Each of these companies hosting these conventions and competitions have specific rules and regulations in place to create a safe environment for all. In addition, many of them are offering virtual options, hybrid options, or refunds when necessary. I have picked these companies specifically for those reasons; their commitment to safety, their clear and concise options regarding their events, and their options to choose; see attached documents for each of their COVID safety protocols and procedures. Please see the budget billing document regarding budget billing for this season, as there is an additional option this year due to the ever-changing situations.

If you would like to discuss potential virtual convention options for this season rather than in person, please contact Miss Natalie directly.
