

GMRS Emergency Network - Oakland (GENOAK)

GENOAK is a new neighborhood-to-neighborhood emergency 2-way radio communications network for Oakland and nearby areas, utilizing the General Mobile Radio Service (GMRS)

In the event of a large-scale emergency such as a major wildfire or earthquake, individuals and neighborhood groups in and around Oakland may need to depend on information and assistance from other nearby communities.

GENOAK will enable effective 2-way radio communications between neighborhood groups during these times.

When a disaster does occur, the GENOAK 2-way GMRS radio network repeater can allow neighborhood groups to connect with each other to report on threats and incidents, provide status updates, share resources, mobilize volunteers and coordinate needed assistance, among other tasks.

Individuals and neighborhood groups will also be able to communicate for some time period during power outages (Public Safety Power Shutoffs) and at other times when phone and Internet services are unavailable. Please visit: www.genoak.org

GENOAK is an offering of the Oakland Community Preparedness & Response program (OCP&R) - www.oaklandcpandr.org

A GENOAK check-in net takes place on the first Tuesday of the month at 19:00 (7:00pm) Pacific Time.
