INTERIOR: TELEPHONE COMPANY INFORMATION OFFICE. DAY.

We move slowly through a crowded office. A hundred information operators in booths. SHARON works at a computer terminal. Close on her. She's on a kind of autopilot as she does her job, and the people talking to her hear so little personality that her humanity barely registers. That she might have a beauty that is becoming hollow, or a private life that would astonish them -- this, no one thinks about. She watches the clock. Five minutes to six.

SHARON
Please hold for the number.
Operator 134, what city please?
(Pause, as she types in the name.)
Is that a business or residence?
Please hold for the number.
(Pause.)
Operator 134. What city please?
(Pause.)
How do you spell that?

The clock. Two minutes to six.

SHARON
(pause)
Please hold for the number.
(Pause.)
Operator 134. What city please?
(Pause.)
Is that a business or residence?
(Pause.)
Please hold for the number.

Pause. Behind her, a woman, another OPERATOR, waits for the chair.

Six o'clock.

SHARON gets up. The other OPERATOR takes her place and takes her headphones. SHARON starts to stand as she begins the next sentence. Pause.

SHARON
Operator 134. Is that a business or residence? ...

And the other OPERATOR takes her headset and completes the number as SHARON leaves her post.
OPERATOR
Please hold for the number.

SHARON walks away.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: STREET. NIGHT.
And now we see her sitting in the back of a Jaguar convertible. VIC is driving the car. VIC looks to someone offscreen.

VIC
What about them?

SHARON
No. He's wearing a rug, and she has a nose job.

VIC
It's not a bad nose job.

SHARON
They're all bad.

Now we see VIC. He is a beardless werewolf [I mean, spiritually]. SHARON is excited. She likes danger. Underneath, we feel her deep exhaustion.

SHARON
Let's go to the Continental Club.

VIC Really?

SHARON
Come on, Vic, you don't want to go back to the airport.

He's thinking.

VIC
I like the airport. I like the bars at the airport hotels. I like tourists.
(Meaning the bar:)
I don't want that tonight.

SHARON
What's the matter, are you scared of getting dirty?

VIC (uncertain)
Maybe.

SHARON
C'mon, Vic. That's the place to start. Let's have some fun.

From her challenging smile, his laugh, we cut to:

INTERIOR: BAR. NIGHT.
A rummy's bar in Hollywood. SHARON and VIC lean against a wall, drinking from bottles. VIC studies a couple sitting alone at a table, side by side. SharpFeatured, long-haired, not talking, they are smoking.

SHARON
I like them.

VIC
You would.

SHARON and VIC walk across the floor to the table. They slide into the seat facing the couple. Call her DIANA. Call him RANDY.

VIC
I'm Vic.

SHARON
I'm Sharon.

VIC
Hi.

RANDY and DIANA are quietly amused.

RANDY
What brings you to this side of town?
SHARON
We got tired of shooting the dogs where the rich people live.

DIANA
What are you looking for now?

SHARON
Now we're looking for something a little less obvious.

VIC But fun. Definitely fun. We're very social people.

RANDY
You might be asking for something you couldn't handle.

SHARON
I can handle it.

RANDY
What if things go out of control?

SHARON
What's control got to do with it?

VIC
I think he wants to find out if you have any limits.

SHARON
Tell him that I haven't found them yet.

VIC
Sharon hasn't found her limits yet.

DIANA
Talk, talk, talk.
(To RANDY:)
Let's go somewhere.

VIC
I have a store. Let's go to the store.

They stand up. VIC takes DIANA'S hand. RANDY and SHARON follow.
Cut to:

INTERIOR: VIC'S STORE. NIGHT.
VIC leads the others in, turning on lights and slow dance music (Little Richard singing "Directly from My Heart"). We move through the store to a far corner, to a model bedroom.

SHARON reaches out to RANDY and pulls him to her. RANDY lets go of DIANA and dances with SHARON. They dance to be watched. They are moving toward a bed. DIANA takes VIC'S hand. They dance. A blues song plays.

RANDY
Come here. Come here and have a seat.

SHARON
Come on, let's fool around.

RANDY lifts SHARON into his arms.

SHARON
Ohh. What a man.

RANDY

SHARON dances slowly with RANDY; they grind into each other, putting on a show. SHARON and VIC watch each other.

DIANA
Come on. Show me what you mean by fun.

VIC
Unnh-uhh.

SHARON sees this and shakes her head. DIANA goes to RANDY and SHARON.

SHARON
Vic likes to watch.

RANDY
Watch this.

And we stay with Vic's face as the other three fall on the INTERIOR: VIC'S STORE. NIGHT.
SHARON, RANDY, and DIANA on a bed. Their sex is a ritual, and the surprise here is their need. SHARON is the subject. They finish. They are still for a moment. SHARON gets up. We watch RANDY watching her.

SHARON sits on the arm of a leather couch, smoking. RANDY comes over to her. Behind them, Vic begins fucking DIANA. SHARON looks grim. RANDY studies her.

RANDY
Was that far enough?

SHARON turns to look at him.

SHARON
Randy, right?

RANDY
Hey, you remembered my name.

SHARON
Hi, Randy.

RANDY
Was it enough?

SHARON
That was ... interesting.

The camera pulls back. We hear DIANA as VIC tries to come.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: TELEPHONE COMPANY INFORMATION OFFICE. DAY.
SHARON works at a computer terminal. Close on her.

SHARON
Operator 134, what city please?
(Pause, as she types in the name.)
Is that a business or residence?
(Pause.)
Hold for the number.
(Pause.)
This is operator 134. What city?
(Pause.)
Can you spell that?
(Pause.)
Is that D as in Dick?
(Pause.)
Please hold for the number.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: TELEPHONE COMPANY VENDING-MACHINE ROOM. DAY.
Coffee break. Move through the room. Everyone sits alone, recovering from the phones. SHARON enters staring into space. Behind her are a group of workers, talking quietly but passionately. At first, SHARON doesn't listen. Bits of the following drift into consciousness.

    WORKER #1
    Hi, Wayne. It was much stronger last night, wasn't it?

    WORKER #2
    By a factor of five.

    WORKER #3
    It was almost like the first time, I mean, it was that clear.

    WORKER #1
    And the horn, the sound of a horn, that was new.

    WORKER #2
    One note, a very clear tone. I found it on my piano; it's B flat.

    WORKER #1
    What do you think?

SHARON has leaned back in her chair to eavesdrop.

    WORKER #3
    I think it's going to happen, and soon. Have you been praying?

WORKER #2, facing SHARON'S back, sees her leaning in and puts a finger to his lips.

WORKER #2
Yes, as much as I can.

The other two glance over their shoulders at SHARON. She looks over her shoulder and sees them look at her. She pulls her chair forward.

WORKER #3
What does The Boy say?

WORKER #1
Not yet.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: SHARON'S APARTMENT. NIGHT.
She is in bed with RANDY. Under the sheet, he strokes her. She comes, pushing his hand away.

SHARON
Tell me a story.

RANDY
Hmmm.

He tries to start again.

SHARON
No, no, no. I already know that story. Tell me something new.

He thinks about it.

RANDY
I've done things for money.

SHARON
Like what?

RANDY
Things I wish I hadn't.
SHARON
Like what?

RANDY
I killed a man once.

SHARON
For how much?

RANDY
For a thousand dollars.

SHARON
That's not very much money.

RANDY
It was a lot then. All I can say now is, I wish I hadn't.

SHARON
Why?

RANDY
'Cause it stays with me. I mean, I killed a man. I took his life, his only life. That's bad.

SHARON
Did you know him?

RANDY
No.

SHARON
Well, why did the people who paid you want him dead?

RANDY
There are some questions you don't ask. After that, they offered me another job, the same kind of job, better money.

SHARON
And did you do it?

RANDY
No. But I think about that killing a lot. I think, you know, if we weren't taught that killing is bad, would I still feel as bad?

SHARON
I don't know.

RANDY
You don't know. Are you scared of me now?

SHARON
Did anyone pay you to kill me?

A long pause.

RANDY
That was not a good year. 1975, that was my best year. I was nineteen. What was your best year?

SHARON
Hmmm. I guess I'm still waiting. I don't know. I don't know. Everything just seems so empty. Time passes so quickly.

RANDY
Yeah? I think it's kind of slow.

SHARON
No, I mean, like a day. You know, a day is always just over ... I don't know what I'm trying to say.

RANDY
I think I understand.

SHARON
Oh really? Why don't you let me in on my secret.

RANDY
I think that you are depressed, and I think that you should see a therapist.

SHARON
Oh, that's great. That's fucking brilliant.
Cut to:

INTERIOR: SHARON'S APARTMENT. DAY.
SHARON pulls subscription cards out of magazines. A door bell rings; then there's a knock at the door. SHARON answers it. Two men wearing suits, white shirts, and dark ties are there.

Both are in their late thirties or early forties. In New York, you would assume they were bankers or painters trying to look like bankers. They are evangelists. None of the evangelists in this film sound like TV preachers or have a hint of the South in their accents.

FIRST EVANGELIST
You understand that these are the last days. It can't go on like this. God is coming back. His prophecies are now being fulfilled.

SECOND EVANGELIST
You have to accept Jesus as your Lord and Savior.

SHARON Otherwise ...

FIRST EVANGELIST
You won't be saved.

She shuts the door. Pause. She opens it again. The men are still there, still smiling.

SECOND EVANGELIST
We're not trying to scare you.

FIRST EVANGELIST
No.

SECOND EVANGELIST
Do you understand the difference between righteousness and faith?

SHARON
Why don't you tell me.
SECOND EVANGELIST
It's only by the grace of God you'll be saved.

SHARON
But what if I lead a good life? Does it still matter if I don't believe?

FIRST EVANGELIST
Do you really lead a good life?

No.

SECOND EVANGELIST
You have to believe. If you don't, you go to Hell.

SHARON
Well, that doesn't seem fair.

FIRST EVANGELIST
I used to think that. But then I met Him.

SHARON Who?

SECOND EVANGELIST
That's what we're trying to tell you.

FIRST EVANGELIST
(from John 3:16)
For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son. That whosoever should believe in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.

SECOND EVANGELIST
You can have what we have.

FIRST EVANGELIST
A personal relationship with the Son of God.

SECOND EVANGELIST
It's hard to believe unless you believe it. But when you believe it, then it's easy. You just know.

SHARON
What?
FIRST EVANGELIST Him.
SHARON
How?
FIRST EVANGELIST
Who knows? It just is.
SHARON
Right. And I'm supposed to buy this?

He hands her a small Bible.
FIRST EVANGELIST
No. It's a gift.
SECOND EVANGELIST
We know what you're thinking ... It doesn't make sense.
SHARON
No.
SECOND EVANGELIST
I was like you.
SHARON
I doubt it.
SECOND EVANGELIST
No, really.
SHARON
And, like I said, I doubt it.

The men turn and leave. As they walk away, SHARON speaks:

SHARON
I heard someone talking about The Boy? Who's The Boy?
SECOND EVANGELIST
Some people say that he's a prophet in the old tradition.

FIRST EVANGELIST
And some people say there are others like him, all around the country.

SECOND EVANGELIST
All around the world.

SHARON
And what do you say?

SECOND EVANGELIST
I say trust in God.

The SECOND EVANGELIST gives SHARON a warm smile.

SHARON Excuse me.

And she shuts the door.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: TELEPHONE COMPANY INFORMATION OFFICE. DAY.
SHARON works at a computer terminal. Close on her.

SHARON
Operator 134. What city please?
(Pause.)
City please?
(Pause.)
Please hold for the number.
(Pause.)
Operator 134. What city please?
(Pause.)
Is that a business or residence?

EXTERIOR/INTERIOR: SHARON'S APARTMENT. DAY.
The phone rings. She picks up, and we hear VIC on the line.

SHARON
Hello?
VIC
(voice-over)
Sharon?

SHARON
Hi, Vic.

VIC
(voice-over)
I dropped by a few of the hotels near the airport today. You'll never guess who I found. The most fascinating couple, really. They're from Philadelphia. Well, he's from Pennsylvania and she's from Florida and they're married. Isn't that romantic?

She sees evangelists pass outside on bicycles.

SHARON
What time?

VIC
(voice-over)
Pick you up at nine.

EXTERIOR: VIC'S WIFE'S HOUSE. NIGHT.
SHARON looking out. Behind her, VIC is dancing with ANGIE and the EXECUTIVE.

INTERIOR: VIC'S WIFE'S HOUSE. NIGHT.

EXECUTIVE
Here's to open-minded people and L.A., my kind of town.

ANGIE
Don't you have, uhh,
(to her husband while she corners VIC) something better to do?

EXECUTIVE
I'm doing it.
ANGIE laughs as the Executive goes to SHARON. She declines.

SHARON'S point of view as he walks back to the group. VIC dances with ANGIE while the EXECUTIVE gropes her a little. The EXECUTIVE unzips the back of ANGIE'S dress as he turns her around, and as the dress falls away, SHARON can see a tattoo through the veil of ANGIE'S long black hair.

The tattoo is not finished: we see a long boat with an angel blowing a horn on the bow. Behind the scene is a large pearl.

    SHARON
What is that?

    VIC
What are you talking about?

    SHARON
She has a tattoo on her back.

VIC looks.

    VIC Whoa.

    ANGIE
I got it when I was a kid.

    EXECUTIVE
This was before she met me.

    ANGIE
I got drunk one night.

    SHARON
One night. You had it done in one night?

    EXECUTIVE
Well, you know how kids are. I almost got a tattoo once. She was drunk.

ANGIE wraps herself around VIC. The naked EXECUTIVE fondles SHARON while she watches VIC and ANGIE kiss and laugh, the EXECUTIVE wants to get inside her, but she won't let him, he can only use his hands. For a moment, she enjoys it, but the pearl on ANGIE'S back is too compelling.
SHARON
Angie, you got that in one night?

VIC
Maybe she doesn't want to talk about it.

ANGIE
There's nothing to talk about.

SHARON
Why did you get it?

VIC
Sharon? Can we talk about it later?

SHARON
I mean it must have been painful.

ANGIE realizes she has to deal with SHARON'S curiosity.

ANGIE (facing SHARON)
I don't remember, and I don't know why I got it.

She looks at the EXECUTIVE. He gives her a compassionate look.

EXECUTIVE
It's okay, Angie. I'm here. I'm with you.

SHARON
Why would you get a tattoo that you didn't really want? I'm sorry, I don't want to make you unhappy, but I really need to know.

ANGIE
Why?

SHARON
I don't know. I don't know. It's important.
(She asks again:)
What is it?

ANGIE
Don't you know what's going on?

SHARON
What?

ANGIE
The dream? The Pearl?

SHARON
What dream?

EXECUTIVE Tell them.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: TELEPHONE COMPANY VENDING-MACHINE ROOM. DAY.
The three workers are sitting together, drinking coffee. SHARON comes into the room and walks over to them, then sits down. She acts as though she's seen the light, but she's heavy-handed and obvious.

SHARON
Hi, it's a beautiful day, isn't it? How are you?

WORKER #1
(cautious)
We're fine. And you?

SHARON
I'm fine. Now that I dream about the Pearl.

Silence. The men watch her carefully. She becomes uncomfortable, but they don't release her from their hard stares. She is being evaluated.

WORKER #2
What dream would that be?

SHARON
The Pearl. I dream about the Pearl.

WORKER #3
Tell us about it.
WORKER #1
What does it look like?

SHARON
You know. The Pearl. It's a big pearl by a river.

WORKER #3
No, it's not.

WORKER #1
You haven't seen it.

SHARON
Yes, I have.

WORKER #2
You can't fake it.

SHARON slumps, defeated.

WORKER #1
It's a message from God. If you really want it, all you have to do is pray.

SHARON
(disdainfully) Pray.

WORKER #2
He's coming back.

SHARON
Slow down. If everybody is getting this dream, how come it isn't on the news?

WORKER #2
Those who need to know, know.

WORKER #1
And those who don't believe won't get the dream.

SHARON
There are five billion people on the planet. There's I-don't-know-how-many religions. Why does the God of some little country on the Mediterranean have to be the God for everyone? Isn't that a little arrogant? I mean, really? The Buddhists get along okay without Jesus Christ. The Hindus get along okay without Jesus Christ. The Moslems seem to be getting along okay without Jesus Christ.

WORKER #1
But none of them are saved.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: SHARON'S APARTMENT. NIGHT.
SHARON comes in. She goes to the bedroom. VIC is in bed with a woman.

VIC
Sharon, this is my friend Andrea. Andrea is from Nebraska. Come and join?

SHARON leaves and slumps down a wall in the next room.

EXTERIOR: SHARON'S APARTMENT. DAY.
SHARON smokes on the balcony. Something has changed.

INTERIOR: SHARON'S APARTMENT. BEDROOM. NIGHT.
SHARON wakes up. She shakes RANDY.

SHARON Get up.

RANDY What?

SHARON
Get up, or get out.

RANDY
What did I do?
SHARON
I have to make the bed.

RANDY
Come on, look, no, it's three o'clock in the morning.

SHARON
Get out of bed, or get out of the house.

RANDY
Why?

SHARON
This bed is unclean.

RANDY
I'm out, I'm out. Unclean ... you changed the sheets yesterday.

SHARON
Shut up!

And he gets out of bed. She rips the sheets off the bed and then we cut to:

Close-up of clean sheets being put over the bed. RANDY isn't helping; he leans against a wall, trying to sleep.

SHARON
I'm starting over, Randy. I've had enough.

RANDY Enough what?

SHARON
I need a new direction in my life. There is a God, I know it, there is a God, and I'm going to meet Him.

RANDY
When did you get religion?

SHARON
I am trying, Randy. I want my salvation.
RANDY
Sharon, you're fine the way you are.

SHARON
You just want to live in sin, don't you?

RANDY
That's right. I just want to live in sin.

SHARON
Fine, be a slave to the Devil.

RANDY
Devil? Do you remember where we met? Don't start asking me now to apologize for who I am or what I believe in.

SHARON
Oh, and what do you believe in?

RANDY
There is no God. There's only chaos.

INTERIOR: SHARON'S APARTMENT. BATHROOM. NIGHT.
SHARON takes a shower. RANDY talks to her through the glass.

SHARON
And why do we have such guilty consciences? Answer that?

RANDY
You're the one with the guilty conscience. I sleep really well, or at least I used to.
(He tests the shower water.)
Jesus Christ, that's hot.

SHARON
Don't take the Lord's name in vain, Randy. That's one of the commandments, it even comes before theft and adultery, it even comes before murder. That's how important it is not to take the Lord's name in vain.

RANDY
Since when have you known the Lord?

SHARON
I am trying to.

RANDY
And what does a shower at three in the morning have to do with eternal salvation?

SHARON is washing herself in a steaming hot shower. She scrubs herself with a hard brush. She gets out of the shower.

SHARON
I want to be clean. Am I clean?

RANDY watches in silence as she dries herself with a towel, cleans her fingernails, and brushes her teeth. She speaks to him in her reflection.

RANDY
Yeah, you're clean.

SHARON
When you do something wrong, we feel bad, and that's because there's a little bit of God in all of us, telling us to change our ways before it's too late. Isn't that right?

RANDY
No, it's not right. It's just conditioned by society. All we are is animals whose brains have become too big and too complicated for the purposes of satisfying our animal needs, which are food and sex.

SHARON
There is a spiritual need which is just as real as hunger, just as real as the need for love.

RANDY
Sharon, don't you understand what's going on? The world's a disaster. We have no power to make it better. You hate your job. You hate your life. But you want to feel special. But instead of letting me do that, you're rushing off to something that's not even there. There's no Pearl, there's only us.

SHARON flosses her teeth.

SHARON
I feel sorry for you, Randy, I really do. But you have to leave.

RANDY
I don't want to leave. I want to stay here with you. You know me. We know each other. We know each other's secrets, that's something. I think we can love each other, and I think you feel that too.

SHARON
There has to be something more.

RANDY
Why?

SHARON cries.

SHARON
I'm tired of the pain in my life. I'm tired of feeling empty all the time.

RANDY
Let me help you.

SHARON
Why can't we let God help both of us?

RANDY
Because there is no God.

And he is out the door. Hold on SHARON.
EXTERIOR: DRIVEWAY. NIGHT.
RANDY gets into his truck.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: SHARON'S APARTMENT. BEDROOM. NIGHT.
SHARON reads the Bible the EVANGELISTS gave her and then simply clutches it.

She tries to sleep, to relax.

Her eyes close.

Whatever it is, self-consciousness or doubt, she can't force herself to believe.

SHARON
(whisper)
God, please, please, please help me.
God, I'm lost.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: ENDLESS BOULEVARD. DAY.
SHARON drives aimlessly. She stops for a hitchhiker named TOMMY, rough-looking, with a bedroll and a rucksack.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: SHARON'S CAR. DAY.

TOMMY
Chicks don't usually stop for me.
(No response from SHARON.)
In fact, I think they think I'm dangerous.
(Pause, again no response.)
They're probably right. I'm not as dangerous as some guys I know, but I would never give myself a lift, that's for sure. No way. If I was a chick, no double-fucking way would I give me a lift. I've looked in the mirror. I've seen myself. I mean, with my thumb out, if I was a chick and I saw me, no sir. On the other hand, if I was a chick and I was hitching and I was a chick, I'd stop for me in a second. In fact, I'd, I'd fuck me, too. In fact, if I was hitching and I was a chick, and I got stopped by a chick, I'd fuck me that way, too. Yeah. In fact, I wouldn't mind getting into a bi-girl scene with myself. Actually, you're the first chick that has ever given me a lift. I think other chicks don't pick me up because they can tell I carry a gun and I've been to prison in Vermont. I don't think they can tell I've been to prison, but that's where I'm from. Vermont. You ever been to Vermont?

(SHARON doesn't answer.)

SHARON

Sharon.

TOMMY
Oh yeah? With who?

SHARON
What?

TOMMY
Who you sharin' it with? You gonna share it with me?
EXTERIOR: ADULT MOTEL. DAY.
Tracking shot past the entrance. SHARON'S is not the only car parked at the motel.

INTERIOR: ADULT MOTEL. DAY.
TOMMY is on the round bed. He plays with a knife. We hear the shower running. The camera peeks into the bathroom.

INTERIOR: ADULT MOTEL. BATHROOM. DAY.
SHARON is in the shower, dressed. TOMMY'S rucksack is just outside the bathroom.

TOMMY
Sharon? Did you know that the state bird of Vermont is the Hermit Thrush? I'll bet you didn't know that. The state flower is the Red Clover. Highest point is Mount Mansfield, I believe, which is four thousand three hundred ninety-three something, I don't know. Hey, have you got a quarter? Let's get some magic finger going in here. How would that be?

INTERIOR: ADULT MOTEL. DAY.
SHARON pulls a gun from TOMMY'S rucksack. He hears something, turns. SHARON is standing there dripping, with the gun.

SHARON
It's time for you to go.

TOMMY Uhhh?

SHARON
You have to go, Tommy, and you have to leave me your gun.
TOMMY Ahhhh!

TOMMY raises his knife, she cocks the gun, and he plunges it into the bed.

Dissolve to:

EXTERIOR/INTERIOR: ADULT MOTEL. LATER.
SHARON is in bed, the blankets pulled up over her head. She pulls the blankets down. She reaches beside her for her bag. She opens her bag. A pint of pear schnapps.

She drinks half the schnapps. She takes the gun and puts it under her chin. She closes her eyes and holds the gun for a long moment. She opens her eyes.

The disorder of the room bothers her.

She gets out of the bed and puts everything from the bag but the gun back into it. The ashtray on the night table is filled with crushed butts. She pulls the drawer open to hide the ashtray, and she finds the Gideon Bible. She puts the ashtray on top of the Bible.

She is a bit disgusted with herself; disappointed at her lack of resolve. Then she takes the Bible out of the drawer and opens it.

She starts to read the Gospels.

A golden light fills the room.

SHARON is thrown backward by it, and before she's eclipsed by its brilliance:

Dissolve to:

Extreme close-up: a pearl.

You've never seen a pearl this close, so close that we lose its shape. All we can see of it is the color: the changing white, silver, and pink. It is beautiful. You don't want it to go away.

Dissolve to:
INTERIOR: SHARON'S APARTMENT. DAY.
SHARON is sleeping, smiling, at peace. She wakes up. Everything is different.

She gets up. She goes to her closet and takes a simple dress from a hanger.

She hears a door. VIC is behind her. She covers herself with the dress.

SHARON
Can I get dressed?

VIC
Where were you?

SHARON
Turn around.

VIC
Really?

She nods. He does while she puts on the dress.

VIC
C'mon. Where have you been?

SHARON
I went away for a few days.

VIC
Who'd you go with?

SHARON
No one.

VIC Meet anyone?

SHARON
Yes, yes, I did. I did meet someone.

VIC can sense that something is different about her by the way she talks to him so directly and so calmly, and by her placid smile. VIC lies on the bed. She comes out from behind the door.
VIC
Are you okay?

SHARON
I'm fine, Vic. I'm really, really fine.

VIC
Unnh-uhh. No you're not. Something's going on. You've changed. You've got this look right now.

SHARON
What look?

VIC
That goofy smile.

SHARON
If I tell you, you're not going to believe me. But I have to tell you, so it really doesn't matter if you don't believe me. It doesn't matter to me. I mean it matters to me, but you're the one who really needs to hear this now.

VIC
You met a guy.

SHARON
Well, guy is not exactly the word I'd use for Him.

VIC
You fox, you fell in love.

SHARON
(deadly serious)
Yes.

VIC
Wait until he finds out about you.

SHARON
Well, He knows all about me.

VIC
Is he as bad a boy as I am?

  SHARON
I think you should meet Him.

  VIC
Did you tell him about me?

  SHARON
I told you, He knows everything.

  VIC
He's rich, right? He's some rich guy, and you fell for some line of his.

  SHARON
You could love Him, too.

  VIC
(laughing)
Oh, no, you fell in love with some rich homosexual.

  SHARON
He's the Lord Jesus Christ, Vic.
He's the Son of God.

VIC jumps off the bed.

  VIC
Sharon, did you quit your job?

  SHARON
Why would I do that?

  VIC
So you can go to the airport and sell flowers, or do whatever the cult wants you to do.

  SHARON
You can't understand, but I know what that's like. Until it happens to you, until you accept God into your heart, it's like a fairy tale, it's like some joke that you just don't get.
VIC
I think you need to be deprogrammed.

SHARON
There's no cult, Vic. There's only God, and his message of Love.

Vic
Love.

SHARON Love.

Vic
Look, you'll give this up, someday. I know you, you'll give this up.

SHARON
This is forever.

Vic
Everybody says that.

SHARON
This is different.

Vic
Everybody says that, too.
(He is heading out the door.)
Sharon, call me when this is over.

SHARON is alone, content.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: TELEPHONE COMPANY INFORMATION OFFICE. DAY.
Go down the rows of computer terminals, hearing other operators. Stop at SHARON.

SHARON
Hold for the number. Hi. Who's this?...
Hi, Susanna, this is Sharon.
Have you met Jesus?...
Well, I'm sure you're in a hurry, but don't you think you could take time out to get to know your Lord and Savior?
... well okay, well, you have a good day too. What was the number you wanted? Here you go ...

(Pause.)

Hi, this is Sharon. Who's this? Hi,
Maria. Have you met God? You have?
Isn't He wonderful?

She looks up and sees HENRY, her supervisor.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: TELEPHONE COMPANY. HENRY'S OFFICE. DAY.
The door is closed.

HENRY
You're supposed to spend a maximum of fifteen seconds on each call. Do you know what your average has been?

SHARON No.

HENRY
Take a guess.

SHARON
Twenty seconds? Twenty-five?

HENRY
Two minutes. You were clocked on one call at seven minutes fifteen.

SHARON
I am just trying to do my job.

HENRY
It seems like you're trying to do two jobs.

SHARON
(a little defiantly)
We only have one job.

HENRY
That's right. And you're not doing the one you're being paid for.
SHARON
Henry, God made me an information operator for a reason. I'm in a position to spread His word to hundreds of people every day, personally. One-to-one.

HENRY God.

SHARON
I know you can't believe this, but God is coming back to judge the world. And it's important, I have to tell people. We have to prepare for His return.

HENRY takes his time before speaking.

HENRY
When did you first see the light?

SHARON
A few days ago.

HENRY (neutral)
Mmm-hmm.

SHARON
You don't believe me.

HENRY
Sometimes people have heard about the Pearl and they try to pretend like they've seen it, but you can always tell when they're lying. You just can't fake it.

SHARON
You?

SHARON puts her hand on her heart.

HENRY
When they first meet Him, everyone thinks that Judgement Day is just around the corner. I remember that feeling very well; it's a powerful feeling. But ... that sense that it's going to happen tomorrow passes when tomorrow comes and He doesn't. And then you understand that those feelings, as powerful as they are, and the dreams, as real as they are, are still just shadows of the real thing, and no one can say how far away that real thing really is.

SHARON
The feeling is so strong.

HENRY studies her.

HENRY
I don't know you, but I know you. A lot of people who have come to God are broken. They've been messed up by life. The unbelievers try to make it seem like there's something wrong with us, that we're stupid, but only the humble hear the voice of God. You're alone, aren't you?

SHARON
(tears forming)
Yes.

HENRY
It's hard at the beginning. You give up your old life, and it's like you've come to a new country. Your old friends can not really be your friends anymore.

SHARON
What do I do?

HENRY
Trust in God, and take it easy on the phones.

SHARON smiles.

SHARON
Who's The Boy?
He looks at her.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: CHURCH. DAY.
A small, spare room. No pews, only a circle of folding chairs. Perhaps twenty people are there. We're watching HENRY and his son, THE BOY, about ten years old. He never speaks out loud; he whispers behind a cupped hand into his father's ear.

On SHARON, across from them, watching.

On THE BOY: he cups a hand and speaks to HENRY. HENRY addresses the room.

    HENRY
    God is coming back. There are wars and rumors of wars, and a curse devours the Earth, and those who live in it are held guilty.

THE BOY again whispers to his father.

    HENRY
    We have to wait.

An OLDER WOMAN in the circle.

    SHARON
    For how long?

THE BOY whispers to his father.

    HENRY
    Probably a few years. Five years, six years.

The people in the room hug each other. SHARON gives herself to the hugs and gives hugs. Love without sex.

Dissolve to:

INTERIOR: RANDY'S WORKPLACE.
RANDY sprays coating on a metal gate. SHARON arrives.

SHARON
Hi, Randy.

RANDY
(pretends to struggle to remember her name)
Ohh, uhh, Sharon. Sharon. How's that apartment coming? Is it still unclean?

SHARON No.

RANDY
So you found your salvation. Congratulations.

SHARON
I found God.

RANDY
Oh yeah? Is he going to move in, or did he keep his own place, or are you going to do that commuting thing? You've got to watch that; it's very tough on a relationship. Why are you here?

They walk into an adjoining woodshop.

SHARON
I know you are as lost as I was, Randy, and I wanted to tell you that you could know God. If you just surrender your pride, you can know God.

RANDY
Sharon, it's just a drug. Instead of doing heroin, you're doing God, and I need sandpaper.

SHARON
Randy, God is real. God is not make-believe, and you know that. You don't want to admit that, because you're afraid.
RANDY
What am I afraid of?

SHARON
What we are all afraid of: God's judgement.

RANDY
No. I'm not.

SHARON
I don't want to lose you.

RANDY
You just want to save my soul.

SHARON
At least you know you have one.

RANDY
I don't want to tell my secrets in church.

SHARON
I'll pray for both of us.

RANDY
You'd stay with me even if I didn't pray?

SHARON kisses RANDY. They hug.

TITLE SUPERIMPOSED: SIX YEARS LATER

INTERIOR: CHURCH. NIGHT.
There are more people in the room now. THE BOY is older now; and although HENRY is beside him, he speaks directly.

THE BOY
So far, we're still in the realm of signs and wonders ... But the Rapture is coming. It says so in the Bible. Our bodies will be transformed into spirit. And then we will be caught up in a cloud to meet God. The end is coming soon ... This year ...

RANDY takes SHARON'S hand.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: SHARON AND RANDY'S TOWN HOUSE. BEDROOM. NIGHT. The bedroom is now filled with Christian icons. SHARON and RANDY wake up together, shaken by the same image.

RANDY
Ever since I was a kid, I've had the feeling that something was going to happen to me. I always knew that when it happened, I would recognize it, and that I wouldn't mistake it for something else. I wouldn't have something happen to me and I would say, this is it! and then later on say, no, that wasn't it. It was a secret feeling, and I never told anybody about it.

SHARON
And what's the feeling now?

RANDY
Something's going to happen.

INTERIOR: RANDY AND SHARON'S KITCHEN. DAY. SHARON and her daughter, MARY, six years old, sit at the kitchen table.

MARY
Where's Heaven?

SHARON
It's in the sky.

MARY
Why can't we see it?

SHARON
You will.
MARY
But why can't we see it now?

SHARON
Mary? Do you love Baby Jesus?

MARY
Yes.

SHARON
Then you'll see him really soon.

Slowly dissolve to:

EXTERIOR: SWIMMING POOL. DAY.
We move through the water, and the change from the light is easy, gradual. The water is ethereal; we don't even know this is a pool yet; it could be a body of heavenly water. The calm surface of the pool explodes as a six-year-old-girl, MARY, bursts to the surface. SHARON moves through the water. Her friend PAULA floats on a raft.

PAULA
What does the Bible say?

SHARON
We who are alive who are saved will be taken bodily into Heaven.

PAULA
Ohhh, Sharon ... Sharon ...

SHARON
You can't accept God, can you?

PAULA No.

SHARON
Well, maybe we should talk about that for a minute.

PAULA
(smiling)
Okay, do you mean that if you're a Christian and you're ironing your shirts and the Rapture happens, you'll be taken to Heaven in the middle of doing the laundry? Or does God give you time to turn off the iron, or do your shirts burn?

SHARON
(joking but deadpan)
I wear permanent press.

PAULA
Well, I mean what's supposed to happen? You are supposed to float up into the sky?

SHARON
In the twinkling of an eye. The body will be transformed into spirit. And there is a warning. If you listen, if you pray for it. We'll hear the sound of trumpets, God's angels.

MARY listens.

INTERIOR: RANDY'S WORKPLACE. DAY.
RANDY is now a supervisor in a large insurance office. He is well groomed; his hair is cut short; he is a few pounds lighter. Other workers are around. RANDY is arguing with LOUIS, another worker. A security officer stands behind RANDY.

RANDY
Louis, I'm trying to say this without causing you a lot of pain.

LOUIS
Any way you say it, I'm fired, right?

RANDY
We have struggled together, but, you have to admit, it hasn't worked out.

LOUIS
That's because I'm not kissing ass around here, isn't it?
RANDY
Louis, it's because you're not doing your job.

LOUIS
You're not doing your job, banana-head.

RANDY
Louis, we've tried to help you, haven't we?

LOUIS
(crying)
I don't want your fucking help.

RANDY
We took you to a counselor.

LOUIS
You took me to a homo.

RANDY
I took you to an A.A. meeting.

LOUIS
They were a bunch of a-holes. A-holes Anonymous. And you're an a-hole. And I'm tired of kissing your Christian a-hole.
(To the security guard:) What are you looking at?

RANDY
Louis, I'll pray for you.

LOUIS
(wildly)
Yeah, well, fuck you!

Cut to:

INTERIOR: RANDY AND SHARON'S APARTMENT. DAY.
MARY and her parents, RANDY and SHARON, hold hands in a circle. This is a happy family.
INTERIOR: RANDY'S WORKPLACE. DAY.
We hear a blast. We see RANDY in his office at the corner of a hall. There are two bodies in the hall, and LOUIS walks down it with a gun. RANDY gets up from his desk and starts to come out. As he does, LOUIS shoots into an office. LOUIS goes into another office, and we hear two more shotgun blasts. RANDY is now out of his office and turning down the empty hall when LOUIS comes back into the hall.

RANDY
Louis.

LOUIS
No speeches, preacher.

RANDY
I have a little girl.

LOUIS
So what?

And he blasts RANDY.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: SHARON AND RANDY'S TOWN HOUSE. DAY.
MARY opens the front door.

MARY Come in.

The living room is filled with friends who have brought food to SHARON. MARY and other children play. SHARON talks to PAULA on a balcony.

PAULA
You see, now's one of those times when I wish I was a believer.

SHARON
Why?

PAULA
Because I would have a rock to stand on, because I could tell myself that everything was for the better because God has a plan.

SHARON
But it is, because He does.

PAULA
It is so hard for me, Sharon. I try to resist it as much as possible.

SHARON
So you do feel something tugging at you, don't you?

PAULA
I tell myself it's just conditioning, it's how I was raised. I tell myself that if we didn't tell our children about God, they wouldn't ask. It is a story we tell ourselves so everything makes sense.

SHARON
It's not.

PAULA
But how do you know?

SHARON
The Bible.

PAULA
Don't tell me the Bible.

SHARON
It's a question of faith.

PAULA
So there's no proof?

SHARON
Paula, the universe you live in is cold and filled with empty space. The universe I live in is filled with God.

Cut to:
INTERIOR: SHARON AND RANDY'S TOWN HOUSE. NIGHT.
SHARON and MARY kneel at MARY'S bed, praying.

MARY
Will we see Daddy again?

SHARON
Yes.

MARY
When we die?

SHARON
Or when God takes us to Heaven.

MARY
When the Rapture comes, does that mean we die?

SHARON
Not exactly.

MARY
So you can go to Heaven without dying?

SHARON Yeah.

MARY
But if you die, you can still go to Heaven.

SHARON
Yes.

MARY
So Daddy is going to Heaven.

SHARON
No, Daddy's already in Heaven.

MARY
If we pray to Daddy, can he hear us?

SHARON
Well, we pray to God, and God tells Daddy what we're saying. That way he can hear everything.
EXTERIOR: MINIMALL STAIRCASE. DAY.
SHARON comes down the stairs and stops.

Pull back to reveal:

We are outside a Photolab in a corner pod mall. SHARON walks into view, looking at the snapshots of America rolling off the printer.

In the photographs, we see RANDY wearing the clothes in which he died, and he's trying to reach her, trying to say something to her. Her husband appears improbably in a picture at the beach, standing behind a typical family. Then RANDY is pictured in the desert, standing on a tall rock pile, his arm raised, calling her to him. He's pleading with her.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: CHURCH. DAY.
The room is filled; people are standing on chairs at the wall. There's still a circle in the middle, but it's smaller. HENRY and THE BOY are flanked by the two EVANGELISTS. SHARON is across from them, with MARY. Now THE BOY speaks.

THE BOY
This is from the Book of Revelation, chapter 12, verse 6. It says, "And the woman fled into the desert where she had a place prepared for her by God." Is anyone else getting visions that tell us we have to go to the desert?

SHARON
You don't believe me.

THE BOY
I do.

SHARON
What does it mean?
THE BOY
You're the only one who can hear these calls. It could be Satan.

SHARON
I don't think so.

THE BOY
Then God wants you for His special purpose.

SHARON
Please, come with me.

THE BOY
We haven't been invited.

SHARON wants to cry. She gets up and takes Mary's hand. The crowd parts for her, making a path to the door. She starts walking toward it, about ten feet.

SHARON
But I'm scared.

THE BOY
Don't ask God to meet you halfway.

SHARON
What does that mean?

THE BOY shakes his head no.

HENRY
(to THE BOY)
What does that mean?

THE BOY shakes his head. No, he won't answer. SHARON is scared. She opens the door.

EXTERIOR: OUTSIDE THE CHURCH. SUNSET.
SHARON and MARY are framed in the church door, the faithful behind them. They walk out into the sunset.

Cut to:
EXTERIOR: SHARON AND RANDY'S TOWN HOUSE. DAY.
SHARON is packing a sports bag while PAULA watches her.
PAULA is desperate. SHARON is calm. SHARON holds up a few of MARY'S dresses while she studies the clothes in her closet.
PAULA has a shopping bag filled with food.

PAULA
Sharon, you can't just leave like this.

SHARON
Yes, I can. God is calling me.

PAULA
No, no, no ... Sharon ... what about Mary?

SHARON
God is calling her too.

PAULA
Why don't you sell the house? You can't just walk away from it.

SHARON
Of course, I can. There's a better house waiting for me. God is building me a mansion, right now. What should I wear?

She takes out a few dresses.

PAULA
God won't come, the bank will own your home, and what are you going to do then?

SHARON
I'm going to Heaven, Paula. I'm going to Heaven. Mary and I are going to Heaven. And we'll wear these dresses, together, when we finally meet God. Randy always liked this dress. I'll wear it for him.
I'll be seeing him soon. And he always loved to see Mary in this.

PAULA sits on the bed.
PAULA
Don't you get a white robe and wings?

SHARON
Angels don't have wings. And I don't know about the robes. I don't know what they wear, but I guess I'll find out.

SHARON packs a sweater.

PAULA
Then what's the sweater for?

SHARON
It gets cold at night in the desert.

PAULA
Winter is coming. You'll need more than a sweater.

SHARON
He's taking us soon, very soon.

PAULA
How do you know?

SHARON
He told me.

PAULA
Sharon, Sharon, listen to me. I don't know if you can hear me, but listen to me. You need food.

SHARON
Not that much.

PAULA
You need a tent. I don't want you guys sleeping out in the car. Okay. Candle, matches, flashlight.

PAULA pulls the named items out of the bag.

SHARON
Thank you, Paula.
PAULA
You need something else. You can't go out to the desert alone, there's a lot of creeps out there, Sharon, and a woman alone, I'm scared.

SHARON
God will take care of us.

PAULA
Maybe. Insurance.

She takes out a small handgun.

SHARON
Oh, Paula, no.

PAULA
You don't have to use it. But you have to take it. And you can bring it back to me when you come home.

SHARON holds PAULA'S hand, and she looks at the gun.

SHARON
I'm not coming home.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: DESERT CAMPGROUND. DAY.
SHARON and MARY drive into a campground somewhere in the high desert. There are Joshua trees, yuccas, and large rocks and rock piles.

MARY
Mom?

SHARON
Yes, Mary.

MARY
This doesn't look like Heaven, Mom.

SHARON
This isn't Heaven, honey.

MARY
Then why stop here?

SHARON
Think of Heaven as a great big hotel or a big office building.

MARY
Yeah.

SHARON
Well, this is the lobby, this is where we have to wait.

MARY
For what?

SHARON
The elevator.

Another car pulls up.

Dissolve to:

INTERIOR: TENT. NIGHT.
SHARON and MARY sleeping. We go into SHARON'S dream. She is dreaming of the Pearl.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: DESERT CAMPGROUND. DAY.
ROCK CLIMBERS are high on the sheer face of a rock wall. MARY watches them. One CLIMBER rappels down the rock and lands beside them. He is lean, muscular, cool.

MARY
Are you waiting for God, too?

CLIMBER
Oh, is that what you guys are doing here?

MARY
God is coming back.

CLIMBER
Sounds good.

MARY
He really is.

CLIMBER
Okay.

MARY
He's coming tomorrow.

SHARON
No, soon, Mary. He's coming soon.

They look up at the sky.

EXTERIOR: DESERT CAMPGROUND. NIGHT.
SHARON puts MARY to sleep in the tent.

EXTERIOR: DESERT CAMPGROUND. LATE DAY.
There isn't much food left or water. We hear a loud siren. SHARON grabs MARY. MARY grabs for her toy panda.

SHARON
That's it! That's it, Mary, here it comes, here it is, he's calling us, come on, hurry, hurry ...

She runs with MARY up a rock formation, higher and higher. The sound continues. MARY drops her panda and screams out:

MARY Panda!

SHARON
Mary, come on ...

MARY
No, Panda!

SHARON scrambles back to get the doll. It is out of reach. She gets it. MARY hugs her panda, and they continue on up the rock until we have a good view of the whole campground.
EXTERIOR: TOP OF ROCK PILE. DAY.
The horn is still loud and clear. SHARON holds MARY, their faces lifted to the sky, waiting for the Rapture. We see a CLIMBER running across the parking lot to his car. He turns off the alarm, and the sound stops. SHARON remains frozen for a second; then she sits down. For the first time, we see real doubt and the beginning of defeat. MARY starts to cry.

MARY
I miss my Daddy.

SHARON
Honey, I miss your Daddy, too.

MARY
I want to see him again.

SHARON
You will, you will see him in Heaven.

MARY
Why can't we go to Heaven? Mommy, I want to go to Heaven.

SHARON
We have to wait until God calls us.

MARY
Did God call Daddy? When you die is that when God calls you?

SHARON
Yes.

MARY
Then I want to die.

SHARON
No, sweetie, no.

MARY
You want to go to Heaven, don't you?

SHARON
Yes.

MARY

And you believe that when we die we'll go to Heaven, because we're saved, right?

SHARON
Yes.

MARY
Then why can't we just die and go there really quickly and be with Daddy again? Why do we have to stay here and just hang around and wait for God? Come on, Mom, let's die.

SHARON puts her arm around her. She is too young to really understand what she's asking for.

SHARON
Let's give God one more chance.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: DESERT CAMPGROUND. DAY.
A county sheriff's car drives into the campground. FOSTER MADISON gets out of it. MARY and SHARON pray at a picnic bench. Something about SHARON attracts him. He could be hard, but he is curious, soft.

FOSTER Howdy.

SHARON Hello.

FOSTER
I'm Foster Madison.

SHARON
Sharon. And Mary.

FOSTER crouches to be closer to MARY.

FOSTER
Oh yeah? I have a sister named Mary. She's all grown-up now.

MARY
Are you with God?

FOSTER
I'm with the sheriff.

MARY
We're waiting for our father.

FOSTER
Where is he?

MARY Heaven.

FOSTER
Don't you go to school?

MARY
I don't have to go to school.

FOSTER looks at SHARON.

SHARON
I'm not asking you to understand, or to have faith, but the end of the world is coming, and we're a lot safer out here.

MARY walks away.

FOSTER
Well, there's a two-week limit on staying here.

SHARON
Is that a limit on how long I can stay in the park, or how long I can use this campsite?

FOSTER
Actually, it's just a limit on how long you can use this particular campsite.

SHARON
(points to different campsites)
So if I move over there, or over there, or over there ... I can stay for another two weeks.

FOSTER wants to be fair; he sees a woman in need.

    FOSTER
    Technically. I can't stop you.

    SHARON
    Thank you.

    FOSTER
    Could I ask you a question?

    SHARON Sure.

    FOSTER
    Is this good for your little girl?

    SHARON
    Have you been saved?

    FOSTER
    No.

    SHARON
    Do you know what that means?

    FOSTER
    Yeah.

    SHARON
    Would you like to be?

    FOSTER
    Oh yeah, yeah sure, who wouldn't.

    SHARON
    Why is it so hard for you to pray?

    FOSTER
    You have to surrender to God, don't you?

    SHARON
    (not fully certain)
    That's right.

    FOSTER
    It's in my training. I don't give up my gun.

SHARON
But you'd like to believe.

FOSTER
That these are the last days?

SHARON
You know they are. God is coming back to judge the world. A lot of people are going to suffer.

FOSTER
I hope that's not true; but if there's no law against it, my hands are tied.

SHARON smiles a little.

SHARON
I bet with a little prayer you'd be on my side in an hour.

FOSTER
Well, then it's time for me to go. Watch out for the coyotes.
   (To MARY:)
   Good-bye.

MARY
Good-bye.

FOSTER gets back into his car. When he is gone, SHARON breaks down and cries.

EXTERIOR: DESERT CAMPGROUND. NIGHT.
The moon is behind clouds. Wind pulls at the tent flaps.

INTERIOR: TENT. NIGHT.
The camera moves toward SHARON. We're getting inside her dream again. Brief glimpses of an orgy.
INTERIOR: SHARON'S DREAM.
The Pearl recedes, gets smaller, and finally disappears.
Blackness.

MARY
(voice-over)
Mom ... Mommy ...

INTERIOR: TENT. NIGHT.
SHARON wakes up; her eyes are hollow. MARY is awake.

MARY
Mom ...

SHARON (lost) What?

MARY
Mom, I'm hungry.

EXTERIOR: DESERT CAMPGROUND. DAY.
SHARON looks through trash cans. No food. She turns the water jugs upside down. No water. MARY watches her.

MARY
You said we'd give him one more chance.

SHARON (impatient)
Who?

MARY
God. You said you'd give God one more chance, and if we didn't get the Rapture that we could die. That's what you said. You promised.

SHARON
(gently avoiding the question)
Baby ...

MARY
Don't you believe in God?

SHARON Yes.

MARY Don't you love God? Then why can't we just go to God? Go now. Now.

SHARON doesn't answer immediately.

SHARON (the implications are frightening)
One more chance.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: DESERT CAMPGROUND. NIGHT.
A motorcycle comes into the campground. SHARON and MARY are in the tent. SHARON pokes her head out. The motorcycle comes closer. SHARON gets out.

FOSTER, out of uniform, is on the motorcycle.

FOSTER I ... I was in the neighborhood.

SHARON And you thought you'd come by for a cup of sugar.

FOSTER No. Actually, I came to bring you this.

He reaches into his pack for a blanket. He hands it to her.

SHARON We have sleeping bags.

FOSTER Yeah, I know, I, it's just that sometimes you want to sit on the ground, you don't want to get dirty, it's nice to have a blanket.

SHARON
Thank you.

FOSTER
I, I brought your little girl a candy bar. I know moms are worried about cavities, so if you don't want to give it to her, you know, I'll understand.

SHARON
I'll give it to her.

FOSTER
You can share it.

SHARON Thanks.

He wants to talk. He looks at her.

FOSTER
Well, I'll check up on you again sometime, if that's okay.

SHARON
Thank you.

And he rides away. She returns to the tent.

INTERIOR: TENT. NIGHT.
Close on MARY. She cries out in her sleep.

MARY
Mom! You have to make up your mind, now! Gabriel is coming, Mom, Gabriel is coming.

(She wakes up, and she is in a kind of trance, staring at her mother, afraid for her.)

He's God, Mom, He's God. Don't ask God to meet you halfway.

(A final cry.)

Mommy!

SHARON
Wake up, Mary, wake up. It's okay, baby, it's okay.

MARY wakes up, and she cries deeply. Her face tells us everything: she has given up hope.

SHARON
Come on, baby, you're just hungry; we'll get something to eat. Come on, let's go to town.

MARY
No, we can't leave.

SHARON
Yes, we can.

MARY
But we don't need any food. God will give us food when we get to Heaven. I'll be in Heaven tonight. There was a river. And I was in Heaven.

SHARON
Where was I?

MARY
You were there.

SHARON Good.

MARY
Sort of. You were there, but only sort of.

SHARON tries to make sense of this. She can't; she's too tired right now for tests of faith. She smiles and looks her daughter in the eye.

SHARON
It's almost morning. As soon as the sun comes up, we'll go get something to eat.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: JACK IN THE BOX DRIVE-THRU LINE. DAY.
SHARON is at the pick-up window. The food order is put out for her. The CASHIER waits for the money. Behind him is the MANAGER.

CASHIER
Eleven dollars and twenty-eight cents, please.

SHARON looks at him. He knows what the look means.

CASHIER
Oh, no you don't.

SHARON quickly grabs the food and drives away.

CASHIER
Call the police.

MANAGER
No.

CASHIER
Why not?

MANAGER
She had a kid.

INTERIOR: CAR. DAY.
SHARON returns to the Joshua tree campsite. MARY devours her burger and fries. SHARON'S face is set. She is on the other side of something powerful.

EXTERIOR: CAR. DAY.
SHARON drives down a road.

EXTERIOR: BURNED HILL. LATE AFTERNOON.
SHARON and MARY walk up the hillside. MARY kneels and clutches her toy panda. SHARON stands behind her.

SHARON
Do you love me?

MARY
Yes.

SHARON
Do you love Jesus?

MARY
Yes.

SHARON
You know, in Heaven there's Jesus and Baby Jesus, together, and Baby Jesus has the special job, has the special job of looking out for all the children. Mary, do you love Baby Jesus?
(breaking down)

MARY
Yes.

SHARON
It's not fair to make you pay because I'm lost. If God loves us, He'll understand. We're going to Heaven now.

MARY
We're going together?

SHARON Together.

Now we see the gun that PAULA gave her before she left home. The sun is going down.

MARY
And Daddy? Daddy's in Heaven.

SHARON
(this thought comforts her)Daddy. We'll see Daddy. Yes. And we'll be together forever because nothing is broken in Heaven. I love you.

MARY Daddy.
SHARON
You have to love God, Mary, do you love God?

MARY
Yes.

MARY makes a face as though she's about to enter icy water. With her panda tucked under her arm, she clasps her hands in prayer even harder.

SHARON
Tell Him that. Don't be afraid.

SHARON pulls the trigger, and the gun fires. MARY is dead.

SHARON takes the gun and puts it to her head.

She holds the gun. We watch. We wait. Will she? Can she? She empties the gun into the air, screams at the sky; then she sits down on the ground; then she lies down beside MARY and goes to sleep.

Fade-out.

Fade-in:

EXTERIOR: BURNED HILL. LATER. NIGHT.
SHARON places a cross on the panda on top of the grave and then gets up. She walks away, empty.

We hear hoofbeats, one horse, distant. The sound gets louder.

INTERIOR: SHARON'S CAR. NIGHT.
SHARON speeds down the highway, and everywhere she looks she sees a white horse flashing in her vision.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: FREEWAY. NIGHT.
SHARON keeps speeding. The white horse is gone. And then the red lights of a sheriff's police car appear in the mirror. The siren is close. She is sure she has been caught. She pulls over. The sheriff's OFFICER MADISON from the campground. He shines his searchlight on SHARON'S car. Then he walks to the car and knocks on her window.

    FOSTER
    Could you get out of the car, please?

SHARON gets out of the car.

    FOSTER
    What happened to God?
      (He can see she is in some kind of distress.)
    What's wrong?

She doesn't answer.

    FOSTER
    I have to see your license and registration, please.

    SHARON
    They're in the car.

She gets them. She holds the license and registration out in her hand.

    FOSTER
    Thank you. Could you step over into the light, please?

He takes the identification and goes back to his bike. SHARON nods yes. He studies the license. We look at him for a moment. He is not a bad man, and he is studying SHARON, less as another speeder than as a woman in obvious trouble.

In the beginning, SHARON is catatonic; her answers are short and sparse. As FOSTER continues to press her, she starts to unravel. She realizes what she has done.

    FOSTER
    Here. Where's your little girl?

    SHARON
    She's with God.

    FOSTER
    She died?
SHARON
Yes.

FOSTER
Mary.

SHARON
Yes.

FOSTER
How?

SHARON
I killed her. I was going to kill myself too, but you can't get into Heaven if you kill yourself. You can get into Heaven if somebody else kills you but not if you kill yourself. Life is some kind of punishment, isn't it? You have to go through with it, even when you know what life is for.

FOSTER
What is life for?

SHARON
Ask God.

FOSTER
What does he say?

SHARON
heart before I die, then I can go to Heaven, because God is merciful. How fast was I going?

FOSTER
A hundred miles an hour.

SHARON
A hundred miles an hour. If I had gone off a bridge and died, would I have gone to Heaven?

FOSTER
I don't know.

SHARON
Neither do I.

Dissolve to:

INTERIOR: PRISON. DAY.
A guard leads SHARON down a row of cells. A door is opened and then locked behind her. A woman on the next bed is reading the Bible, and when she lowers the book, we see it is ANGIE, the swinger with the tattoo. SHARON says nothing to her.

ANGIE
I know you. I should be embarrassed to even tell you where we met, but I'm not ashamed, I'm not ashamed of anything anymore, I found God, God found me. I was preaching the word of God at a shopping mall in Palm Springs, and they had me kicked out. So I went back in, and they had me arrested. Have you heard the word of God?
(No reply.)
It's the greatest gift of all time. You have to trust completely in God. He'll forgive all your sins.

SHARON
Who forgives God?

And she turns away from her.
Sharon hears a sound from her cell. A flaming sword slices the air. The sword stops flaming when it cuts through the air. The sword is held by the Archangel Michael. Angie sleeps.

Another angel drifts into this scene outside the cell. Mary appears dressed as she was when she died.

Mary
(sincerely, with a little difficulty)
God is coming back, Mommy. There are wars and rumors of wars, Mommy, and a curse devours the Earth, and those who live in it are held guilty.

Sharon
He said He was going to take us to Heaven.

Mary
Mother, listen to me. The living outnumber the dead. The Armies of the Lord are waiting for the Day of Judgement. Don't you still love God, Mommy?

Sharon
He left us, alone, in the desert. He let me kill you.

Mary
Do you still love Him?

Sharon
How can I love a God who let me kill my baby?

Mary
God loves you because you love Him.

Sharon
Why?
MARY
I know you want me back, but I can't come back, Mommy. I'm dead.

SHARON looks as they vanish, then, after a beat, looks down.

Cut to:

INTERIOR: PRISON. NIGHT.
We move through the cells. A trumpet plays one long, extended note. The prisoners look outside.

ANGIE
That's the first call. It's Gabriel blowing his trumpet. There will be six more calls. We have until the last call to repent. After that, it's too late. After that, it's too late.

We hear the hoofbeats again, getting louder. People look up. The sound seems to be in the middle of the room. The sound of the hoofbeats is impossibly loud, and we see on the TV screen the faint image of a white horse over a ballgame. Then the game disappears, and we see the feet of the horse.

ANGIE
It's God. He's giving us a last chance to save ourselves. At war, the First Horseman of the Apocalypse.

The horse is replaced by a trumpet. The channels are changed, and the golden trumpet blowing the pure tone is seen across every channel. It is a long trumpet raised high before a deep blue background. A hand holds the trumpet, but we don't see the angel's face. ANGIE begins to sing:

ANGIE
(sings)
Hark! the herald angels sing,
Glory to the newborn King;
Peace on earth, and mercy mild,
God and sinners reconciled!
Joyful all ye nations rise,
Join the triumph of the skies;
With th' angelic host proclaim
Christ is born in Bethlehem.

As she sings, the trumpet sounds again. The hoofbeats grow. The blast gets louder. Prison bars start to collapse. All of the bars fall out of the walls, collapse to the floor with a great noise. Women step slowly out of their cells. A helicopter sounds in the background. Everyone sits quietly. No one knows what to say.

ANGIE
What more do you need?

SHARON
Get out of here.

ANGIE leaves. SHARON is alone in the cell. FOSTER walks down the corridor.

SHARON
What are you doing here?

FOSTER
I want to know what happens next.

SHARON
Are you scared?

FOSTER
I don't know. I never had any faith. But you did.

SHARON
Yep.

FOSTER
So?

SHARON
So.

FOSTER
Well, if the world is coming to an end, this isn't the place to be. Let's go.

EXTERIOR: ROAD. DAY.
SHARON rides behind FOSTER on his motorcycle.

Hoofbeats are closer. The red horse ridden by a rider wielding a long sword chases them. The rider holds a pair of scales. The trumpet continues to sound.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: THE ROAD. NIGHT.
SHARON and FOSTER are on the bike. The night sky is filled with the image of a huge bull ridden by a ghostly woman holding an immense candelabra.

Cut to:

EXTERIOR: FARTHER DOWN THE ROAD. DUSK.
The motorcycle comes to the crest of a hill.

Smoke surrounds the two. It is impossible to go ahead. They stop driving. The smoke obscures everything now. Hoofbeats. The world is dissolving. The FOURTH HORSEMAN, DEATH, riding the pale horse, appears in the fog of smoke and comes slowly toward them.

SHARON and FOSTER get off their motorbike and watch the horseman. Then, they begin to rise slowly into the smoke. She doesn't want this.

SHARON
No! No, I don't want to go.
(To FOSTER:)
Don't let me go. No!

They disappear into the smoke.

Dissolve to:

EXTERIOR: LIMBO. NIGHT.
We are in the dark. The noise has stopped. Then we see them, barely lit, a hint of something like moonlight on them. A voice, MARY’S:

MARY
Mom?

(MARY walks out of the darkness. She is beside them, holding her panda.)

Hi, Mom.

FOSTER
Is this Hell?

SHARON
(tenderly) Hello, Mary.

SHARON walks to her, but MARY is just out of reach and stays there.

FOSTER
That's your daughter.

SHARON
Mary? Where are you?

MARY
I'm here.

SHARON
Where are we?

MARY
You know when you hear those songs about the river that washes away all your sins? Well, here it is. Heaven is on the other side of the river.

FOSTER
We're in Heaven. Why are we in Heaven?

MARY
You're not in Heaven. Heaven is over there.

She points to the distance, into the darkness.

FOSTER
I can't see it.

MARY
It's there. If you love God, it's there. Foster. Do you love God for giving you the gift of life?

FOSTER
(whispers)
Yes.

Then he smiles, and then he disappears.

SHARON No!

MARY
Mommy! Gabriel is coming. You have to make up your mind.

SHARON
There's nothing more to say. Take me to God, Mary. I have to speak to Him.

MARY
You have to love God.

SHARON
I love you, Mary.

MARY
That isn't enough.

SHARON
Baby, it's all I have. If life is a gift, if it really is a gift, and there really is a Heaven ...

MARY
There really is a Heaven.

SHARON
Then why should I thank Him for the gift of so much suffering, Mary, so much pain on the Earth that He created. Let me ask Him why?

MARY
Tell God you love Him.

SHARON
I can't.

MARY
If you don't tell God that you love
Him, you can't go to Heaven. Tell
God that you love Him. Mommy!

SHARON
No.

And then we hear Gabriel's final call. Gabriel's melody is like the infinite regression of an image in parallel mirrors, and the melody stretches into the end of time. While they listen, a gold light, as though a sun is setting, fills SHARON'S face. MARY takes her hand and stands beside her.
The gold light shines on both of them.

MARY
Do you see Heaven?

SHARON
Yes.

MARY
Isn't it beautiful?

SHARON
Yes.

MARY lets go of SHARON.

MARY
Do you know how long you have to stay here?

SHARON
Yes.

MARY fades away.

MARY
How long?

And to the darkness, SHARON says:

SHARON Forever.

She is alone. We pull back.
