

Eryn Elliott

Jefferson, Georgia

Small Cow/Calf Operation

Agricultural Education Major

Student worker for the UGA Soil, Plant and Water Lab

Secretary of Collegiate FFA Alumni & Supporters at UGA

Interested in agriculture advocacy

Eryn Elliott is from Jefferson, Georgia, where she interested her family into raising livestock at the age of 12. Her family now has a small cow/calf operation. She is a fourth year Agricultural Education Major, and student worker for the UGA Soil, Plant and Water Lab. Eryn also serves as a Secretary for Collegiate FFA Alumni & Supporters at UGA. She has served on the Georgia Beef Board's Advocacy team as a UGA member. When she attended Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College, she served as her professional sorority's philanthropy chair. Her passion is in advocacy and education in the whole agriculture industry.