2. EXIT CITY STREETS DAY VIDEO

L.S., People on city streets. Shot from the interior of a moving car, we see in black and white people walking on a Center City street in Philadelphia. Heard are the voices of two women, CHERYL DUNYE and TAMARA EVANS, as they drive to videotape a wedding reception in Swarthmore, a Philadelphia suburb. This driving pan is shot poetically (slow motion) and we notice the change from black to white people, more parks, and bigger houses as the landscape changes from urban to suburban. The two women are heard and never seen:

TAMARA
(V.O.)

So these are our peoples, huh?

CHERYL
What?

TAMARA
(V.O.)

Our peoples. I'm taping our drive to the gig. Where is it again?

CHERYL
(V.O.)

Somewhere in Swarthmore. Tamara, why are you taping now?

TAMARA
(V.O.)

Cheryl, these images are hot. Maybe Errin and Wellington want some of this in the final tape of their wedding. You know some cultural commentary stuff.

CHERYL
(V.O.)

Girl, they don't want this in their wedding video. It's a not a documentary.

TAMARA
(V.O.)

I'm still taping. We might need it for something.

CHERYL
(V.O.)
Do what you want Tamara. Just remember that one tape cost twenty bucks.

TAMARA
(V.O.)
You just drive, Cheryl. It's my camera, too.

CHERYL
(V.O.)
OK. OK.(pause) Tamara get a shot of that man over there.

TAMARA
(V.O.)
I thought you...never mind.

3. EXT GARDEN WEDDING DAY VIDEO

The image cuts from black to image to black...as the camera continues to record all way to the garden where the wedding reception occurs. Jazzy MUSIC is heard.
Camera steadycams through the garden to a group of guests standing with drinks in their hands.

CUT TO:

CAMERA LOCKED WIDE. We see and a gathering of people. CHERYL DUNYE and TAMARA EVANS are seen in video walking past camera with video (not camera or tripod) equipment. Both women are black and in their late twenties and are lesbians. You can't tell this from the way they dress, but you can sense something different about them as they enter the half Jewish, half Black wedding reception. Tamara is a short stocky black woman, while Cheryl is slender and looks like a young black boy.

CUT TO:

Cheryl is heard OFF SCREEN and is behind the video camera videotaping the wedding for the part-time video business she runs with Tamara. A LITTLE WHITE GIRL's face is seen close-up in the camera (hand held). Suddenly a LITTLE BLACK GIRLS's hand appears and is seen smacking the Little White Girl's face. She begins to cry:

FEMALE VOICE
Could you get a shot of her over there? That's the groom's Mother.

Cheryl quickly zip pans (hand held) the camera focusing from the crying Little White Girl's face, over to an OVER-WEIGHT BLACK WOMAN sitting alone at a table sleeping with her mouth wide open:

CHERYL

(O.S., to self)

I bet she'll love seeing this.

Tamara is seen carrying a tripod while walking towards CAMERA:

TAMARA

(to Cheryl)

These folks are truly bugged.

CAMERA pans and follows Tamara to a table with wedding cake and food. Tamara crams two hors d'oeuvres in her mouth. She turns and plays with a flex-fill. CAMERA goes out of focus.

CUT TO:

A family wedding portrait is trying to be set up in front of flowers/ trees. Black and White PEOPLE are seen L.S. shuffling and shifting around. Tamara is seen in front of the PEOPLE directing them to positions. Cheryl is heard O.S.:

TAMARA

Now could everyone be still for just 3 minutes.

Tamara walks towards camera making face:

TAMARA

Hey Cheryl, would you look at the nut in the back.

Camera focuses on back row revealing a JEWISH MAN with eyes closed rubbing his yarmulke all over his head. A BLACK MALE GUEST in the back row notices Cheryl's taping of the Jewish man:

BLACK MALE GUEST

Say, why do we have to be still? Isn't this a video?

CHERYL

(O.S.)

Yes, but we are using the video to make some still photos for you. (pause) Now where are the bride and groom?
3. EXT GARDEN WEDDING DAY VIDEO

CHERYL
(O.S.)
How 'bout you folks mixing families for this photo. It looks like you are gathered for a lynching.

Everyone is silent and looks at CHERYL (Camera) angrily. A FAT WHITE MAN, 40-years-old, walks right in front of the camera. He appears to be the wedding photographer and carries photography equipment. He is sweating:

FAT WHITE MAN
Looks great...but could you two men in the back switch places?

Cheryl walks from behind camera brushing against it causing the image to shift. Cheryl is seen partially in frame as she talks to the Fat White Man:

CHERYL
(O.S., angrily)
Excuse me...sir, but we're working with the family now.

FAT WHITE MAN
Oh...

CHERYL
(O.S.)
If you want to take a picture, wait your turn.

The white girl and black girl stand in front row fighting and switch places.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Now don't move...anyone...and smile.

Yes Mrs. Goldwin?

M.S. of Cheryl.
Cheryl walks over to Mrs. Goldwin:

MRS. GOLDWIN
Here is the deposit money...for your work; half now and half when we see the tape.

C.U. of Tamara.
Tamara stops her work and walks over to the two women.

TAMARA
Errin said we'd get 60% now.

C.U. of Mrs. Goldwin.
Mrs. Goldwin stands looking at Tamara and Cheryl with a stern look on her face:

MRS. GOLDWIN
Errin might be your friend but we're paying for the video. I don't know why she wanted a video of this in the first place.

C.U. TWO SHOT of Tamara and Cheryl favoring Tamara.
Tamara folds her arms angrily and looks away.

CHERYL
That's fine Mrs. Goldwin. It will be ready by the end of the month. We're pretty booked up with tons of weddings right now but we'll get it done ASAP.

Cheryl smiles at Mrs. Goldwin.

C.U. of Mrs. Goldwin.

CHERYL
I wish she gave us a check...but cash will do.

Cheryl hands Tamara less than half the money and puts envelope in her pocket. Tamara counts her money as Cheryl continues to move the equipment:

CHERYL
Is it OK for me to use the camera this weekend? I want to start working on my project.

C.U. of Tamara.
Tamara counts her money half ignoring Cheryl:

TAMARA
You know you supposedly have been using the camera for the last 3 weekends to work on your project and haven't shot a damn thing yet, (pause)...hey my cut is $50 short.

M.S. of Tamara and Cheryl favoring Cheryl.
Cheryl picks up camera and pats it:

CHERYL
Time to make payments on our ticket to Hollywood remember?

Tamara looks at Cheryl expressionless and coldly.

CHERYL
You remember what Rose and Guin said in the Go Fish book...'If you want to make a film, you've got to make sacrifices all of the time.'

Cheryl picks up other bags and walks towards street and out of frame.
Tamara looks at Cheryl oddly and picks up other equipment:

TAMARA
Maybe you want to sacrifice for your quote unquote future but I was hoping to spend it with the love of my love life. (pause) Stacey wants me to take her out this weekend and I need the cash money...

L.S. of Tamara and Cheryl.
Tamara and Cheryl walk away from camera arguing about the money.

5 INT CHERYL's APT. SAME DAY FILM
Cheryl's voice is heard over black as she opens and shuts the door to her apartment. She sings an Olivia Newton-John tune off beat:

CHERYL
(singing of beat)
"...Suddenly, the wheels are in motion and I-I-I-I, I'm ready to sail any ocean..."

M.S. of Cheryl.
Cheryl turns the lights on and walks into her apartment. She is seen walking through a funky/antique type of apartment. A few papers and clothing are scattered on the floor. She takes her jacket off, puts down her video equipment, and continues to sing:

CHERYL
"...Suddenly, I don't need the answers..."

Camera follows Cheryl as she walks to a table in front of a mirror. On the table is a flashing answering machine. She presses the play button, looks in the mirror and continues to sing:

CHERYL
"...I'm ready to take all my chances with you..."

A voice is heard on the machine. It's a man, BOB, Cheryl's boss:

BOB'S VOICE
Cheryl, this is Bob,... your boss.(pause) I was wondering if you could work tonight. Jamal just quit...I mean just quit.(pause) Anyway give a call if you can work. And if you see Tamara, tell her to call the store (beep).

As the answering machine plays, Cheryl bends down, opens her equipment bag and pulls out two video tapes.

E.C.U. of Cheryl's hand holding video tapes.
On the cover of the tape boxes we see a picture of two women from a 1930's film.

C.U. of Cheryl.
Cheryl looks at the boxes and then at the machine which begins to play another message. It's Bob again:

6. INT CHERYL's APT. DAY VIDEO
SHOT OFF TV. We see in video Cheryl's TV which plays a FILM CLIP
(SUPER 8) from the 1937 film "Plantation Memories". Seen is a WHITE WOMAN in an early 19th century American dress standing in a field looking puzzled and emotional. In the background a plantation style house is seen. We hear dramatic MUSIC as the White Woman starts to cry. Running towards her from the plantation house is a BLACK WOMAN in a tattered house slave's dress with her hair tied in a bandanna. The Black Woman rushes to the side of the White Woman and stands looking at her.

Cheryl is heard O.S. sighing loudly over the dramatic MUSIC.

The Black Woman begins to cry and pulls a handkerchief from the apron she wears and, ignoring her own tears, wipes the face of the White Woman. The Black Woman then puts her arm around the White Woman comforting her:

BLACK WOMAN
Don't cry none missy, Mr. Charles is coming back for sure. I know he is.

Cheryl sighs loudly again.

WHITE WOMAN
Is he really Elsie?

BLACK WOMAN
Yes Miss Barbara, he is. I prayed to God all night and this morning his little angel don' tole me he was comin' back...comin' back to you.

DRAMATIC MUSIC is heard as the camera pulls focus on the face of the black woman. MUSIC is still heard as the screen fades to BLACK.
7. INT CHERYL'S APT. A BIT LATER VIDEO

Cheryl is seen in shoulders-up in front of wall covered with melange of old film posters from the 1930's, 1940's and 1950's. Cheryl holds a video tape box from the film "Plantation Memories."

CHERYL

The "Watermelon Woman" (pause). That's the only credit given to her, the actress who played Elsie.. 'Elsie'..(shakes head)...isn't she the most beautiful black woman you've ever seen?...I can't begin to find the words to describe how upset I am about seeing her in this film...you should have seen the rest of the movie, she was in a total of ten scenes or so and all she did was whine and give service and make people laugh.... I can't believe it... a woman so lovely made to be a maid. It's just not right...that's why I'm sitting here talking about it 'cause it's so wrong. I guess what I'm really doing is making a video about it...I mean her ...Elsie, the...Watermelon Woman.(pause; Cheryl shows box to camera) I'm going to read you some of the film's description as stated on the back of this box...(reads from box)

"Women Films (looks into camera), the distributor of this collection...(looks back at box) is proud to present to you a first in a series of films directed by women working in the Golden Age of Hollywood. Director Martha Page, ..blah-blah-blah... here... The supporting cast includes Mildred Mallory, Bobby Bell and the Watermelon Woman. (pause, looking into camera) "The Watermelon Woman," is it her first and last name or just first name...(pause) Why would a black woman play a mammie and go by the name The Watermelon Woman?

CUT TO:

Seen is a C.U. of TV which holds a frozen image of ELSIE-the Watermelon Woman's face in a dramatic pose. Cheryl is heard in voice over:

CHERYL

(V O)

So tonight, after screening this video, I've decided to find out as much as I can about this beauty... I mean look at her.(pause) Something is really wrong if someone so fine gets remembered by the name The Watermelon Woman.(pause)

There is something in her eyes that's calling to me...something saying 'look at me and know who I am.'(pause) She's the real star here and what you are going to see is my movie about her life.
8. INT VIDEO STORE DAY FILM

Seen in L.S. is Tamara placing videotapes on a rack by the front door of the video store where she and Cheryl both work when they aren’t trying to make it as wanna-be Hollywood filmmakers.

Camera focuses on Cheryl as she enters the store, late for work. She opens the door rushing past Tamara:

CHERYL

Hey hey Tamara. Is Bob here?

Camera pans to Tamara who looks at her smiling.
Camera follows the two women in a long take.

TAMARA

(following Cheryl)

Late again. You know you should answer the phone sometimes. I called to tell you that Bob was coming in early.(pause) Or were you at that cafe again trying to cruise "the cute one"?

Camera dollies to follow the two women and moves to a M.S.

CHERYL

(walking behind counter)

No I was home. I was working on something more important than this place. Did those special order tapes come in yet?

TAMARA

(pause, ignoring Cheryl's question)

You don't have to work here, Cheryl. I'm sorry I got you the damn job in the first place.

CHERYL

That was two years ago, Tamara. It's time for me to move on, I want to be... I am a filmmaker, you know.

Tamara makes a face.

CHERYL

Did those tapes come in?

TAMARA

Yes, your obscure films have arrived. They are in your box. I hope....(picking up paper and reading from it)... "Mike O' Reilly"... likes old films as much as you do.(pause) That stuff is so boring, I can't believe you're wasting the tape scam to order them... I can barely stand the boring stuff Hollywood puts out now but the old ones really suck...especially the nigger- mammie shit from the 30's.

Cheryl runs to Tamara who stands at the counter:

CHERYL

Look what arrived Tamara.

TAMARA
What?

CHERYL
A film with the Watermelon Woman in it.

Tamara shakes head.

TAMARA
Boring, boring. (pause) All you do now since you don't have a girlfriend is watch boring old films.

CHERYL
(hurt)
I'd rather watch boring old films when I'm lonely and horny than watch black porn like you.

Tamara makes an embarrassed face and walks over to the phone even though it isn't ringing.

C.U. of Tamara holding phone in hand:

TAMARA
OK. Go no further. Let's not get into my personal shit here. I was only kidding.

Tamara turns to shelf of tapes and begins to fidget with them.
TAMARA
What are you doing tonight is what I meant to ask.

AGED WHITE WOMAN sing (※) out of tune. The Camera's pan stops and focuses to a M.S. of Tamara, STACEY, Cheryl and YVETTE who are seen seated watching the karaoke. Stacey is an attractive smart looking twentiesomething black woman who is acting all lovey-kissy with Tamara. Yvette is an attractive twentiesomething black woman too, but is crazy looking and a bit off. Cheryl nervously sips her beer. Yvette looks at the Karaoke song sheet:

YVETTE

They don't even have 'That's the Way of the World' by

STACEY and TAMARA
It's by Earth Wind and Fire.

YVETTE

Tamara sips drink, Cheryl lights a cigarette and Stacey shakes her head:

STACEY
This is so wrong...She can't sing a damn bit.

CHERYL
(exhaling)
What's this about a Spike Lee audition?

TAMARA
If she can't sing she's going to look real dumb. No black girl gets up unless she is for real, if you know what I mean, like sings in choir or for a living. She must be stupid or crazy to go up to that stage.

CHERYL
What's this Black Deb party? (beat) What song is it?

Cheryl looks at song sheet trying to figure out which song Yvette will sing.
Tamara laughs and rubs Stacey's back as Stacey nervously takes a gulp of her drink.

STACEY
Let me tell you guys the story. During our freshman year it was rumored that Spike Lee was on campus recruiting folk for his film on black schools. What was that film called again...?

CHERYL
School Doze...I mean Daze. (pause) Not one of my favorite Spike films.

STACEY
...Anyway, our little Black group decides to have a party hoping that he would come and discover us...

M.S. of Tamara, Stacey and Cheryl.

CHERYL
And...?

TAMARA
And is right. I never heard this one before.
...And the party was fun and all. You know the type of party AKAish...$5 bucks and a DJ, food and drink. Anyway Yvette shows up late in this tight ass and I mean tight ass outfit covered with red polka dots and...

TAMARA
(laughing)
Outfit?!

CHERYL
Polka dots?!

(shakes head)
...Spike wasn’t even at the party and it still was a mess. She forced the DJ to turn off the MUSIC right in the middle of a jam (beat) Then she started to sing (beat) Well you know black folks (beat). They started to get upset.

Tamara and Cheryl look at each other.

TAMARA and CHERYL
And?!

STACEY
...And this one boy threw a drink at her (beat). It was the first time I’d seen Yvette go off like that. She put the boy in the hospital. I’d never seen her act that way before. I knew she had problems but this was something deep... very real emotional... It was the beginning of what we all called “Yvette’s real emotional” period.

Cheryl is heard O.S. recording her.

MOM
How do I look CHERRIE? (pause) You know I'm too fat to be on TV.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Mom you aren't, and you don't look fat and anyway this is a video.

'EDITH: Cheryl's Mother'—appears over her image. Mom continues to fix her hair.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
So you saw lots of films when you were growing up in the 30's?

MOM
(in a theatrical proper voice)
Yes, Cheryl, I did see many films. I was very interested in the cinema, you know.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
And one of your favorite stars was the Watermelon Woman, right?

MOM
(in her normal voice)
'Water' who?(pause) I've never heard of her.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Mom, we had a long talk on the phone about her...remember the "skinny girl?"

MOM
We talked about a lot of things on the phone the other night.
How do you expect me to remember everything?

Cheryl is heard softly cursing to self behind camera.
MOM
I remember you asking me for money to help you pay for this here camera. So don't get uppity.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
But I came all the way out here on the bus and took off from work just to tape your story about the Watermelon Woman.

MOM
I remember a butterfly girl or something or other who ran around like a pickininny in Gone With the Wind. I'll talk about her if you like. You know that the Johnson's up the street are related to her.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
No. (beat) I specifically want to talk about this one actress who starred in these videos we just got in the store. (beat) Come on mom, this is really important to me. You said you'd help me out with making this video. (pause) Now how about the director, she was a woman -- Martha Page. She is the one who cast the Watermelon Woman.

MOM
Now that name sounds familiar. (beat) But she couldn't have been a director. Ladies didn't do things like that back then.

CHERYL
(O.S. raising her voice)
Yes they did, Mom. It says right on the back of the video box that Martha Page was directing films back then. And she wasn't the only woman directing films -- there was Dorothy Arzner and ...

MOM
Hum... (pause) Well.. I guess I'm wrong but I still don't remember this 'Water-woman' girl you're asking about. (pause) You know that was her stage name.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
That's the name that was on the box.

Cheryl's hand is seen handing her Mom the video box. Mom takes the box from Cheryl and holds it away from her eyes to get a good look.

MOM
I always told you never to believe everything you read. (pause) Is that the girl? She looks familiar.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
That's the Watermelon Woman, Mom and I know she has a real name. That's why I'm here asking you. You were supposed to have lived back then.

MOM
Well...she kinda looks like this singer who used to sing around some of the clubs where Starleta, Mae and I used to hang. (pause) No...If I remember right this girl was the one who sang at this club where those street types used to go. Mae used to have this friend named Shirley who took us to one of those places and we were shocked. Some man in a dress was singing on the stage and then a girl who looked like a man came out and introduced a singer who kinda looked like this melon girl. She sang an old Bessie Smith type song.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
How did it go?

MOM
Oh I don't remember. I wasn't much into Bessie's songs. But I do remember that club like it was yesterday. I remember the smell of the smoke. Kinda had the smell of the smoke that used to come from under your door when you were in high school...

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Mom, stick with talking about this club. It sounds right up my alley. What was it called?...Where was it?...Are you sure the Watermelon Woman sang there?...

MOM
(rolling eyes)
Cherrie, that was 40 some--I mean--several years ago. Your old mom can remember some things but she can't remember everything. (pause)

MOM
I just remember what I told you cause Mae got into a fight with Shirley after that night and...(pause) let me go no further with other people business.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Humph... (pause) How is good old Miss Mae anyway?

TAMARA

(O.S., in a funny voice)
And we played the role when we had to. Black actresses were cast as maids, mammies and servants in many of the talkies during the Depression era. We served, cooked, cleaned, and were the comedic relief in many family dramas.

What was the ROYAL?

LEE
The Royal, the Dunbar, the Standard were the place to be back in the 20's and 30's. South Street was jumping with night life.

Lee moves away from the sign. Tamara gets a shot of it with the camera.

CHERYL
Like South Street now?

LEE
Hell no girl, South Street sucks now. But back then it was 20th and South. Everybody who was anybody was there to see the movies or the shows at one of the theaters...the Royal and the Dunbar were Black owned and operated up until and even after the Depression.

TAMARA
When they showed films, was it those all black cast ones?

Lee moves to mantle and stands beneath a poster of an Oscar Micheaux film, "Body and Soul." Cheryl walks and stands inbetween Tamara, at the camera, and Lee at the mantle.

Now that's a new name. (to Tamara) Where did you find that one?

CHERYL

I actually found her in some tapes that came to the store. She played either a maid or a mammy, had a few stupid lines, but was stunning.

TAMARA
(O.S.)
Yeah, I've seen her. She was all that.

LEE
Well you know that was stardom for most sisters back then. Actually it was work. The movies always had a role for colored domestics. Films in the teens would sometimes just ask real help to stand in the scenes.(pause) Or, sometimes directors would check out the nightclubs and cast the singers or chorus girls. That's how Ethel Waters got her start.

CHERYL
I bet that's how she got her start. Her name appeared on this one tape box just like that. ..as the Watermelon Woman. That's why I decided to make a video to find out who she was.

LEE
I see.

LEE
...No...no, I don't see any Watermelon Woman. I have a file on directors white and directors black who worked with colored actors. What was the name again...Martin...?

CHERYL
Martha Page. She was a white woman.

Lee opens another file and continues to search.

TAMARA

How do you know so much about her?

SHIRLEY
I was in love with her that's why. Every stone butch was. She was a looker. Had the saddest smile that would make you want to ...(sings) "Squeeze right to your heart on a cloudy day..." (pause) Yeah, she sure was a looker. (pause) I was ... seventeen, eighteen ... and the first time I walked into the Showcase, (lights up Cigarillo) Pookie bring me an ashtray.

POOKIE, a girl about 8 yrs., enters with ashtray. Pookie waves at the camera, giggles and leaves.

SHIRLEY
(continues)
Git outta here girl, can't you see we're making a movie. (pause) The Showcase right, is that where I was? Fae sings the blues to all of us at that speakeasy near South Street. It was a mixed club that allowed our kind of people to come in. She'd come out in some fabulous outfit and sing to all us butches standing up front. Sometimes we'd fight just to get her to look at us. (pause) I even got thrown out once fighting with this girl from North Philly. And if I remember right, they even had a back room where all sorts of things went on. But you'd never find me there.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
So the club was a gay club with both black lesbians and gay men?

SHIRLEY
Are you from the planet earth girl? When have you ever seen a black lesbian and gay club, ever. (pause) Back then things were all mixed; white folks owned it, black folks attended and rich white folks came there. Most of the white folks were in the family though. Those ofays needed some place to socialize.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Who did Fae hang with? Did she have a girlfriend?
SHIRLEY
Did she have a 'peoples,' you mean. We called our girlfriends "my people." (pause) Fae hung with a lot of different people. Somebody told me once that she was in with the ofays and hooked up some ritzy white woman director to put her in the pictures.

CHERYL

SHIRLEY
Who you "whatin'" girl?

Nae Nae stands silent.

NAE NAE
Yes, Gramma?

SHIRLEY
That's right. (pause) Go in my room and bring me down that brown box with the picture albums in it. And don't touch nothin' while you're in there either.

Shirley sits rubbing her chin and smoking.

WATERMELON WOMAN
You're a lying no good tramp! That's what you are. Committing a sin that will surely send you to hell.

PASSING WOMAN
I'm already going to hell but not for being a tramp; but for being poor and living on the streets like I have to. Why can't I be happy by fitting into their world. God made me this color for a reason.

Watermelon Woman slaps the PASSING WOMAN on the face then turns and walks away.

Anyway I'm just an old fashion girl trying to keep up with the times but Diana just threw me for a loop. I mean...

Cheryl looks away then looks back.

Cheryl is O.S. The title "M. DAVIS-TODD, Author Feminist Frames" appears over her image.
All these women were remarkable in their ability to transcend the stereotype in one way or another, through humor or song, even gesture. 1930's Hollywood was a pretty rough place for black actresses to do anything interesting in film beyond playing a black maid or servant. The competition was intense. There were few roles and many promising men and women wanting to play them. (pause) You know, Hollywood, at this time, employed almost as many, if not more, black screen stars than it does today.

(off camera)
Can you tell me a little bit more about Fae "Watermelon" Richards? How'd she get the name The Watermelon Woman?

M. DAVIS
I'm not sure...I think the 'Watermelon' really was part of her birth name.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Says in your book that Richards was also a "hair stylist"...and named herself after the way she wore her hair.

M. DAVIS
Oh yes, I forgot about that. (pause) So she got the name the Watermelon Woman....this is one of the funniest stories about researching the book....

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Really?

PHOTO
Several 1930's PHOTOS of black women's hair styles are seen. Also seen is a clip from a film of a black woman pressing the hair of another black woman. M. Davis is heard in V. O.

M. DAVIS
(V.O.)
...Yes really. Colored women named the different hair styles that they wore—Like the Rickety Rat, the cob—the same way shoe manufactures would name ladies shoes after popular women of the era—Lillian, Marion, Marlene.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Humph.
M. DAVIS
Yes, and Richards popularized the watermelon in the film, "Broken Heart," a late 20's silent short by Martha Page. Thus the nickname 'Watermelon-Woman'.

CHERYL
(O.S.)
Do you have any photos of her...hair to prove this. (pause) I mean I could have made that story up.

...and father happened to be interested in investing in something for the colored people.

Mrs. Page-Fletcher turns and looks at Diana.

DIANA

You mean he bought the speakeasy?

MRS. PAGE-FLETCHER

Oh no, I don't think he did. That was so long ago dear.

CHERYL

Yes he did, Diana. And if I'm remembering this right, he, Father, bought the club and immediately sold it.

Mrs. Page-Fletcher and Diana look and listen to Cheryl.

CHERYL

(continues)
...for a half million to Reginald Brooks, a colored, just before the Depression hit. Brooks went bankrupt and eventually hung himself.

MRS. PAGE-FLETCHER

Oh. How disturbing. (changes subject) Yes, Martha found the Richards' girl dancing in the chorus of some club.

CHERYL

(heated)

Wasn't their relationship more than that ... I mean they moved to... to Hollywood together?
MRS. PAGE-FLETCHER
Really. If I remember the story correctly Martha was doing well in Hollywood and encouraged her former cast to come and audition for roles in her new picture.

CHERYL
I see. I guess my...story...is all wrong.

MRS. PAGE-FLETCHER
You're not trying to infer something went on between the two of them?

Mrs. Page-Fletcher looks back and forth between Diana and Cheryl with her eyes wide open.

DIANA
Well, you see Cheryl is making a video documentary about Fae Richards who...

CHERYL
(cutting Diana off)
...Who was lovers with your sister.

Mrs. Page-Fletcher stands up.

MRS. PAGE-FLETCHER
My sister wasn't that type of woman. I've told every writer who asks about Martha this. Martha was a brilliant woman who had the courage to break into an industry dominated by men.

Mrs. Page-Fletcher regains her composure. Diana looks at Cheryl then at Mrs. Page-Fletcher.

CHERYL
(looking at Mrs. Page-Fletcher)
Come on,...I think you knew that Fae and Martha were intimate,
Mrs. Page-Fletcher.

Mrs. Page-Fletcher looks at Cheryl stunned.

CHERYL
What's wrong. (pause) Have I shocked you with some truth? Everyone knows that your sister was...that way. I've come across several books and articles that support this fact.

Cheryl looks confidently at Mrs. Page-Fletcher. Mrs. Page-Fletcher turns violently red.

DIANA
Cheryl!
MRS. PAGE-FLETCHER
I'm afraid you and your friend will have to leave.

Cheryl leans forward with a fiery look in her eyes.

CHERYL
Fine. I think I've got what I need. (turns to Diana) And to tell you the truth, (pause) I don't need people like her to confirm anything. Besides I know that Fae Richards dumped her sister anyway.

Diana continues to look at Cheryl then turns to Mrs. Page-Fletcher who, still standing, looks away from Cheryl. The older Black woman walks in.

OLDER BLACK WOMAN
Is there some problem, Mrs. Page-Fletcher?

Cheryl stands up and looks in the eyes of the older Black woman. Cheryl shakes her head.

CHERYL
I'm getting out of here.

Cheryl proceeds to remove the mike from Mrs. Page-Fletcher and walks out of frame.

Out of focus shakey images of Diana, Mrs. Page-Fletcher, Black woman and the room are seen as Cheryl packs the camera up without turning it off. We hear the camera movement too.

DIANA
Cheryl are you sure...(pause) Mrs. Page-Fletcher please, she's been working on this project and is just a little angry. She's been...

MRS. PAGE-FLETCHER
Aren't they all just a little angry?

There is silence. Cheryl focuses camera on C.U. of Mrs. Page-Fletcher. CAMERA PANS to Diana who looks at Mrs. Page Fletcher.

DIANA

Heard are Cheryl and Diana.
A door is heard closing and movement and footsteps are heard.
There is silence and sounds of an elevator are heard.

CHERYL

Cheryl takes the newsletter from Annie's hand and looks at it. Tamara looks over Cheryl's shoulder making a cynical face.

TAMARA
You're going all the way to Brooklyn. (pause) For what? .... to find out that they only have stuff on white lesbians right, Cheryl.

ANNIE
They actually have this great "Black" lesbian collection Tamara.

Tamara and Annie exchange a cold look. Cheryl continues to read the newsletter.

CHERYL
She's right. (pause) That's great Annie, thanks.

ANNIE
No problem. And I'm actually driving up there soon to visit friends, if you need a ride.

TAMARA
You're such a sweet helpful little thing, Annie. I bet you even know a good place to get a clit piercing.

Cheryl turns and looks angrily at Tamara.

CHERYL
Tamara (pause) I'm serious... don't go there with her.

ANNIE

That's OK Cheryl. She's just jealous.

TAMARA
Right.

ANNIE

Just because I'm different from you doesn't mean you have to treat me like shit all the time.
TAMARA
Oh, I hurt your little feelings, I'm sorry.

ANNIE
You suck.

Tamara walks and stands next to Cheryl.

TAMARA

Tamara, Cheryl and Annie look at Bob. Cheryl reaches under the counter and removes a white binder with the words 'WORK SCHEDULE' on the side:

CHERYL
No, Bob. (pause) I was just trying to convince Tamara here to work for me next Friday. (pause) I have to go to NY with Annie.

Tamara shifts and looks in binder.

TAMARA
Right (pause)...And Cheryl here is going to work for me on Sunday and Monday (to Cheryl) Right Buddy?

BOB
Well who ever is scheduled to work remember we open late that Sunday. (to Annie) How's it going Annie. Getting the hang of things yet.

ANNIE
Bob I've been working here for several months now.

hippish, attractive 40ish white lesbian named, MJ.
Cheryl is seen talking to M.J.

M.J.
Most of our files aren't organized like that. Heck most of are files are still in boxes. (pause) We try to do three things with donated material: categorize, log, then store. We'd love to circulate material but we need more volunteers to organize that project.

CHERYL
And what about the show on black lesbians? Is that a separate collection?

M.J.
It sure is. Its one of our circulated collections. It doesn't have all of our material on black lesbians, just the stuff that women gave the O.K. to show. (pause) Let's see if I can get it for you.

MJ walks out of the room.
Cheryl is seen looking at the books on the bookshelf.
She removes a book and shows its cover to the CAMERA.

CHERYL

As MJ speaks, Cheryl looks at, and Annie films the Black lesbian archive display.
CAMERA slowly pans the display, Cheryl and MJ.

MJ
This here is a map of the lesbian and gay hangouts popular in Manhattan during the 1920's and 1930's.

Cheryl picks up map and shows it to the camera/Annie.

CHERYL
Wow. Looks like there were more dyke bars then.
MJ
They all weren't strictly lesbian. Many were speakeasies where the young white debutante crowd would travel uptown late night for "yardbirds and strings."

ANNIE
(O.S.)
What?

MJ
Fried chicken and spaghetti...a late night snack followed by a shot of one hundred proof tea.

CHERYL
Tea parties. (pause) I was reading about them. (pause) Got any stuff on clubs in Philadelphia?

MJ
Actually there were several in Philly. A woman recently donated a whole box of stuff on Philadelphian lesbian life.

MJ walks to a stack of boxes in the corner. Cheryl follows followed by Annie with the camera. MJ opens one and pulls out a tattered box.

MJ
Haven't really sorted through the stuff, but you're welcome to have a look.

Cheryl pick up a stack of the pictures and shuffles through them.

CHERYL
Oh my God...this is Fae Richards singing! (pause) Who donated this stuff?

Cheryl shows the PHOTO to the camera. Fae Richard's stands on a dark stage singing.

MJ
Wait just a minute kiddo, this information is confidential.

MJ starts putting stuff back in box.
Cheryl quickly turns the picture around.
Written on the back is, "To June Walker, a special friend."
Cheryl moves the photo and smiles to the camera and makes a happy eye gesture.

CAMERA hold on trio walking away from camera. PEOPLE are seen watching.
317. INT. POLICE STATION LATER
M.S. of Cheryl sitting in a small room with a big table.

CHERYL
(to herself)
Shit!

Cheryl bangs table and rests head on it.
A POLICE WOMAN enters room and stands behind Cheryl:

POLICE WOMAN
Let's go, Doll. You've been bailed out.

CHERYL
Where's my camera? I want my camera back.

POLICE WOMAN
Do you want to go or stay. (pause) Let's go.

Cheryl stands and exits room. The Police woman follows.

61.  EXIT POLICE STATION A BIT LATER  FILM

L.S. of Diana as she stands in front of the station. Cheryl exits and walks towards her and stands looking around:

CHERYL

Where is Tamara? I called Tamara.

DIANA

She called me from the store. She couldn't leave cause she's the only one there.

CHERYL

Great (pause) They took my camera. And they thought I was a crack head.

Cheryl walks away from Diana and Diana follows. CAMERA DOLLIES following their actions.

DIANA

Is that all you can say to me?

Cheryl walks down the street, in front of Diana.

CHERYL

I didn't ask you to come. I asked Tamara to come.

DIANA

Don't give me attitude Cheryl. I just bailed you out.

Cheryl stops walking. Diana walks in front of her and stands. A BLACK COUPLE is seen in background watching them.

CHERYL

I didn't ask you to bail me out; Diana.

Diana embraces Cheryl. Cheryl pulls back and moves away. Cheryl looks at the Black couple. The Black couple looks at Cheryl. Diana looks at Black couple, then at Cheryl:

DIANA

What is wrong with you? An hour ago you were sitting alone in a jail cell feeling like shit. I come to your rescue and now I get treated like shit.

Cheryl looks at Diana coldly.

CHERYL

Diana, you have to leave me alone right now, OK. (screaming) Just leave me the fuck alone!
61. EXIT POLICE STATION A BIT LATER FILM CONTINUED
Cheryl walks out of frame. The Black couple and Diana watch her leave. Diana begins to cry.

DIANA OK, Cheryl. I'll leave you alone. (pause) Bitch!

Diana walks out of the opposite frame. The Black couple stand shaking their heads.

62. INT CHERYL'S APT DAY VIDEO
BLACK Cheryl is heard. BLACK is seen.

CHERYL I'm speaking to you now on a tape recorder because the police kept the camera. I know they'll never give it back but Tamara and I plan to go tomorrow and complain. (pause) I quit my job yesterday. I just didn't show up. Bob kept calling and calling. (pause) I fucked up royally with Diana. I tried to call her but she won't answer. (pause) I don't know -- but -- I guess things happen for a reason, you know what I mean. I have to finish this film and move on. (pause) It's like you work on something hoping to learn something, and then you move on. (pause) If there is one lesson to learn about this project it's moving on...that's what Fae did. She moved on from being just a singer to a movie star,...then she was lovers with a Martha Page, then she moved back to Philly to be with June,...then she died. (pause) She was in control of her life and did what she wanted. She called herself the Watermelon Woman and lived as the Watermelon Woman until she wanted to be...to be herself. (pause) I guess that's what I learned from this project...be yourself cause you know what, that the only person who you can be.

Papers are heard shuffling and MUSIC is heard.
