FADE IN:

EXT. CEMETERY - NIGHT.

CLOSEUP of HEAVY RIVETED IRON DOORS with round handles covered by spider webs.

Two "GIANTS", wearing leopard-skin shorts, iron bicep-bands and headbands, pull the heavy iron doors open revealing the INTERIOR of the MAUSOLEUM. There is an ornate stone sarcophagus in the center of the room, raised up on an altar. The back wall has a mantle with a bust of the Virgin Mary looking downward at the coffin. There is a round red window in the center of the wall. A ray of red light shines through the window, illuminating the misty fog hanging in the air.

The giants walk into the Mausoleum. They lift the heavy stone lid off of the coffin, revealing CRISWELL. He is lying in the coffin on his back, with his arms crossed over his chest and eyes closed. He is wearing black suit pants, a white shirt, a black ribbon-like bow-tie, and a black satin cape.

Medium shot of Criswell

We see CRISWELL, Narrator of our tale and SOLE RULER OF THE DARK WORLD, now sitting upright, slouching somewhat in his coffin, glancing offscreen (at his cue card).

During his monologue, each time Criswell looks up at the camera a DRAMATIC PAUSE is inserted as he then looks back down at the cue card and searches for his place in order to continue.

CRISWELL

I am Criswell! For years I have told the almost unbelievable, related the unreal, and shown it to be more...than a fact. Now I tell a tale of the threshold, people, so astounding that some of you may faint.

Monologue continues as camera cuts to graveyard sequence:

Shot of an ancient TOMBSTONE, surrounded by fog, with a human SKULL sitting at its base.

Closeup of BLACK RAVEN with thick fog swirling around it

Dissolve to:

Another tombstone, with a cherub-like engraving on the front

Dissolve to:

A plaque-like grave stone on the ground with fog swirling over it, a Skull and a long bone sitting on the ground by it

CRISWELL (Voice Over)
This is a story of those in the twilight time...once human, now monsters, in a void between the living and the dead. Monsters to be pitied, monsters to be despised...

CUT BACK TO CRISWELL:

CRISWELL (continuing)
A night with the Ghouls...the ghouls reborn, from the innermost depths...of the world.

FADE IN.

EXT. HIGHWAY IN WILDERNESS. "NIGHT"

A CONVERTIBLE is driving along a DESERT ROAD. LONG SHOTS of the automobile driving are filmed in bright sunlight. The desert hills are clearly visible in the background, with only a slight darkening to suggest day-for-night, but the car's headlights are on so we clearly understand that it is pitch black in the dead of night.

CUT TO:

MEDIUM SHOT - BOB AND SHIRLEY IN CAR. NIGHT

BOB and SHIRLEY are seated in the CONVERTIBLE, driving through the night, on a "date". They are searching for an ancient CEMETERY. MEDIUM SHOTS have a pitch black background and dark shadows across the car.

Shirley is leaning over in her seat toward Bob, who is driving.

SHIRLEY
We sure picked the wrong night to find a cemetery. Let's turn back.

BOB
No. It's on a night like this when the best ideas come to mind.

SHIRLEY
But does it have to be in a cemetery?

BOB
You wouldn't understand. Seeing a cemetery on a night like this can stir in the mind the best ideas for a good horror story.

SHIRLEY
But there're so many wonderful things to write about, Bob.

BOB
Sure there are--and I've tried them all. Plays, love stories, westerns, dog stories. Huh, now there was a good one, that dog story all about--

SHIRLEY
(interrupting)
But horror stories! Why all the time horror stories?

BOB
Shirley, I wrote for years without selling a single word.

Bob lets go of the wheel with his right arm and puts it around Shirley, who leans closer against him.

BOB
My monsters have done well for me. You think I'd give that up just so I could write about trees, or dogs, or daisies? Huhuh--Daisies! That's it, I'll write about my creatures who are pushing up the daisies.

Shirley looks up at Bob and smiles. He tilts his head down and they kiss.

BOB
Your puritan upbringing holds you back from my monsters, but it certainly doesn't hurt your art of kissing.

SHIRLEY
That's life. My kisses are alive.

BOB
Who's to say my monsters aren't alive?

LONG SHOT of the car driving down the road

CUT back to MEDIUM SHOT of Bob and Shirley

BOB
All of my books are based on fact, or legend. That's perhaps why they're more interesting and sell in the top spots.
SHIRLEY
Well, fact or not, I don't see how we're going to find an ancient cemetery in these mountains tonight. I can't see a thing! Let's turn back.

BOB
There's an old cemetery on this road. I've been there before.

LONG SHOT of car driving up a desert road with a sandy mountain in the background.

SHIRLEY
I'm getting the jitters! Let's turn back!

BOB
(reluctantly)
Okay.

Bob takes his arm from around Shirley and puts it back on the wheel.

BOB
Just as soon as I find a place wide enough to turn around.

CLOSEUP of CAR INTERIOR - DASHBOARD.

CUT BACK TO MEDIUM SHOT - Bob and Shirley

SHIRLEY
Not so fast!

We hear sounds of tires squealing on the road.

CLOSEUP of car wheel racing along the road.

CUT BACK TO MEDIUM SHOT - Bob and Shirley

SHIRLEY
(desperately)
Not so fast!

CLOSEUP - CAR PEDALS. Bob steps hard on the brake, then pumps the brake repeatedly.
CUT BACK TO MEDIUM SHOT - Bob and Shirley. Shirley screams and hides her face with her hands.

ZOOM IN on a high dirt bank at the roadside, then the screen swirls and spins quickly to suggest a dizzying automobile crash.

Dissolve to:

EXT. WOODS - NIGHT

Bob and Shirley are lying on their backs, unconscious, on the ground. The ground is covered by scattered leaves. Misty fog swirls over them.

(beat)
Shirley wakes up and sits upright groggily. She looks around, then looks down at Bob. She moves toward him and cradles his head in her lap.

Dissolve to:

EXT. CEMETERY - NIGHT

Cemetery is filled with fog. We see a large stone throne framed by ornate columns, with an altar beneath it. There are tombstones in the background, and skulls and bones on the ground.

Camera pans right across a small clearing to the MAUSOLEUM.

CRISWELL (VO)
It is said on clear nights, beneath the cold light of the moon, howl the dog and the wolf, and creeping things crawl out of the slime. It is then the ghouls feast in all their radiance.

The Mausoleum doors creak open on their own, and Criswell quickly stalks out across the clearing, hiding his face behind his long black cape which is held up with his bent elbow against his face, in Dracula fashion.

CRISWELL (VO - Continuing)
It is on nights like this most people prefer to steer clear of, uh, Burial Grounds. It is on nights like this, that the creatures are said to appear, and to walk!

CUT TO:
CRISWELL CLIMBING ONTO HIS THRONE

Criswell walks up the steps to the altar, across the altar, and then sits down on the stone seat. He then slowly lowers his cape from his face and regally looks off to the right (at his cue card).

CRISWELL

The day is gone, the night is upon us, and the moon, which controls all of the underworld, once again shines...in radiant contentment.

(beat)

Come forth, come forth, o Princess of Darkness.

Criswell repeatedly beckons slowly toward himself with his right hand, staring across the clearing at the mausoleum.

The PRINCESS OF DARKNESS is standing in front of the Mausoleum. She walks into the clearing with an entrancing demeanor, her arms outstretched straight in front of her. She is wearing a long black low-cut dress with long open sleeves. The sleeves are lined with red and hang down a couple feet from her wrists. She walks slowly over toward Criswell's throne.

The Princess of Darkness stands beside Criswell's throne, crosses her forearms in front of her chest, and bows toward him. He nods toward her. She reaches out and places her left hand on Criswell's right hand.

CRISWELL (VO)

Time seems to stand still. Not so the ghouls, when a night of Pleasure is at hand!

Criswell continues to hold the Princess of Darkness's hand, and she looks at him seductively.

CRISWELL

If I am not pleased by tonight's entertainment, I shall banish their souls to everlasting damnation!

The Princess of Darkness again crosses her arms in front of her chest and slowly bows to Criswell.

CUT TO shot of the FULL MOON with dramatic cymbals crashing, then back.

CRISWELL
And who is to be first?

The Princess of Darkness claps twice, summoning the first of the night's entertainers. These poor souls must dance for Criswell's approval. If he is pleased, they can continue to entertain him for centuries, but if not, they will be banished to everlasting damnation by the All-powerful Criswell.

LONG SHOT OF THE CLEARING. Huge flames rise from the ground in front of the clearing. The INDIAN GIRL enters the clearing and begins to Dance. She is wearing a red Native American-style dress and headband.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
One who loved flames. Her lover was killed by flames. She died in flames.

The INDIAN GIRL DANCE begins.

The Indian Girl dances around for awhile, then dances away into the foggy background.

EXT. WOODS - NIGHT

Bob slowly wakes up and sits up. Bob and Shirley look around.

EXT. GRAVEYARD - NIGHT

The Princess of Darkness points dramatically toward the mausoleum and begins to speak without moving her lips! A marvel of filmmaking art.

One who prowls the lonely streets at night in life is bound to prowl them in eternity.

The STREET WALKER DANCE begins. The STREET WALKER walks into the clearing wearing a pink dress and purple feather boa, and beckons with her finger as if to say, "Come here, Criswell!"

EXT. WOODS - NIGHT.

At the car accident scene with Bob and Shirley, slow jazz music is audible from the nearby festivities in the cemetery.
Bob and Shirley are still sitting on the ground, looking toward the source of the music.

CRISWELL (VO)
Ahh, the curiosity of youth... on the road to ruin! May it ever be so adventurous!

SHIRLEY
I'm so frightened.

BOB
Well we certainly can't stay here. C'mon.

SHIRLEY Where?

BOB
In there.

SHIRLEY
It frightens me.

BOB
Silly, there's nothing in there to be afraid of.

SHIRLEY
Then...then what's that music?

BOB
That's what I want to find out. We have to get help.

SHIRLEY
What help can we possibly find in the cemetery at this time of night?

BOB
Something's making that music.

SHIRLEY
I'm not sure I care to find out what it is.

BOB
All right. Don't worry, I'll be right beside you.
What help will that do if something in there isn't dead?

BOB
Not dead? In a cemetery?

SHIRLEY
I can't imagine anything dead playing that music.

BOB
Well, it's probably just the caretaker, and that's exactly who we want to find. They'll have a telephone. C'mon.

Bob helps Shirley up from the ground and leads her into the thick bushes.

EXT. CEMETERY, NIGHT

Criswell nods repeatedly, smiling at the dancer in approval. The Street Walker's clothes have suddenly disappeared.

Bob and Shirley creep beneath the bushes, crouched down low. They reach the edge of the clearing where Criswell and the Princess of Darkness are watching the Street Walker Dance.

SHIRLEY
Could it be some kind of college initiation?

BOB
It's an initiation all right, but not of a college as you and I know them. Nothing alive looks like that!

SHIRLEY
Can't we get out of here?

BOB
I'm not sure...

SHIRLEY
What do you mean?

BOB
I'm not sure, myself. It's just a feeling I've had since the crash...Like I feel a cold chill all over..
..Now this!

The Street Walker dances with a Skeleton that is hanging by the door of the mausoleum.

The Street Walker dance ends.

CRISWELL

I would see for approval, the one who in life worshipped gold above all else.

The Princess of Darkness points dramatically toward the mausoleum again to start off the next dance.

The giants walk to the doors, now wearing red and white horizontal-striped miniskirts (or ancient Egyptian garb?). They pull the iron doors open slowly, and we see the GOLD GIRL DANCER lying on her back on the altar inside.

SHIRLEY

(pointing toward the mausoleum)

Look!

BOB

Be careful!—They'll see you.

The Gold Girl Dancer rises slowly and seductively from the table, then stalkingly dances out into the clearing. She is wearing a metallic gold tunic-like dress.

We see a shot of Bob and Shirley watching, and suddenly the Gold Girl's dress has disappeared.

The Gold Girl Dance continues.

CRISWELL

Throw gold at her.

The giants pick up a bucket of gold doubloons and begin slowly sprinkling them over the Gold Girl as she dances. She sits on the ground and reaches for the falling coins.

CRISWELL

More gold.

The giants continue dropping gold coins on the Gold Girl. She picks up the gold coins, rubbing them over her body, in ecstasy.

CRISWELL
(excitedly)
More gold!

The giants continue, to the delight of Criswell. The Gold girl tries to scoop all the scattered coins closer to her.

CRISWELL
(impatiently)
More gold!

The giants continue. Criswell is thrilled, and begins to LAUGH loudly.

CRISWELL
(to the Princess)
For all eternity, she shall have gold.

The Princess of Darkness laughs in acknowledgement, then claps her hands twice, commanding the Giants to finish the ceremony.

The Giants walk toward the Gold Girl, who is still on the ground playing with the gold coins and rubbing them on her body. The giants pick up the Gold Girl, who resists, trying to maintain contact with the gold. She reaches for it as they lift her up.

CLOSEUP of a BUBBLING GIANT CAULDRON full of a substance that is supposed to look like gold.

The Giants dip the Gold Girl feet first into the cauldron, submerging her entire body.

A few seconds later, the giants lift the Gold Girl out of the cauldron. Her body is now entirely gilded, and she is stiff. They lift her onto their shoulders, carrying her like a board, walking in front of Criswell's throne, then back into the mausoleum, laying her body on the altar.

We see Bob and Shirley, looking dismayed.

CRISWELL (VO)
And both couldn't help but remember a line from one of Bob's stories: "A sudden wind howls. The night things are all about me. Every shadow, a beckoning invitation...to disaster. I know I should think of other things, of pleasant things, but I can't.
How can I think of other things, of pleasant things, when I am in a place surrounded by shadows and objects, which can take any shape, here in the darkness...Any shape my mind can conceive."

Deep in the woods, we see THE WOLF MAN and THE MUMMY, walking quickly.

Suddenly, Bob and Shirley are grabbed from behind by the WOLF MAN and the MUMMY. The Wolf Man and The Mummy drag Bob and Shirley over to the clearing near Criswell's throne.

The Princess of Darkness is now seated at Criswell's right side with him on his throne.

CRISWELL
Bring 'em in!

The Princess of Darkness stands and walks to the end of the altar below Criswell's throne, then sits on the lower seat at the end of the altar and crosses her legs.

The Wolf Man and The Mummy drag Bob and Shirley over to the center of the clearing to face Criswell, The Sole Ruler of the Dark World.

CRISWELL
They are live ones?

THE MUMMY
(with audible tape hiss added)
Yes, Master.

CRISWELL
Live ones where only the dead should be?

THE MUMMY
Yes, Master, and we caught them, him and me.

The Mummy motions toward the Wolf Man.

THE WOLF MAN
WWWOOOOOOOAAAAAAAUUUUUUGGGGGHHHHHAAAAAA!!!

CRISWELL
You shall both be rewarded.
(To Princess)
My Dear Empress of the Night, put these intruders to the test.

Medium Shot of Princess of Darkness.  (Suddenly the Princess of Darkness is beside the throne again, several feet from the seat at the foot of the altar)

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
But they are not yet one of us.

CRISWELL
(happily)
A situation easily remedied.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
Tie them that they may watch.

CUT back to long shot of the entire throne and throne altar. The Princess of Darkness is now seated again at the end of the altar.

The Wolf Man and The Mummy tie Bob and Shirley to very tall grave stones.

CUT to medium-close shot of Princess of Darkness, whose chest is heaving excitedly as she grips the handle of the long sacrificial dagger tucked into the belt at her waist.

SHIRLEY
(desperately, to Criswell)
Fiend!  Fiend!

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
To love the cat, is to be the cat!

Criswell motions toward The Princess of Darkness, who then walks back up onto the altar and then sits down beside Criswell again.

The CAT GIRL DANCE begins.

CRISWELL
(jovially)
A pussycat is born to be whipped.

The Cat Girl Dance ends.
CRISWELL
(excitedly)
It will please me very much to see the Slave Girl with her tortures!

CUT TO interior of the stone mausoleum. The Ancient Egyptian SLAVE GIRL is chained from her wrists to a high hook on the wall. One of the "giants" pretends to whip her with a cat o' nine tails.

CUT back to CRISWELL.

CRISWELL
(excitedly)
Torture! Torture! It pleasures me!

The slave girl pulls with all her might and the chains suddenly pop off the hook. She then pushes the iron doors open and dances out into the clearing.

The Slave Dance concludes.

SHIRLEY
I'm so frightened.

BOB
You've got a right to be.
We're trapped by a bunch of fiends.

SHIRLEY
Those creatures...!

BOB
Don't let them hear you.

SHIRLEY
What can we do?

BOB
I don't know. I just don't know. But don't give up.
We're not finished yet.

Shirley closes her eyes and sighs.

BOB
Easy Shirley, Easy! Panic won't do us any good! Let me think. We've got to stall for time.

SHIRLEY
I'm afraid I'll faint.

BOB
Whatever you do, don't do that.

The Camera zooms back and we see that the Wolf Man and The Mummy are hiding behind Bob and Shirley. The Wolf Man has his hand up to his ear so he can hear what Bob and Shirley are saying.

The Wolf Man and The Mummy then creep over toward Criswell's throne.

The Wolf Man whispers into The Princess of Darkness's ear while The Mummy and Criswell watch.

The Princess of Darkness gets up from the throne and walks over to Shirley. Shirley grimaces. The Princess of Darkness unbuttons Shirley's blouse, then marks Shirley's abdomen with a red (blood?) cross using her long sharp fingernail.

Shirley screams.

The Princess of Darkness pulls her long dagger out of her belt and raises it, staring into Shirley's eyes. Suddenly, Criswell yells:

CRISWELL HOLD!

The Princess of Darkness pauses and looks back at Criswell.

CRISWELL
Let her continue to learn. The time is not yet right that they should join with us.

The Princess of Darkness reluctantly puts her dagger back in her belt and tucks Shirley's blouse back in.

The Princess of Darkness walks back to Criswell's throne. He pulls a human skull out from behind his seat.

CRISWELL
...And what is this?

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
A symbol, Master.

CRISWELL
What kind of symbol?

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
She loved the bull ring and the matador. She danced to their destruction.
Now she dances to her own destruction. Her dance is of skulls.

The Princess of Darkness takes the skull from Criswell and throws it dramatically into the clearing.

The MEXICAN DANCE (SKULL DANCE) ensues.

CRISWELL
She came to us on the Day of the Dead.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
El Dia De Los Muertos...A celebration in her country.

CRISWELL
Her dance has pleased me.

The Princess of Darkness snaps her fingers, starting the HAWAIIAN DANCE (SNAKE DANCE).

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
With the loss of her lover, this one cast herself into the Volcano's fire.

A couple times during the dance, there are abrupt cuts to STOCK FOOTAGE of a rattlesnake in a bright daylight shot in tall dry grass. (Looks like it was from a documentary)

CRISWELL
She was?

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
As I said, a worshipper of snakes, and of smoke, and flames.

CRISWELL
Oh, yes, a religion of sorts.
Hawaiian Dance continues, then cut to The Mummy and The Wolf Man.

THE MUMMY
I don't like snakes. I remember the one Cleopatra used. Cute little rascal until it flicked out that red tongue, and those two sharp fangs. You'd never think such a little thing packed such a big wallop.

THE WOLF MAN
Aaaaahhnnhhaaaaaanhhhh?

THE MUMMY
Hurt her? Hell, it killed her!

THE WOLF MAN
(in agreement)
Aaaahhhhhnnahhnnngnnn.

Hawaiian/Snake Girl continues to dance.

THE MUMMY
We had lots of snakes in my ancient Egypt...slimy, slinky things.

THE WOLF MAN
Aahhhhhnnnaahhnn.
AaaaaahhhhooowWW0000000000000000000000!

THE MUMMY
When I was alive, they were the things nightmares were made of.

THE WOLF MAN
Aaarrrggggaahh.

The Hawaiian Dance ends.

CRISWELL
She pleases me. Permit her to live in the World of the Snakes.

(audible cue card flip)

CRISWELL
(continuing, after finding his place on the next cue card)
Now, I will talk...to The Wolf Man...and The Mummy.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
As you wish, Master

The Princess of Darkness motions for The Wolf Man and The Mummy to come.

THE MUMMY
He wants us.

THE WOLF MAN
Aahhnnnahnnnnnn.

THE MUMMY
What do you suppose for?

THE WOLF MAN
Aaaannnnnannuuunnnuuhhhhh?

THE MUMMY
Did you do something to get us into trouble again?

THE WOLF MAN
Aannnnaaahhhnn.

THE MUMMY
Did you howl off-key at the moon again?

THE WOLF MAN
Aannnnaaahhhnn.

THE MUMMY
I can't remember doing anything wrong either.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
COME!

THE MUMMY
We better go before we make him mad.

The Wolf Man and The Mummy walk over to Criswell's Throne.

THE MUMMY
(apprehensively)
We are your servants, Master.
The Wolf Man bows to Criswell.

CRISWELL
Of course you are.

The Wolf Man and the Mummy crouch in fear as they face Criswell.

THE MUMMY
Have we in some way made you angry, Master?

CRISWELL
You know better than that.

THE MUMMY
We don't know of anything, Master...

CRISWELL
Then why do you shake so?

THE MUMMY
It's not often an Emperor like you calls on creatures like us.

CRISWELL
Well rest easy, I'm not angry with either of you.

(relieved) Aaaahhh.

The Mummy Sighs in relief and the Wolf Man nods.

THE MUMMY
Then it is some service you desire of us.

CRISWELL
You are the keepers of the Damned. You two know them all. And I am tired of this usual type of entertainment. I want...a decided change.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
The moon!...is soon gone!

The Princess of Darkness points up at the full moon.
There is little time left for the remainder of the evening's pleasures.

The Princess of Darkness gets up from the seat at the end of the altar and walks around beside Criswell's throne.

CRISWELL
Yes, yes yes I know all that.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
At the first sight of the morning sun's rays, we must be gone.

CRISWELL
I suppose most of the others will have to wait for their judgement until after the next full moon.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
It would seem so, Master

CRISWELL
Ahh, but I declare there is still time for something.

THE MUMMY
There are one or two which should complement the night's entertainment, Master

CRISWELL
Ahh, good. Then I will see them. Dismiss the rest.

THE MUMMY
Yes, sir, Master.

Bob's hands are wiggling, trying to loosen the rope binding his wrists behind his back around the stone column.

BOB
The ropes are coming loose.

SHIRLEY
Be careful!

BOB
I am--It's our only chance.

SHIRLEY
Nothing is worth your life.

BOB
My guess is if we don't take the chance pretty soon, we're not going to have much life left anyway.

SHIRLEY
I'm frightened. I'm so frightened.

BOB
Hold on just a little longer, Shirley.

SHIRLEY
Be careful, oh please be careful. We'll never get out of here alive, I know it. I just feel it.

BOB
You do?

SHIRLEY
Yes I feel it in my bones.

BOB
You're talking nonsense.

SHIRLEY
Oh, no I'm not. These heathens probably have an open grave for us.

BOB
They wouldn't dare put us in the same grave--or would they?

SHIRLEY
I should hope not. I hate you!

BOB
That sudden?

SHIRLEY
Yes, that sudden. If it weren't for you we wouldn't be hunting for an old cemetery on a night like this. It's all your fault.

BOB
(dejected)
...And I thought you loved me.

The Princess of Darkness is leaning over, covering her mouth and whispering into Criswell's ear, looking over her hand back at Shirley.

CRISWELL
Not yet. I perhaps have other plans for such a pretty one. No matter, I will tell you when and if you may have her.

The Princess of Darkness crosses her forearms and bows to Criswell.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
The Wolf Man informs me that the next one is the woman who murdered her husband on their wedding night. Now she dances with his skeleton.

The SKELETON DANCE begins.

The SKELETON DANCE GIRL, wearing a white dress and long wedding veil, comes into the clearing with a skeleton. She dances with the skeleton, then dances in the clearing for Criswell.

The Skeleton Dance concludes.

CRISWELL
(to Shirley)
Have you not enjoyed the evening's festivities?

Shirley is silent and looks downward.

CRISWELL
Ahh, that will soon change when you become one of us!

The Wolf Man leans back and howls. (He tilts his head back so far his fake rubber wolfman mask comes up and you can see his skin at the bottom of his neck)

THE WOLF MAN
WWAAAAAAAAAHHGGGHHHHAAAAA-AAAAAAAARHGGGGHRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRR!

CRISWELL
It would seem that The Wolf Man would have you for his own!

SHIRLEY
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA.

CRISWELL
I have promised both The Wolf Man and The Mummy a reward. It could be that you are that reward.

SHIRLEY
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA.

CRISWELL
You need not worry...Not just now, anyway.

BOB
Leave her alone, you fiend!

CRISWELL
Fiend is it! You will not be so fortunate. Your existence will cease within moments. No one wishes to see a man dance...
(looking at Shirley)
And you, my dear, will entertain for centuries to come.

BOB
If I could get my hands on you...

CRISWELL
..Oh, You could do nothing!
(to Shirley)
I can save you much pain.

BOB
Leave her alone, I tell you!
CRISWELL
(to Shirley)
I do not joke in my proposal.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
She is to be mine! It is so spoken!

CRISWELL
The Princess of Darkness would have you for her own to join us through extreme pain.
(beat)
Yet I am inclined for one as lovely as you, to be more lenient. I have but to touch you with my finger, and it would mean the end of you, all over, quickly and painlessly...

SHIRLEY
No. No! No!

CRISWELL
I repulse you? Very well. It seems you have chosen your own fate. Live with it! I should say die with it!

Bob looks down somberly, then looks over at Shirley.

BOB
I've got the ropes loose now. I've got my hands free. Be careful--Don't change your expression too much. They must not catch on.

SHIRLEY
What can we do against them?

BOB
I don't know, yet. We'll just have to watch our chance. When it comes I'll know what to do--I hope I'll know what to do.

SHIRLEY
I still don't know what ever made me go steady with a crackpot writer like you.

BOB
All right. Put it on heavy.

SHIRLEY
My old boyfriend Tommy would never have gotten me in a mess like this. At least he's got brains.

BOB
Him! I'll bet he sleeps with all the lights on.

SHIRLEY
Maybe so.

CUT TO shot of The Mummy talking to The Wolf Man

THE MUMMY
I could make her another Cleopatra...

THE WOLF MAN
Ahh hahahhhnnn hahnnn!

THE MUMMY
Without the snake, of course.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
(impatiently)
Well?

CRISWELL
Ahh, she will be yours.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
(impatiently)
When!?

CRISWELL
At your discretion...But first, I desire more entertainment.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
The moon is almost gone!

CRISWELL
Ahh, there is yet time.
PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
At the first sight of the morning's rays' light...

CRISWELL
(getting annoyed)
I know the laws of the night.
I state there is still time for yet another.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
(forcefully)
I would have time for my own pleasures!

CRISWELL
(angrily)
Your own pleasure comes only after mine, when I desire it.
I am the Sole Ruler of the Dark World. There is no one to challenge my authority here.
My word is the law--all powerful. No one is to challenge that authority, no one!. Is that understood? It is my command.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
I understand, Master

CRISWELL
Then see that it does not happen again, in the penalty of Everlasting Despair. Now are there others?

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
There are others.

CRISWELL
Well then let us proceed.

The Princess of Darkness snaps her fingers three times, summoning the Zombie Dance Girl.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
She lived as a zombie in life, so she will remain forever a zombie in death.

The ZOMBIE DANCE GIRL dances.
BOB
Easy, Shirley. Easy!

The Zombie Dance concludes.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
The moon sinks lower into the hills! We must hurry to the finish.

CRISWELL
I will decide the conclusion.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
(impatiently)
You had the mummy cancel all the others scheduled for this session.

CRISWELL
(interrupting)
Then cancel my order.

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
The moon is almost gone!

CRISWELL
There is yet time. Don't you want your own pleasure?

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
Oh, if there is only time!

CRISWELL
Hahh, there is always time...
All in good time...there is always time. You shall have your pleasure. THAT...
I decree

PRINCESS OF DARKNESS
(looking at Shirley)
All others were but infinitessimal bits of fluff, compared to her
(toward the Dancer)
This one would have died for feathers, furs, and fluff...and so she did!

The FLUFF DANCE Girl dances for approval.
The Fluff Dance ends.

Criswell looks over at the Princess of Darkness.

Criswell
The time...is short.

Princess of Darkness
For what!?!?

Criswell
Your pleasures of course!

Princess of Darkness
You mean...!

Criswell
You may take her now.

Princess of Darkness
Is there time?

Criswell
You better hope there is.

Princess of Darkness
Thank you, Master! Thank you.

Criswell
Now hurry, hurry. I will watch! Your desires may be my pleasure also...Our fitting climax to an evening's entertain-ment. You must...hurry now.

The Princess of Darkness begins ceremoniously dancing with her long sacrificial dagger, slowly moving toward Shirley, gazing back at Criswell seductively. She finally gets to Shirley and cuts the button off of Shirley's shirt, which was so tight it was about to burst open anyway. She unsnaps the front of Shirley's bra.

Bob sees his chance and makes his attempt at a "move," merely stepping forward. He is instantly hammer-fisted on the back of the neck by The Wolf Man, and falls down unconscious.

The Princess of Darkness raises her long dagger high above Shirley's head. But suddenly, the sun rises (it is already high overhead), and the night creatures lose their power. The Princess of Darkness clings to Shirley's arm, as she slowly sinks down to the ground, losing all strength.
The Camera pans around, showing Shirley and Bob's faces, then back to the ghouls, all of whom have turned to steaming skeletons. Only their clothing and bones remain.

Quick Zoom in on Criswell's throne. Criswell's steaming skeleton still sits, surveying the cemetery, wearing his cape.

FADE TO BLACK

FADE IN.

EXT. WOODS - MORNING

At the clearing in the woods near the car wreck, Bob and Shirley are lying on their backs on the ground, just as they were after the crash, before they got up to investigate the strange music that led them to the ghouls.

There are two DOCTORS examining Bob and Shirley.

In the foreground, we see a REPORTER's shoulder and hands. He is writing down details of the accident in a small paper pad.

DOCTOR #1
Easy, Miss, everything's gonna be alright.

SHIRLEY
Bob?  Bob?

DOCTOR #1
He's right here beside you. He'll be alright too.

The reporter walks around and crouches beside Shirley and DOCTOR #1, and continues writing in his pad.

A Newspaper PHOTOGRAPHER crouches in the foreground to get a shot of the accident scene and victims.

SHIRLEY
Where are they, where did they go? They tried to kill me.

DOCTOR #2
What's this you say? Who was going to kill you?

SHIRLEY
The ghouls—they all turned into skeletons.

DOCTOR #2
Take it easy, Miss.

DOCTOR #1
What she needs is a good rest.

SHIRLEY
It's true, I tell you, it's true! They all turned into skeletons. She—she cut me here.

Shirley points to her abdomen where The Princess of Darkness had made the X with her fingernail.

NURSE crouches down and pulls out a length of medical tape, then hands it to the doctor. She cuts another piece of tape, but the Doctors don't realize this and leave her hanging...

DOCTOR #1
Probably was bruised in the crash.

DOCTOR #2
You know, you two were very lucky.

SHIRLEY
I love you Bob. I really do. Forgive me?

BOB
There's nothing to forgive. It was all a dream.

SHIRLEY
You love me then?

BOB
Of course I do.

The doctors put Shirley onto a stretcher while the photographer takes more pictures. They put her into the back of an ambulance.

Then after the doctor listens to Bob's neck with a stethoscope, Bob just gets up and walks into the back of the ambulance.
CRISWELL (VO)
As it is with all the Night People, they are destroyed by the first rays of the sun. But upon the first appearance of the deep shadows of the night, and when the moon is full, they will return, to rejoice...in their evil lust, and take back with them any mortal who might happen along.

CUT TO:

INT. MAUSOLEUM, MORNING.

Criswell is back in his coffin, sitting upright.

CRISWELL
Yes, they were lucky, those two young people...May you be so lucky...But do not trust to luck, at the full of the moon, when the night is dark...Make a wide path around the unholy grounds...of the Night People. Who can say that we do not exist-Can you?

But now, we return to our graves, and you (pointing at audience) may join us soon!

Criswell reclines back into his coffin, crossing his arms, and returning to the slumber of the undead.

THE END.
