City-Federal Redevelopment Project

First redevelopment project in Winston-Salem is shown in this aerial photograph by Sentinel cameraman Bill Ray. White lines show the approximate boundaries of the first project. The 67½-acre area extends from 3d Street north to Liberty and 11th. It lies mostly between Maple and Ridge, broadens in places to Linden and Highland. The North-South Expressway is to bisect the area plane half-a-mile high above East Winston, is so sharp that a magnifying glass placed on it will bring out details of individual buildings. The Winston-Salem Redevelopment Commission is holding "open house" at its offices, 1129 E. 30th Street, from 1 to 5 p. each day next week to explain the $3,148,000 city-federal project to everyone interested. Public hearings on it will start at 2 p.
