We're specifically looking for Board members with one or more of the following qualities:

- A willingness to roll up your sleeves and lend your energy and creativity to T&W leadership.
- Expertise and/or networks in finance, law, fundraising, marketing or public relations.
- Expertise in education, especially as it pertains to literacy or the arts.
- Corporate networks, especially in industries in which T&W programs may be a good fit with corporate themes or philanthropic interests (eg. publishing, media, arts, education, youth, seniors)
- Personal or professional resources that can help T&W thrive.

All Board members must be willing to actively serve as an ambassador on T&W's behalf, willing to seek donations and other resources for the advancement of our mission.

Interested? Let's talk!

To learn more, email Asari Beale, T&W Executive Director, at abeale@twc.org or call 212-691-6590 Ext 1

Teachers & Writers Collaborative (T&W) is one of the first writers-in-the-schools programs, with a 50+ year history of offering innovative creative writing programs in under-resourced NYC public schools.

We are currently seeking new members to our Board of Directors. This is an exciting opportunity for someone who is passionate about literature and believes in the power of arts education to transform lives.

What will you do on the Board?
Board members are expected to:
- Participate in quarterly meetings of the Board of Directors.
- Serve on at least one committee.
- Support T&W with an annual donation at a personally meaningful level.

Board members are elected to three-year terms and meet quarterly in the NYC area or virtually via video conference.

Teachers & Writers Collaborative seeks new Board members to help us craft a vision for the future of literary arts education.

Join us, and inspire future generations of writers.

Find us online at: twc.org
teachersandwritersmagazine.org
@twc_org

We're looking for you!
History
Teachers & Writers Collaborative (T&W) was founded in 1967 by a group of writers and educators who believed that professional writers could make a unique contribution to the teaching of writing and literature.

Today, T&W continues to partner with writers, teachers and community organizations to spark imaginations and transform lives through creative writing. We remain a leader in the field of literary arts education, and are a thriving community for writers.

Key Partners
National Endowment for the Arts
New York State Council on the Arts
NYC Dept. of Cultural Affairs
Mount Sinai Hospital
Aroha Philanthropies
Cerimon Fund
E.H.A. Foundation

Our Programs
Workshops
We offer writing and art workshops taught by teaching artists in NYC schools, community centers and Mount Sinai Hospital Center, including creative aging workshops for older adults and teacher training.

T&W Magazine
Teachers & Writers Magazine is an online resource for teaching creative writing, with lesson plans, interviews and essays. T&W also publishes books on teaching creative writing.

Poetry Out Loud
T&W partners with the National Endowment for the Arts and the Poetry Foundation to manage Poetry Out Loud (POL) in New York State. POL is a national competition that encourages high school students to learn about great poetry through recitation.

2019-2020 Annual Impact
2300 NYC K-12 students found their voices in writing workshops
6400 students in New York State got inspired by poetry through Poetry Out Loud
134 adults gained new skills in creative aging workshops

Teachers & Writers Collaborative is the original writers-in-the-schools program, with a 50+ year history of innovative creative writing classes for children and adults.

Find us online at: twc.org
teachersandwritersmagazine.org
@twc_org