A Message from our President and Executive Director

We approach our 44th year of providing an array of services to the people of our nine greater North Shore communities. But we must do more! We must look at what we do and how we can improve our services to all who need the help to live a fruitful life in the setting they want and need.

We must look at the people from ages 22 to 59 living with a disability that are underserved and seek ways to improve their life and well-being. Our commitment to staff training must continue and increase through opportunities for learning, especially in working with adults with disabilities under the age of 60. SeniorCare has over 14 Options Counselors trained to work with elders as well as younger adults and their family or caregivers.

We must improve and enlarge our outreach program in all of our communities. We must work to eliminate the so called “cracks” so that those in need are not missed or forgotten.

We must use the dollars that are allocated to us even more wisely. We must open doors and windows of all the organizations that work with us to better serve all.

SeniorCare has made giant strides in the past few years including:

- Our care transitions team has assisted many elders in returning to the community from nursing homes.
- We continue to engage and collaborate with the medical community to bridge the gap between acute hospital and nursing facility care and community based services. An example of this is the state Community Links Portal.
- Our hoarding program continues to grow and receive increased referrals for assistance. Through grant funding, a Coordinator and student interns from local colleges have helped the program.
- Our protective services department has been quite busy over the past year with increased reports to respond to, advocacy and community trainings, and public awareness events.
- Our long term care ombudsman program continues to ensure that the rights of residents in nursing facilities are adhered to.
- SeniorCare continues to increase our housing services and advocate for increased low income housing for our consumers.
- Our volunteer services and Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) serving thirteen north shore communities continues to have a dedicated group of over 400 volunteers.
- SeniorCare continues to serve as a leadership agency of the Aging & Disability Resource Consortium of the Greater North Shore, Inc. in the delivery of a “no wrong door” approach to service access and delivery.

Our Meals on Wheels and Congregate Dining Sites remain strong and vibrant. Given the snow storms of this past year, our Meals on Wheels drivers persevered. Through grant funding, our nutrition department also implemented a “diabetes lunch ‘n learn” at the Beverly Council on Aging which we hope to replicate in other settings.

One of our preferred sayings at SeniorCare is that “the whole is greater than the sum of its individual parts.” We recognize that in order to be successful, a team effort is needed not only within the SeniorCare walls but beyond as well. Our successful collaboration with community and our local and state governments are all critical to the successful implementation of our shared missions.

Lastly, we wish to thank our staff, Board of Directors, Advisory Council, volunteers, our provider network, community partners, and all direct and indirect supporters of our agency in helping us to carry out our important mission.

Sincerely,

Thomas Tanous, President

Scott M. Trenti, Executive Director

Board of Directors Community Partners Special Recognition
Tim Riley
Executive Director, Action, Inc.

Gloucester native Tim Riley began his 40-year history with Action, Inc. back in the mid-70’s, directing an early version of the agency’s youth program. He worked alongside long-time Executive Director Bill Rochford developing many new programs over the years including the COMPASS alternative high school and Gloucester’s first emergency homeless shelter. Tim saw the beginning of Action, Inc. and SeniorCare’s decades-long partnership, with SeniorCare forming under Action and later operating independently as Action’s own HomeCare Division which grew to employ nearly 100 care workers. Playing a range of roles at the agency, Tim also served as Energy Fiscal Manager as Action’s Energy Services division began to grow to what it is today: a lead agency overseeing 26 sub-agencies conducting energy conservation improvements across Massachusetts.

During Tim’s tenure as Executive Director, Action’s revenue more than doubled, the footprint of the agency increased with new satellite offices in Ipswich and Rockport, and its programs expanded greatly. Examples include enhanced adult education classes offered in partnership with North Shore Community College; the development of Cape Ann’s first and only Housing First program, an innovative new model for connecting chronically homeless individuals with housing and help; the co-founding of Gloucester’s High Risk Task Force to help those most at risk in collaboration with Gloucester police, fire, and others, and the opening of Action’s brand new Education and Training Center just this year. Many of the Home Health Aide and Nurse Aide students trained in the Center will go on to serve SeniorCare clients through Action HomeCare. Under Tim’s leadership, Action, Inc. also received one of the highest assessment scores for organizational management ever given by the Northeast Institute for Quality Community Action.

With his retirement in September, Tim greatly looks forward to spending more time with family but will always treasure his many years working with Action, Inc.’s devoted staff, Board of Directors, and strong community partners like SeniorCare Inc.
At the Heart of Things - Faces of SeniorCare

In 2013 Louise Willey was admitted to Beverly Hospital for a back operation. Shortly after she was transferred to Blueberry Hill Rehabilitation & Healthcare Center in Beverly. She lived at Blueberry Hill for two years while searching for a place to call home.

SeniorCare has helped her transition to her new home in many ways. A volunteer Long-Term Care Ombudsman advocated for Louise and other residents while in Blueberry Hill to help make her stay more comfortable. Also while in Blueberry Hill Louise was introduced to Amanda Holland, a SeniorCare Transitions Care Manager.

“`Amanda has been fabulous,” said Louise. "I had no idea what SeniorCare had to offer.”

Amanda, along with Diane Moses, SeniorCare’s Housing Specialist, helped Louise find an apartment. SeniorCare helped to furnish the apartment with a program titled “Money Follows the Person.” Beverly Bootstraps was able to provide Louise with a refrigerator.

“My work at SeniorCare in the Money Follows the Person Program as a Care Transitions Care Manager has been most rewarding and challenging position I’ve had,” said Amanda. “For Louise it gave her another chance at self-determination and the right to choose where she wanted to live, which was in the community. It’s exciting to see that some of her goals include establishing friendships, volunteering, taking a class, and having a pet.”

Louise is now living independently in an apartment in Beverly with support from SeniorCare’s Home Care Program and Meals on Wheels. A homemaker comes every morning to help Louise with cleaning, getting breakfast together, and other miscellaneous household things. Once a week Louise receives help from a companion who is able to drive Louise to appointments, the grocery store, and other necessary places. David, her meals on wheels driver, delivers her a healthy meal every day. “These people who come to my home to help are lovely people,” said Louise.

Louise has made a few friends in her new home, watches PBS, and enjoys spending time with her two living sons.

Barbara Imbeault was in Building 8 at the Plains elderly complex when a fire broke out during the day. She and the other residents in buildings 8 and 9 had to be relocated. Barbara feels fortunate to have been able to remain at the Plains. She moved to another building. But she lost many of her household items due to smoke damage. “SeniorCare took good care of us, they allotted each person $1,000 to replace lost items,” said Barbara. With that allotment Barbara was able to purchase a coffee maker, microwave oven, air conditioner, and new carpeting.

Barbara is amazed at the way people came through to assist all the fire victims. “The extent of goodness surprised me,” she said.

Barbara’s connection with SeniorCare started before the fire. “SeniorCare helps me out in so many ways,” she says. It was about four years ago that Barbara realized she needed some help. “I’ve always been so independent, and SeniorCare really respects that.”

Barbara receives coordinated services from SeniorCare to help her with daily living. She is greatly appreciative of SeniorCare, “I am so grateful to have SeniorCare,” she said. She also adds that her heart goes out to the donors of SeniorCare, “I thank them for caring.”

Barbara, born in Marblehead, and her husband Rene´, a native of Manchester (who passed away in 1999) lived in Hawaii for 15 years and returned to Manchester in 1991. The Plains has been home for Barbara for most of those years. Before returning from Hawaii, Barbara was a hospital administrator and Rene´ was a counselor mostly for combat vets. Rene´ was a wounded veteran himself, having lost most of his left arm in the Korean war.
George Wallick is a Brother with the 10th Masonic District. As the chairman of the Hospital Equipment Loan Program (HELP), he volunteers to organize, coordinate, and deliver much needed equipment to seniors and others living with disabilities. HELP has been in operation for twenty something years. George has been the chairman of the program for the last three years, but has volunteered part-time for the program more than ten years.

Donations come in all the time says George. They are kept in the basement of the Ipswich Masonic Temple but all the donations cannot fit in the Temple. This caused the need to rent two 40 foot containers which are filled with hospital equipment including walkers, commodes, wheel chairs, hospital beds, and so much more.

George picks donations up and delivers them to people in need. About eight months ago he delivered a lift chair. Soon after the recipients called to say the chair had broken. The same day they had a new chair lift. George took the broken one home and fixed it, and it soon went to someone else in need.

“There are hundreds of stories of people who didn’t know we existed and find us and they are so grateful,” said George.

You can buy a shower chair for $30 - $40, which for many seniors is cost is prohibitive and if they had to buy one it would be a choice between eating dinner or safely taking a shower, said George.

What makes the program so valuable is that it is people helping people. It gives the people who donate a feeling of helping out, and the people who receive the equipment do not need to be stressed about cost.

George gets calls from Home Health care Aides, Physical Therapists, Occupational Therapists, Housing Authorities, Councils on Aging, as well as many calls from SeniorCare. George works the overnight shift at his paid job and goes to the Temple in the morning to be available to people picking up items, or to deliver to people who can’t get out.

“George has been helping seniors within the community to obtain donated adaptive equipment which enables consumers to stay in their homes safely and saves money for the consumer,” said Joanne Mercaldi of TLC @ Home. “He is always willing to donate countless hours of his time to set up hospital beds, lift chairs, and even help install equipment when a consumer does not have the means or the family to assist them.”

SeniorCare thanks George and the 10th Masonic District for their selfless acts of kindness.

Community Report

SeniorCare’s Area Agency on Aging (AAA) and Community Programs had an invigorating year in FY 2015. The 50th Anniversary of the Older American’s Act (OAA) that created legislation for AAA’s and a focus on the betterment of the lives of older adults, was celebrated in several venues and activities. SeniorCare was one of over 600 organizations, groups and agencies nationwide that held a “Watch Party” to share in the live streaming of the White House Conference on Aging in a July day-long session. Individuals and elders from local nursing facilities, advocates, vendors and service providers, and staff attended the session. Each individual found something of importance for themselves and for the future of the aging services network. A few of the highlights of the AAA and Community Programs follow:

Disabilities Awareness training was enhanced and executed through common language and a glossary of terms and on-going/enhanced trainings, events, and focus groups.

Two new community members joined our Advisory Council representing Rockport and Wenham and the Advisory Council worked to see that Title III contractors renewed their service provision for the coming year and two Councils on Aging (COA) returned to provide Outreach services.

The RSVP Volunteer program held a volunteer fair where 30+ agencies interacted with potential and active volunteers to match up goals, possibilities, and opportunities for engagement.

Two new salad bars were added to the meal choices at SeniorCare meals sites in Beverly and Gloucester. A meal site was moved to the Hamilton COA and a Lunch & Learn Diabetes education series was presented at the Beverly COA to an overflow group.

SeniorCare Nutrition Director, Linnea Hagberg, was honored to be nominated and appointed to serve for three years on the board for the National Association of Nutrition and Aging Services Programs.

Also the 50th Anniversary of the Older American’s Act activities included a sharing session with Councils on Aging where best practices, coordination, and building relationships was the focus. Plans and new ideas were established for the future of the aging network.

Currently 11 million older adults, or 1 in 5 persons, receive OAA supported services.

Sincerely,
Jane Militello, Assistant Executive Director

SeniorCare hosted a viewing session for the 2015 White House Conference on Aging (WHCOA) on July 13, 2015. The Conference built on a year-long effort to listen, learn, and share with older adults, families, caregivers, advocates, community leaders, and experts in the aging field. Pictured to the right is a group of community members watching President Obama speak via streaming video in SeniorCare’s Myra Herrick Conference Room.
Home Care Department Report

SeniorCare’s top priority is articulated in our mission statement - SeniorCare Inc., a consumer centered organization, provides and coordinates services to elders and others, enabling them to live independently at home or in a setting of their choice while remaining part of their community. Every service and program that we offer is done so in light of our overall mission.

As an Aging Service Access Point (ASAP) we want to be a single point of entry for elders in our community for information, advocacy and services available. It is important for us to be able to assist those that call, regardless of whether or not we are the service provider. It is our priority to be able to answer questions, research resources and direct anyone who calls to the appropriate service or agency. The I & R Department fields well over 400 calls per month in addition to correspondence, disseminating information and submitting internal referrals.

Assisting elders to live independently in a setting of their choice is not just a catchy phrase in our mission statement, but something in which we really believe. We do this in a variety of ways. The most significant way is through the coordination of appropriate service plans for consumers in their homes. Our care managers and nurses assess, coordinate and monitor service plans through our State Home Care programs. During the assessment process, eligibility for specific programs is determined based on income and functional impairment. We have seen a change in the “profile” of consumers that we serve as those with more serious chronic and acute conditions are choosing to stay in the community whenever possible. Our service plans range from a few hours a month (homemaking, companion, shopping, etc.) to several hours a day. SeniorCare serves over 1,300 consumers per month through the various Home Care and Mass Health programs.

For those consumers who are not sure what they are looking for or do not fit the criteria for a home care program, the Options Counseling Program, is a FREE service to anyone regardless of age, income or disability with the goal of offering long term services and support. An Options Counseling session can be done by telephone, face to face or by email depending on the needs of the consumer. It is a collaborative process with the OC providing information and guidance about community options but always with the consumer in full control of the process.

Another way we assist elders and adults with disabilities to live independently in a setting of their choosing is by assisting residents of institutions to return to the community if this is their choice. We have care managers and nurses who are at each of the seven area nursing facilities on a weekly basis to assess and assist residents, their families and caregivers.

Preventing elder abuse and neglect is another priority for SeniorCare. Protective Services investigates allegations of elder abuse and neglect including severe self-neglect. Reports come from a wide range of sources including family/friends, medical providers, police, emergency response personnel, to name but a few. All reports are screened to establish if there is a “reportable condition” under the law. As the population ages and the 60 and over population grows, it is expected that reports of elder abuse and neglect will increase. Many reports involve multiple allegations of abuse, the most common being self-neglect. Other reportable conditions are caregiver neglect, physical abuse, emotional abuse, sexual abuse, and financial exploitation.

SeniorCare has a presence in public and/or subsidized housing buildings in all nine of the towns covered in our catchment area. Advocating for residents is available through the Mixed Population Services Coordinator, Housing/Homeless Advocate, Congregate and Supportive Housing Coordinators. They all work closely with Care Managers, Nurses, Housing Authorities and other community service providers to assist those in need of support with a variety of issues ranging from public benefits to in home services.

To meet new challenges in the future, community partners are essential. We have many current collaborations, such as high risk and hoarding task forces and others that come together for a specific event such as a recent collaboration for the showing of the documentary “I Remember Better When I Paint” to assist those caring for loved ones with Alzheimer’s disease. SeniorCare will continue to find new ways to collaborate with our partners to meet the many challenges of the future. We look forward to continuing to serve the aging and disability communities for many years to come.

Sincerely,
Dori Prescott, Director of Home Care
SeniorCare held rallies for Elder Abuse Awareness Day in Gloucester, Rockport, and Beverly (pictured to the left). The Protective Services Department investigates allegations of abuse and neglect such as:

- Physical abuse
- Emotional abuse
- Sexual abuse
- Financial exploitation
- Caregiver neglect
- Self neglect

All referrals are confidential and competent elders may refuse Protective Services involvement.
