JOINING THE TECHNOLOGY COMMUNITY
The world is changing rapidly and nowhere else is that more prevalent than in the electronic arena! This is especially good news for blind and visually impaired individuals who can use this technology to make their way in the world. From computers to iPhones and everything else in between, this assistive technology (AT) opens up the world for the blind and visually impaired. Bruce Schwendeman, a Lackawanna Blind Association (LBA) client, engages with AT on a daily basis. With the help of our social worker, Mary Claire Boylan, Bruce began visiting the Agency and the Albright Memorial Library a few times a week. Bruce uses the computers which have large screens and large-font keyboards, along with larger font size on the computer and his hands-free magnifying visor. He says that AT has been a “godsend and therapeutic.”

A third-generation taxidermist, Bruce is keeping busy while writing a coming-of-age book about a 5-week cross-country trip he took with his father in 1964. Bruce and his father, who was the Chief Taxidermist of the American Museum of Natural History in NYC, excavated caves in the Oregon desert that summer.

In addition to the AT available at the Agency, Bruce enjoys the activities such as the Shopland Club, Advocacy, and Movie Day. He says the LBA has helped “me to live independently and their help and support is there when I need it.” He also appreciates the Support Group and meeting “people with similar issues” where they can discuss their “successes and failures.”

Assistive Technology and instruction on its use is available at the Agency to all our blind and visually impaired clients. Please call the office today to learn how Assistive Technology can expand your world!

MAGIC WORLD OF VISION POSTER CONTEST
Winners of the Magic World of Vision poster contest enjoyed a pizza party and a show by Damian the Magician at the LBA office on May 14th. Third-grade students from Lackawanna County participated in a Prevention of Blindness eye health and safety educational program throughout the school year. Ten winners were chosen from among numerous entries. Winners are pictured from left to right; front row: Jane Walsh, Jack LaPolla, Leeanne Stokes, Francesca Wincovitch, London Talipski, Macie Kilmer, and in the back row: Anne Lawler, Prevention of Blindness Specialist; Damian, the Magician; Angelo Paciotti, Joselyn DeStefano, Mary Lou Wascavich, Executive Director. Not pictured, Rileigh Johnson and Emily Barrett.

The mission of the Lackawanna Blind Association is to support and promote the interests of the blind and visually impaired, and the prevention of avoidable blindness.
Celebrating Our 90th Annual Helen Keller Day and Thanking Our Community For Its Generous Support!

THE 33rd ANNUAL WILLIAM J. JORDAN, M.D. MEMORIAL SWING FOR SIGHT GOLF TOURNAMENT ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR!

The 33rd Annual William J. Jordan, M.D. Memorial Swing for Sight Golf Tournament was held on June 17th at the Glen Oak Country Club in Clarks Summit. Special thanks go to our major sponsors, Northeastern Eye Institute and FNCB Bank and to our corporate sponsors, Northeastern Security Systems, North Penn Charitable Foundation, Ayers Supply, Inc., and Shoprite of Daleville & Mt. Pocono. Thanks also to our event Co-Chairs, Dr. William J. Jordan, Jr. and Jerry Champi, committee members, volunteers, and all who came out to golf, especially our guest golfer/speaker, Jake Olson! The tournament raised an estimated $49,000. The proceeds from this event will help the agency continue our programs for the blind and visually impaired throughout Lackawanna County.

After their day on the golf course, players enjoyed dinner, the presentation of the prizes, and a talk by guest speaker and golfer, Jake Olson.
How does the Lackawanna Blind Association add to the clients’ lives?

"Friendship, socializing, happiness! Dealing with people that have the same problems that I do… Love the staff - Wonderful!"

~Richard Green, Scranton

“Great happiness, a new beginning. Understanding better ways to live with visual impairment. Meeting totally awesome friends; a second family that is wonderful!”

~Kathy Strohl, Scranton

"One of the best organizations, it’s home-like; best group of employees I’ve ever seen in my lifetime."

~John Stedina, Throop

Thank you for considering a gift!

Lackawanna Blind Association does not share donor information with anyone, other than publishing a list thanking donors by name only. Donors may also request that their gift remain entirely anonymous.

Assistive Device: Talking Scale

Though anyone is rarely excited to step on a scale, the talking scale can make the task a bit easier. With a voice in either English or Spanish, pounds or kilos, the talking scale will accurately announce your weight.

There are many different styles on the market; some feature anti-slip surfaces and/or extra-wide platforms to stand on. Some will even store your previous weight in its memory, while others offer the choice of a male or female voice. The talking scale will accurately help to keep your weight in check.

Please contact the agency at 570-342-7613 for information on obtaining this item and other assistive devices.

Light The Way Legacy Society

The Light the Way Legacy Society was formed in 2012 as a means to invite our community members to incorporate the Lackawanna Blind Association into their estate planning and to honor those who notify us that they have done so. Members of the Light the Way Legacy Society can have the special satisfaction of knowing that their life’s efforts will make a difference for years to come. Legacy gifts become a permanent part of LBA’s endowment, ensuring that LBA can continue to provide compassionate care for its blind and visually impaired family.

Legacy gifts also may be designated for a specific purpose or as a memorial or tribute to loved ones.
VOLUNTEER PROFILE: SPOTLIGHT ON MOLLY AMES

The Friends of the Blind, formerly known as the Ladies’ Auxiliary, has for nine decades faithfully served the Agency in many ways, including hosting the very first Helen Keller Day. In 2010, the Ladies’ Auxiliary was renamed the Friends of the Blind. Back in 1990, Molly Ames knew some of the LBA staff and she and her daughter were asked to teach crafts at the Summer Camp in Lackawanna State Park. This led to Molly joining the auxiliary and serving as Treasurer and then President in 2003-2004. Through the years, Molly continues to donate handmade gifts for Helen Keller Day including beautiful afghans that she crochets, and for the past 15 years, she has made the table decorations for the clients’ Christmas Party each December.

Molly states "I believe that for every hour you spend volunteering, it comes back to you a hundred-fold! I have met many wonderful and inspirational people during my time spent with the blind and visually-impaired clients, and have learned a lot from them regarding what you can accomplish in life."

Besides spending time with the Friends of the Blind, Molly also volunteers at the St. Joseph’s Center and a local hospice. Her hands are “never idle!”

FIVE WAYS TO KEEP EYES HEALTHY AS WE AGE

As our bodies age, our eyes age as well. And just as we visit our primary care physician for an annual checkup, so too, should we have an annual eye exam after the age of 50. Whether or not we are having any symptoms of eye-related illnesses, it is important to have our eyes examined by an eye-care professional. With early detection and follow-up care, the risk of blindness due to disease can be reduced by as much as 95%, depending on the particular disease.

The five following steps can help keep our eyes healthy as we age.

1. Quit smoking and/or avoid secondhand smoke.
2. Follow a healthy diet rich in Vitamins A, C, and E, Omega-3 fatty acids, and zinc.
3. Protect your eyes with sunglasses and hats. Use sunglasses that absorb 99-100% UV light.
4. Exercise can help avoid many eye diseases such as AMD, cataracts, and glaucoma.
5. Keep blood sugar under control if you are a diabetic to avoid diabetic retinopathy, cataracts, and glaucoma.
