hello good people!

we've got some items on the docket for ya. lets move through these points quickly so we can adjourn to lunch, which josh has kindly whipped up for everyone—tortellini w spiced pumpkin reduction, sage chopped up. kid is a wizard.

okay, so. first things first:

we are happy to announce a physical release of skylight! it will be available on double vinyl, double compact disc, & cassette.

along with the physical release of skylight, we will be including skylight ii, an acoustic rendition of each song on the record, recorded live this summer at amperland studios, which is to say, the same room skylight was recorded in, which is to say, our living room. (made some room, etc.)

it'll be available for pre-order now as double LP, double CD, single CS. you can pre-order at www.pinegroveband.com. available everywhere february 15th.

anyone who bought skylight on bandcamp will automatically get a bandcamp download code of skylight ii on release day via email.

calling all crows will be joining us on this tour as well. we think their bystander intervention training sessions are really valuable & important, & we want to continue to support a safer culture at concerts & in the world. they'll be offering trainings before each show as well as tabling throughout the concert. the trainings will be open to 10 attendees per night. sessions happen 30 minutes before doors & you need a ticket for that night's show to attend. you can sign up by emailing kim@callingallcrows.org with the subject line "pinegrove [city] training."

also, thanks to everyone who has helped make these first 6 shows of this tour truly special. we're on our way from berlin to bristol right now & we are jet lagged & everybody has a cold & we are still so excited for the last 4 concerts of this run.

okay, that's about all! go ahead & line up single file over by the tureens, which you'll find heaped high & gleaming orange w delectable winter gourd. thank you
