Enviran Auto Service

Enviran Auto Service, owned and operated by Randy and Eileen Daikens, was established in November 1992 on the East Back Line between the towns of Flesherton and Markdale. The couple started the business shortly after moving to the area.

Originally specializing in the conversion of gasoline engines to propane engines in trucks and cars, Enviran changed its focus as the times changed.

Enviran is a member of Krown Corporation and has been operating as Enviran Krown Rustproofing for the past 24 years. Members of Krown must attend yearly training and be certified annually in rustproofing techniques. Enviran is a CAA-approved application centre.

Enviran performs propane inspections on motorhomes under the authorization of the Technical Standards & Safety Authority (TSSA), inspecting propane tanks and lines.

Randy has been a motor vehicle mechanic for 50 years, and holds the following licences: 310S – Automotive Service Technician, 310T – Truck & Coach Technician.

Enviran prides itself on providing one-on-one service. People travel for miles to have their motor homes inspected by Enviran.

Enviran sources parts locally, works on classic vehicles, supports local charities, and has been a longstanding Chamber Member.

Enjoy the country garden setting while waiting for your vehicle to be worked on.
