

Wet Toes, Dry Shoes

From Sea Star Beachwear, Water Shoes That Dry in Minutes

These water shoes from Sea Star Beachwear, a new line from Libby Fitzgerald, a former marketing executive at Hermès, and Michael Leva, who was the creative director at C. Wonder, are made of fast-drying neoprene with protective rubber soles. Mr. Leva said that they're perfect for a shoreline like Barbados, with broken shells and coral, or, let's say, the rocky coast of Maine. In the sun they dry in 10 minutes. Just slip them back on and walk to lunch.
