

Practical Sensory Strategies to Support Families through the Covid-19 Pandemic

Join us for our last interactive ECHO Ontario Autism Pop-Up Online Series for Allied Health Professionals with our occupational therapist, Moira Peña and our amazing family advisors!

Moira Peña, BScOT, MOT Reg. (Ont.) is an occupational therapist working at Holland Bloorview Kids Rehabilitation Hospital who has dedicated her career to supporting children and youth who experience sensory processing challenges. She is an Expert Hub Team member of the ECHO Ontario Autism Program. She loves coaching and empowering parents & allied health professionals to implement sensory-based interventions (SBI) to improve children's function and participation in meaningful daily activities. Moira has presented across Canada to parents, teachers and health care professionals and is also a Lecturer in the Department of Occupational Science & Occupational Therapy at the University of Toronto.

Date: May 28th, 2020, 1:30-3pm, Eastern Time (ET)

- We have completed 4 SOLD OUT sessions/conversations focusing on providing and discussing strategies that parents have found helpful during their own ECHO support sessions and we've received so many requests for more...
- We've heard you! We'll be running one FINAL session open to ALL Canadian Allied Health Professionals and Students! The session/conversation will include:
- A review of the 8 sensory systems and how they impact a child's (and our own) behavior
- Discussion of practical sensory solutions to help support families through this pandemic as well as helpful telehealth tips
