moves to Geordi...

40A INT. MAIN BRIDGE

RIKER
Engineering, holding at station keeping, range six hundred and forty meters.
40A CONTINUED:

DATA'S COM VOICE
Containment fields to flight tolerance.

40B INT. ENGINEERING

Q running the controls... moving to find Data monitoring sensors with Geordi...

DATA
Warp core to ninety percent.

GEORDI
Engage field coils. Tractor beam to stand-by. Field output... ? Field output... ?

Q
(reacts, bored)
Two-seventeen...

GEORDI
Impulse engines to full. Ready to engage tractor beam.

RIKER'S COM VOICE
Lowering shields. Engage tractor beam.
EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL)

As in the tease, the tractor beam locks onto the moon.

INT. ENGINEERING

GEORDI
Extending warp field forward.

ANGLE - MONITOR (OPTICAL)

A computer graphic shows the field extending from the ship and embracing the moon... only it doesn't quite get it all...

PICARD'S COM VOICE
Engineering, is that the forward limit?

DATA
Yes, Captain... we are unable to encompass the entire moon...

PICARD'S COM VOICE
Do you recommend we proceed...?

A beat as they look to Geordi...

Q
(shakes his head)
The two parts of the moon will have different inertial densities...

ANGLE - MOVING WITH GEORDI

GEORDI
I can adjust the field symmetry to compensate...

Q
I doubt it.

GEORDI
You don't know what this ship can do, Mister...
(keying insignia)
(MORE) 42C CONTINUED:

GEORDI (Cont'd)
Yes, Captain... I think it still might work... increasing power to tractor beam and warp field...

Q
(to LaForge)
And if you're wrong, the moon will crumble due to subspace stress... don't say I didn't warn...

GEORDI
Shut up, Q.

Leaving his post...

Q
I will not be spoken to in this manner...
42C CONTINUED: (2)

GEORDI
  (do something about him)
  Data...

DATA
  Q, I strongly advise that you return to your post.

Q reacts, listens to Data, hangs his head, returns to his post...

DATA
  (checking readings)
  Inertial mass of the moon has decreased to approximately two-point-five million metric tons...

GEORDI
  It's working. We can move it.
  Firing impulse engines...

42D EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL)

As the impulse engines provide thrust...

43 INT. MAIN BRIDGE (OPTICAL)

As before. The computer graphic is on the main viewer.

DATA'S COM VOICE
  The moon's trajectory has moved point-three percent... point-four percent...

Worf reacts to something he sees on sensors...

WORF
  Emergency... shields up...

RIKER
  Disengage tractor beam...

WORF
  Calamarain attacking...

He's interrupted as the Enterprise suffers a massive impact...
CONTINUED:

WORF
Shields holding... tachyon field repelled...

GEORDI'S COM VOICE
Captain, the impact of the blast is pushing us into the upper atmosphere...
44 thru OMITTED

45A

45B EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL) glows as it hits the atmosphere...

45C INT. ENGINEERING

DATA
Hull temperature rising... two thousand degrees... two thousand five hundred degrees.

GEORDI
Moving to full impulse power... we've gotta get out of here...

45D INT. MAIN BRIDGE

WORF
Calamarain are resuming attack...

Suddenly, the ship is shaken again... and now the light EFFECT invades the bridge...

WORF
They've overpowered the shields... hull penetration... deck thirty-six... Engineering...

RIKER
Geordi, can you direct any more power to the shields... ?

45E INT. ENGINEERING

GEORDI
We need all the power we have to get out of the atmosphere, Commander.

The LIGHT EFFECT reaches and grabs Q who yells...
Data is on his feet on his way to help Q... who is being wrapped up in the EFFECT like a caterpillar in a cocoon... being raised up in the air...
CONTINUED:

Geordi gets an idea to repel the attack...

GEORDI (to a supernumerary)
Try activating the structural integrity field.

As Q is lifted, Data grabs him in a tug of war... when suddenly Data is enveloped by the EFFECT... Geordi reacts...

GEORDI
(yelling orders)
It's not working. Structural field harmonics on manual.

He moves to the console, begins making manual adjustments...

RIKER'S COM VOICE
Hull temperature falling, Geordi... we're in the clear...

GEORDI
Diverting power to forward section. Now.

The light disappears... Data and Q fall to the ground... Geordi rushes to Data who isn't moving... others join him...

GEORDI
Data... Data... ?

Q, not getting any attention...

Q
What about me?

FADE OUT.

END OF ACT THREE ACT FOUR

FADE IN:

46 OMITTED

46A EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL)

In orbit.

46B OMITTED

46C INT. SICKBAY (FORMERLY SCENE 46B)

Data is unconscious. Geordi and Beverly are both working on him... Picard, Riker and Q watching. Q seems confused, unsure of how to act or what to do.

GEORDI
The charge nearly knocked out his positronic net.

RIKER
What can you do for him?

GEORDI
We'll try to discharge and reset the motor pathways, recouple autonomic nodes...

BEVERLY
There's overpressure in his fluidic systems, thermal shock... If he was mortal, he'd be dead.

Q
(with a subtext of guilt)
Let us not overstate matters here, Doctor... I am mortal and I survived...

They stare at him...

Q (off their reaction)
The cheers are overwhelming.
46C CONTINUED:

PICARD
(quietly seething)
You exceed your own standards of selfish preoccupation. Have you no concern for the officer who very probably saved your life?

Q does, but this is hard for him to admit...
CONTINUED:

Q
(more hope than conviction)
He's strong, he'll survive.

GEORDI
Osmotic pressure still negative. Maybe if we by-passed the flow regulator...

BEVERLY
It would be helpful if everybody just got out of here now...

GEORDI
We'll let you know as soon as there's anything to tell you.

Picard and Q EXIT... Riker lingers for business...

RIKER
Geordi, the moon's trajectory...?

GEORDI
All we did was buy ourselves another orbit at most... we can try again when it comes back to the perigee...

RIKER
And when we drop our shields, the Calamarains go after Q again...

GEORDI
(bitter about Data)
He's not worth it, Commander.

Riker acknowledges... EXITS.

INT. READY ROOM

Picard sits at his desk, doing some busy work... sipping tea... a chime at the door...
CONTINUED:

PICARD Come...

Q ENTERS... they take a beat to look at each other... and Q is in an unusually somber mood...

Q
You're right, of course. I am extraordinarily selfish. It's served me so well in the past...

PICARD
It will not serve you here.

Q
Don't be so hard on me, Jean-Luc. You've been mortal all your life. You know all about dying. I've never given it a second thought. Or a first thought for that matter.

(beat)
I could have been killed. If not for Data... that one, brief delay he created, I would have been gone. No more me. And nobody would have missed me, would they?

Picard looks across at Q for a long, long beat... no compassion from our captain here...

Q
And yet Data may have sacrificed himself for me. Why? Why would he risk his own life for mine?

PICARD
That is his special nature. He has learned the lessons of humanity well...

Q
I ask myself if I would have done the same for him. And I am forced to realize the answer is no. And I feel... I feel ashamed.
47 CONTINUED: (2)

PICARD
I am not your father confessor. You will not receive absolution from me, Q. You have brought nothing but pain and suffering to my crew. And to this very moment, I am not entirely convinced that this is still not your latest attempt at a bad joke.

Q
It is a bad joke. On me. I am the joke of the universe. The king who would be man.

(beat)
As I learn more and more about what it is to be human, I am more and more convinced that I will never make a good one. I just don't have what it takes, Jean-Luc. Without my powers, I'm frightened of everything. I'm a coward. I'm miserable.

(beat)
And I don't think I can go on this way.

And he is clearly broken... he EXITS... on Picard's reaction...
47A thru OMITTED

49 INT. SICKBAY

    Geordi and Beverly are still working on Data who is conscious, but has not regained full use of his program...

    Q ENTERS...

    BEVERLY
    He's going to be all right.
CONTINUED:

GEORDI
We're recalibrating his language circuits... he can't talk to us yet.

Q goes to Data's side. Data looks up at him.

Q
There are creatures in the universe who consider you the ultimate achievement, android. No feelings, no emotions -- no pain. And yet you covet those qualities of humanity. Believe me, you are not missing anything. (beat) But if it means anything to you, Data... you are a better human than I.

He goes out and the doors close on him. Data looks at Beverly and Geordi...

49A  INT. TURBOLIFT

Q ENTERS, morose...

Q
Where's the Main Shuttlebay?

COMPUTER VOICE
Main Shuttlebay is located on deck four.

Q
Take me there...

50
thru  OMITTED
55

56  INT. BRIDGE

Picard, Riker and Worf.

WORF
An unscheduled shuttlecraft has just been launched.

PICARD
On Main Viewer.
56A ANGLE - VIEWER (OPTICAL)

The shuttlecraft moves away from the ship.

PICARD
Opening hailing frequency.

WORF
Frequency open.

PICARD
Shuttle occupant. Identify yourself.
The screen changes to reveal Q in the shuttle cabin.

Q
Don't try to talk me out of it, Jean-Luc.

PICARD
Q? Return to the ship at once.

Q
I just can't get used to following orders.

WORF
Captain, the plasma cloud is moving toward the shuttle.

Q
It's easier this way. They won't bother you after I'm gone.

RIKER
Engineering, prepare to extend shields...

Q
Please, do not fall back on your tired cliche of charging to the rescue in the nick of time... I do not wish to be rescued... My life as a human being is a dismal failure. Maybe my death can have a little dignity.

PICARD
There is no dignity in suicide...

Q
Yes, I suppose you're quite right. The death of a coward. So be it. (beat) Anyway, as a human, I'd die of boredom.

He pushes a button, goes off line and the starfield with shuttlecraft returns... on reactions...
57 thru OMITTED
59

60 EXT. SPACE (OPTICAL)

The Calamarain in the distance... closing on the shuttlecraft.

61 thru OMITTED
67

FADE OUT.

END ACT FOUR FADE IN:

68 EXT. SPACE (OPTICAL)

As before, the Calamarain moves toward the shuttlecraft.

69 INT. MAIN BRIDGE

Picard frowns...

PICARD
This goes against all my better judgment...
(keys insignia)
Transporter Room Three, lock on to Shuttle One... beam it back to it's bay.

ENGINEER'S VOICE
Aye, Captain...

PICARD
Well, it's a perfectly good shuttlecraft...

ENGINEER'S VOICE
Captain, unable to transport... For some reason, I can't lock on...

RIKER
Worf, are you sensing any sort of interference from the Calamarain?
CONTINUED:

WORF
No, Commander, but they are continuing to move toward the shuttle.

RIKER
Geordi, extend shields around Shuttle One...

INT. ENGINEERING

Geordi moving to action...
69A CONTINUED:

GEORDI
Extending shields ...
(reacts)
Commander... the shields are frozen...

RIKER'S COM VOICE Cause...

GEORDI Unknown.

69B INT. MAIN BRIDGE

RIKER
Lock on tractor beam...

GEORDI'S COM VOICE
Tractor beam is not functioning either...

RIKER
What the hell is going on?

70 INT. SHUTTLECRAFT (OPTICAL)

Q, at the controls. Suddenly beside him, APPEARS a man dressed in the same clothes as Q's. Q reacts.

Q2
Not bad, Q. Not great. But not bad.

Q (surprised) Q...

Q2
Sacrificing yourself for these humans... ? Do I detect a selfless act... ?

Q
You flatter me. I'm only trying to put a quick end to a miserable existence.

Q2
(re: the suit)
What a dreadful color.
CONTINUED:

Q
What are you doing here?

Q2
I've been keeping track of you.

Q reacts, pleasantly surprised...

Q
Really? I always felt you were in my corner...

Q2
Actually, I was the one who got you kicked out...
    (off Q's look)
You're incorrigible, Q, a lost cause. I can't go to a single solar system without apologizing for you... and I'm tired of it...

Q
I wasn't the one who misplaced the entire Deltived asteroid belt...

Q2
This is not about me.
    (beat)
I have better places to be. But, somebody had to keep an eye on you in case you still found a way to cause trouble... even as a member of this limited species...

Q2
    (sarcastic)
I hope I've kept you amused.

Q2
Barely. But these humans are rather interesting... I'm beginning to understand what you see in them. After all the things you've done, they're still intent on keeping you safe.

Q
A genetic weakness of the race.
CONTINUED: (2)

Q2
And they're still at it. They just tried to beam you back or whatever they call it... I stopped them...

Q (gallows humor)
Well then, if the Calamarain will just hurry up and finish this, we'll get you on your way...

Q2
No, I put them on hold too. There's still this matter of the selfless act...

Q reacts...

Q2
You and I both know that the Calamarain would have eventually destroyed the Enterprise to get to you... and that's really why you left...

Q (sensing hope)
It was... a tiny bit selfless... wasn't it...

Q2
And there's my problem. I get back to the continuum and tell them you committed a selfless act just before the end... I'm gonna be tied up with questions and explanations for centuries...

Q
Q, I've learned my lesson...

Q2 (bull-stuff)
Remember who you're talking to here... all knowing, all seeing... (sighs)
Fine. You have your powers back. Try to stay out of trouble...
CONTINUED: (3)

He DISAPPEARS. Q smiles, rises... tries on his powers by snapping his fingers, immediately CHANGING his jump suit into a Starfleet uniform...

Q
And they wanted to destroy me, did they?

He holds out the palm of his hand.

thru OMITTED

EXT. SPACE (OPTICAL)

The Calamarain disappear.

INT. SHUTTLE (OPTICAL)

Q holding out the palm of his hand. There is now a glow on it.

Q
If you think I tormented you in the past, my little friends -- wait until you see what I do with you now.

Q2's head comes down through the hull...

Q2 (V.O.)
(a warning)
Q --?

He stops.

Q
I was just seeing if you were still watching

He blows on the palm of his hand. The glow is blown away. Q2 reacts, nods okay.

INT. BRIDGE (OPTICAL)

Picard, Riker, Troi, Worf, Data, Geordi on the bridge.
DATA
Sir, the aliens have disappeared.
(beat)
And so has the shuttle.

RIKER
Scan the sector...

DATA
I have, sir.

PICARD
(reacts)
Well, I guess that's the end of Q.

A cue for the APPEARANCE of a Mexican Mariachi Band...
Q as the lead trumpet...

Q
Au contraire, mon capitaine... heee's back...

And as they blare into a song... Q waves his arms and confetti is falling out of nowhere... and the crew finds fat cigars in their mouths... which they promptly discard...

Q
I have been forgiven, embraced by my brothers and sisters of the continuum... I am immortal again, omnipotent again...

RIKER Swell.

Q
Don't fret, Riker... my good fortune is your good fortune.

Two beautiful babes APPEAR in bikinis with their arms around Riker...

RIKER
I don't need your fantasy women,
Q...

Q
You've become so stolid,
Commander... you weren't like this before the beard...

(MORE)
Q (Cont'd)
(off Riker's look)
Very well...

He snaps his fingers and the girls are now caressing Worf... who reacts...

PICARD
Q...

Q
But I feel like celebrating...

PICARD
I don't.

Q frowns, snaps his fingers... and the girls DISAPPEAR...

PICARD
All of it.

Q snaps his fingers and the band DISAPPEARS and Q is dressed again in the Starfleet uniform.

PICARD
Now, at the risk of being rude...

Q
Yes, I have once again overstayed my welcome. As a human, I was ill-equipped to thank you, Picard. But as myself, you have my everlasting gratitude.

(beat)
Until next time, of course. But before I go, there is a debt I must repay...

And he moves to Data...

Q
... to my professor of the humanities... I have decided my dear Data to give you something very, very special...

DATA
(reacts)
If your intention is to make me human, Q...
CONTINUED: (3)

Q
No no no no no... don't be foolish... I would never curse you by making you human... Let's just call it a going away present.

Data reacts and Q grins at him and suddenly Q disappears and Data bursts into a belly laugh...

GEORDI
Uh, Data... Data? Why are you laughing?

Data collects himself.

DATA
I do not know. But it was a wonderful... feeling.

WORF
Bre'el Four hailing us, Captain.

PICARD
On screen, Lieutenant.

Garin and the scientist are all smiles...

GARIN
Captain Picard... you've done it...

PICARD
I'm sorry... ?

SCIENTIST
The moon is back in its normal orbit. How did you manage it?

PICARD
(reacts)
I didn't. Stand by, Bre'el Four...

RIKER
Let's see it, Worf...
The viewscreen changes to the moon in orbit around the planet...

PICARD
Mister Data, your analysis...

DATA
The moon's altitude is fifty-five thousand kilometers, projected orbit is nearly circular. There is no further danger to the planet.

Picard and Riker exchange a look. Picard acknowledges, relieved...

PICARD
Good. Ensign, set a course for Station Nigala-Four.
(sitting) Perhaps there's a little humanity left in Q after all.

As he raises his hand to "engage", a cigar appears in it...

Q (V.O.)
(whispered so only he can hear it)
Don't bet on it, Picard.

OMITTED

EXT. SPACE - THE ENTERPRISE (OPTICAL)
It warps away to continue its journey.

FADE OUT.

END OF ACT FIVE

THE END