

18 Things You Can Do To Support People Seeking Asylum

LEARN

1. Know the FACTS so you can help people understand the truth about people seeking asylum.
2. Read stories about the amazing contributions people seeking asylum make to society so you can inform others that welcoming these people benefits Australia.
3. Book a speaker to come to talk to your school community about his/her experience seeking asylum here in Australia : Truth Be Told through the House of Welcome, Refugee Voices or Community Conversations through Jesuit Refugee Service, and Table Talks through Sydney Alliance.
4. Love reading? Why not join the Refugee Advice and Casework Service (RACS) Book Club, a bi-annual event, featuring stories from around the world, focusing on the experiences of refugees, people seeking asylum and their communities.
5. Prefer podcasts? Try listening to "Temporary," which shares the stories of people seeking asylum in the Australian community.

ACT/MOBILISE

6. Write to your local politician to tell them how you feel about this issue. Information on letter writing can be found here on page 4.
7. Write a poem and publish it in the school newsletter. It may get people talking.
8. Conduct a school debate around the issue of Australia's refugee policy.
9. Hold a weekly group prayer meeting. See the prayers listed below.
10. Consult the Edmund Rice Centre Resource to find activities for your school, community or parish. It's full of ideas and activities for educators to implement.
11. Consult the Jesuit Refugee Service Toolkit to find activities for your school, community or parish.

DONATE (Time, money, food)

12. Contact The House of Welcome or Jesuit Refugee Service to ask what food items they need for their Foodbank; collect and organise school buddies to deliver these goods.
13. Volunteer to read a picture book to a group of Primary school students and get a discussion going about issues facing people seeking asylum to encourage empathy.
14. Volunteer your time; your time and skills are needed at our agencies! Contact the House of Welcome, write to Jane Turner at Jesuit Refugee Service, the Asylum Seeker Centre, or the Australian Refugee Volunteers for monthly activities with children and young people.
15. Support Social Enterprises and Refugee Run Businesses
16. Use the delicious House of Welcome catering service for your next party; this service provides training and employment opportunities for people seeking asylum.
17. Next time you are deciding where to eat out, why not stop by a café or restaurant that is run by or employs people seeking asylum? Options include: Columbo Social, Parliament on King, Uma, The Bread and Butter Project to name a few.
18. Next time you go shopping, have a look at some refugee powered businesses. Follow Welcome Merchant to see a whole range of refugee run businesses in Australia.

Prayers

You meet him in the street in the old country where his eyes dart into dark corners in case they are watching.

You meet him in the rickety boat at sea, his pockets empty after paying the price of passage.

You meet him behind the barbed wire in the heat as his dreams begin to melt away.

You meet him holding his official letter declaring that he is a refugee, even as he wonders why he remains in detention.

You meet him five years after he foolishly thought he would be released into the community.

You meet him stealing his soul so the hope does not fade.

You meet him emerging from the detention hotel, a little hope reborn.

You meet him as he is told to get a job, after years of not being allowed to get a job.

You meet him on the line for the food handouts, his eyes lowered as he clings to his dignity.

His name is Joseph.

Psalm 137

By the waters of Babylon,
there we sat down and wept, when we remembered Zion.
On the willows there we hung up our lyres.
For there our oppressors required of us songs.
How shall we sing our God's song in an oppressive land?

Reading from Matthew 2:13 – 15

When the Magi had gone, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream. "Get up," he said, "take the child and his mother and escape to Egypt. Stay there until I tell you, for Herod is going to search for the child to kill him." So he got up, took the child and his mother during the night and left for Egypt, where he stayed until the death of Herod.

*They have no need of our help
So do not tell me
These haggard faces could belong to you or I
Should life have dealt a different hand
We need to see them for who they really are Chancers and scroungers*

*Layabouts and loungers
With bombs up their sleeves
Cut-throats and thieves
They are not
Welcome here
We should make them
Go back to where they came from
They cannot
Share our food
Share our homes
Share our countries
Instead let us
Build a wall to keep them out
It is not okay to say
These are people just like us
A place should only belong to those who are born there
Do not be so stupid to think that
The world can be looked at another way
