IEA Societies in all categories, and technical committees, are invited to review the current information on the iea.cc website:
- Federated Societies
- Affiliated Societies
- IEA Networks or Member Societies
- Technical Committees - Leadership

Please send updates to Lynn Strother, Administrator, IEA Secretariat: secretariat@iea.cc

We appreciate greatly all of your efforts to keep our IEA website up to date.

The IEA Executive Committee sends heartfelt wishes for the health and safety of all of our members in these difficult times. Because of international travel restrictions, we held the first-ever virtual IEA Executive Committee meeting on 24-26 April to discuss plans and activities for 2020. If you did not receive a report and would like one, click here.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

IEA Fellow and Award Nominations
Due to the highly unusual circumstances in the world this year, the deadline for nomination of IEA Fellows is extended to 30 June 2020. And a reminder -- 30 June 2020 is also the deadline for submissions for the IEA Tsinghua Award and the IEA Kingfar Award.

COVID-19 Free HF/E Resources
We are collecting HF/E resources for COVID-19 response, many of which are meant for a public audience, or that target external facing audiences. Please let us know if you have a contribution you would like to add to this list, or check out these great free resources for outreach and distribution: https://iea.cc/covid-19-resources/

JES Publishes Tips for Working and Learning at Home
The Japan Human Factors and Ergonomics Society (JES) has created a 13-page booklet, “Seven Practical Tips for Teleworking/Home-Learning using Tablet/Smartphone Devices.” The booklet, published by IEA Press is downloadable here. Please feel free to translate and/or disseminate! The booklet is an open access document under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License CC-BY, which permits use, distribution and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly cited. Editable files are available for the document and its figures.

Request for Proposals
WorkSafeBC has issued a request for proposals on “Risk factor assessment tools for musculoskeletal injuries” open to researchers worldwide. Grant amounts are determined by WorkSafeBC, based on the proposed work plan and budget. As a guide, previous projects ranged from $50,000 to $150,000 Canadian dollars. Project duration should not exceed one year, although exceptions may be warranted. WorkSafeBC’s Research Services has an annual budget of $1.5 million for research grants. At this stage the research grant asks for completion of an application form (17 pages). Due date is 31 July 2020.

IEA Congress Updates
Plans for the most important event for the global HFE community in 2021 are on track to deliver a truly outstanding experience for all delegates and exhibitors next summer in Vancouver, Canada. The call for special session proposals is still open, and will close on 26 June 2020, which is when the call for paper/poster proposals will open. Please help spread the word about IEA2021 by downloading one of our promotional flyers available for distribution, or by joining our Facebook or LinkedIn group.
