HAPPY ANNIVERSARY!

Celebrating our 15th year of transforming communities through effective programs in the arts, education, community and culture!

I feel unwavering pride to continue to give programs that inspires, uplifts, pride, leadership and most of all build confidence in our youth & adults in their educational and mental health needs.

Started as a small store selling art in Brooklyn's Bedford Stuyvesant. Talks with Wolves Indigenous Art & Culture, and after 7 years formed TWW Inc. To better serve the communities needs.

In 15 years what have we accomplished?

1. Served over 4200 people.
2. Expanded our Middle Passage Program to The Trails Coming Home.
3. Expanded our Art Education program from teaching Native American & African Cultures to different cultures from around the world.
4. Programs in Mental Health - Creative Art Therapy programs for people of all ages
5. Programs used in Canada
6. Professional Development - For Employees & Employers
7. Employed local artists and performing art groups
8. Awards for our programs, and service to the communities
9. Website has been given a new look to better share and inform.
10. Joined with other organizations to help educate.
11. Tremendous support from foundations, and public.
12. Articles and shows such as CBS, Good Morning America, BKAT, WBAI, WABC
- Like It Is with Gil Noble, Daily News and more.

Our Assessments & outcomes show that our programs work:

82% of students are able to better deal with personal challenges using our Creative Arts Therapy Program.

Our Art Educational programs:

81% Parents directly/indirectly volunteer

84% have a better comprehension of culture/history.

87% see their grades average go up

88% show improvement in their overall study & work habits.

97% of students' complete projects.

98% attendance by participating students

100% take part in exhibits/performances in one form or another.

We at TWW Inc. will continue to bring these opportunities, the feeling of immense joy, pride, and with the feeling of success that fills people lives through the arts for years to come.

Please share our information with your contacts, any school or organization you feel would support and/or benefit from our programs.
