

Employee Engagement and Team Building

Human Resource Management

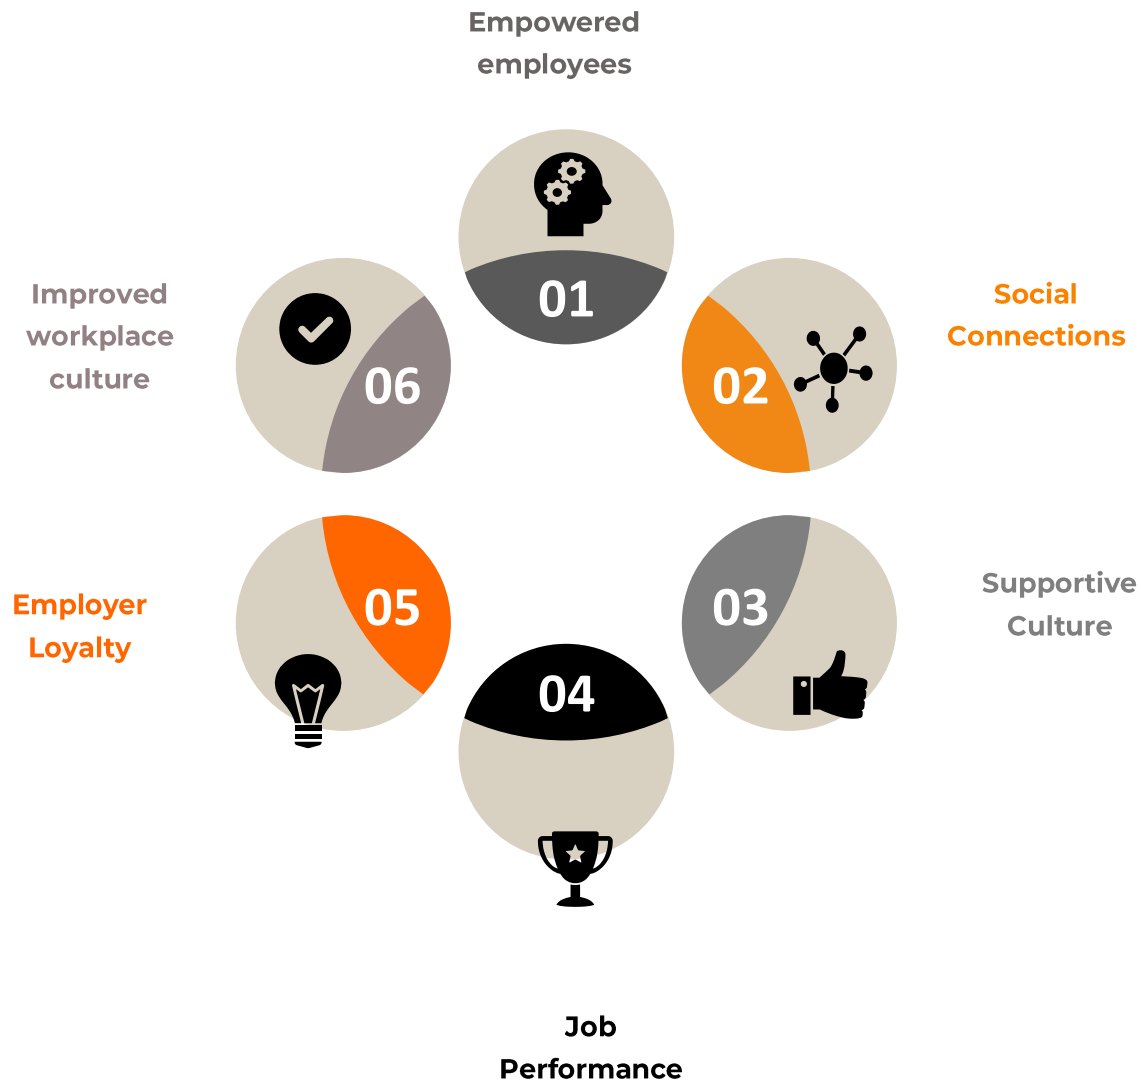

toolbox INDIA Foundation

Employee Engagement and Team Building

Team building is very important as it brings people together by enabling a platform of collaboration with one another. The idea is to facilitate maximum engagement of the employee. Enabling them get to know each other through various activities increases the efficiency of the employees that leads to the success of the organization.

These are the markers for effective employee engagement:

Some ideas around team building and engagement

Team building and engagement

Set team goals

Host a team retreat

Participate in a focus group discussion

Create cross functional teams

Make new decisions collectively

Commit to a healthy conflict strategy

Celebrate milestones

Contribute to a great cause

Serve the community together

Find the team SWOT