Dear Friends,

The past year has been a time of celebration at Clothes To Kids of Denver, marking our first decade of service since our founding in 2008. We reached a major milestone last July when we provided our 1,000,000th piece of clothing to a student in need. And in September, we gave away our 50,000th school wardrobe.

Even as we celebrate these achievements, we remain keenly aware of the pressing need for CTKD’s services in the 11-county metropolitan area we serve. We continue to set—and achieve—ambitious goals each year, and we’re honored to share our 2018 results with you in this Annual Report.

As you know, our student shoppers experience some of the most difficult circumstances imaginable: poverty, homelessness, recent immigration, displacement and home removal. These factors put school performance at risk, making it essential that these students have access to clothing that fits well and helps them feel confident among their peers. We’re gratified to know that CTKD has made a real difference for students in school and well beyond.

I recently met a college graduate in her first job with a local foundation that provides college scholarships and other supports to Denver youth in need. When I mentioned CTKD, the young woman’s eyes lit up. “I stopped at your store when I was in high school,” she said, “and now I refer all of my students to you.” She went on to say that she and her five siblings had come to Denver with her mother from Ethiopia when she was in elementary school. “We had many struggles,” she said, “but all I wanted to do was fit in and be like my classmates. I don’t know what we would have done without you.”

As CTKD enters its second decade of service, we celebrate not only the service milestones we have achieved as an organization, but most importantly the personal success stories of our students who have gone on to achieve their dreams. With the continued help and support of generous donors and volunteers like you, we look forward to many more celebrations in the years ahead.

With sincere gratitude,

Katie Jones-Jadwin
Executive Director
