MK-ULTRA Scientist Dies. Daughter in Mysterious Coma

By Desmond Braniac

In November of last year, you may recall the sudden death, in a mysterious car accident, of 'controversial' child psychiatrist, Jeffrey Mandel.

He, and his second wife, were traveling with his young daughter, in upstate New York, right after Thanksgiving. It was raining heavily; and, for reasons unknown, the car spun out of control; on a reasonably safe stretch of road, and impacted a tree.

Mandel and his wife died instantly. His daughter survived, unharmed.

Born, Jacek Mandewicki, he was once employed, as a civilian scientist, by the CIA. He is documented as actively involved in a number of the experiments conducted, as part of MK-ULTRA, in the early 1960s.

Among other things, It is recorded that he took part in the infamous Murray Experiments, as one of the 'panelists', who participated in the two years of verbal abuse, and excoriation of the students; the unwitting subjects.

Of course, we all know the other legacy, of those particular experiments. Ted Kaczynski.

The News You're Not Meant To Know

Mandewicki changed his name after some undisclosed scandal. (Details lost in 1973, with 10,000s of other pages, from the CIA files.)

He became Dr Jeffrey Mandel, of the Uber-Children, and the rest is history.

Except now, his daughter; nominally under the care of the child's grandmother, a woman over one hundred years old; has suddenly lapsed into a strange coma, that apparently has doctors baffled.

One can only wonder at the poor child's upbringing or, perhaps programming; at the hands of a man, who claimed it was possible to “brainwash children into becoming perfect”

Let's just hope for the best, for his kid.

Peace
