

WHAT DOES BRETT FAVRE'S WIFE AND AN HIV-POSITIVE PASTOR HAVE IN COMMON?

It's not a riddle.

HIV-positive minister Shane Stanford and Deanna Favre, wife of an NFL legend do have something in common. Both have battled life threatening illnesses, and both have overcome chronic hopelessness to discover the transforming strength of God.

Stanford joins breast cancer survivor Deanna Favre to share God's cure in four primary categories: Compassion, Understanding, Response, and Encouragement. That cure is applied in a 40-day spiritual "treatment plan" that can be used as a devotional guide, providing practical daily life lessons and Scriptural wisdom.
