

Dawn Blunt – Vice President

I have been with Brighton Fire for 17 years, will be 18 in September. (my second day here was 9/11, so my anniversary date is very easy to remember!) I started as a secretary and eventually offered to help with the pub-ed that the crews would do. I did a lot to help them out because back then each shift had something they were assigned to, so there was only one shift that handled pub-ed so they needed help. After having my first child in 2006 I decided I did not want to work full time anymore. Just prior to going back to work, after having several conversations with the Chief at the time, they offered me a part time job as the educator, which technically was a brand-new position. I was excited to take on that role that I had partially been filling anyway. I am still a part time employee, but it still works best for my family. My husband is a Captain here at Brighton and he is the reason I even have this job. When he was a volunteer he heard of the opening in the office and told me to apply...and here I am. I love that the fire service is in our family! My kids love it too. And I do have to say that I think it helps my relationship with the crews, who I need to have a good relationship with, that we hang out with so many of them outside of work because of my husband. It makes my interactions with them on pub-ed's so much easier because they are family!
