What Is an Irving Planter, and Does it Require Frequent Watering?

This, and Other Questions You Never Thought to Ask

An Evening with Steve Preston

Steve Preston retires this month after a distinguished, 38-year career in city management and planning. Currently San Gabriel's city manager, Steve has spent his career as a tireless advocate for good planning. Formerly serving on APA's Board of Directors, Steve is a past president of both APA California and the California Planning Roundtable. A Fellow of the American Institute of Certified Planners and past member of the Planning Accreditation Board, Steve has also taught at USC and Cal Poly Pomona, dedicating his knowledge and experience to future generations of planners.

We have asked Steve to share a few observations from his years in practice. Join us for an inspiring evening as Steve reflects on a career devoted to planning leadership and excellence in public service.
