

Customer Relationship Summary - Form CRS

Introduction

Lockshield Partners is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an Investment Adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand the differences. The SEC offers free and simple tools to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides information tailored to educate retail investors about financial professionals.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Our principal services available to retail investors include portfolio management services and financial planning services. Our portfolio management includes developing a long-term asset allocation strategy designed to meet your goals. We provide ongoing monitoring of our portfolio management services as part of our standard service. Our financial planning services typically include one or more of the following areas: investment planning, retirement planning, estate planning, charitable planning, education planning, corporate and personal tax planning, cost segregation study, corporate structure, real estate analysis, mortgage/debt analysis, insurance analysis, lines of credit evaluation, business and personal financial planning. We do not provide ongoing monitoring of our financial planning services.

We provide non-discretionary investment for our portfolio management services. If you invest with us on a non-discretionary basis, we will recommend which securities to buy or sell, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold, however you make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of investments.

For additional information including minimum investment amounts, please see adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/175433 for our Form ADV, 2A brochure (Items 4 and 7 of Part 2A).

Conversation starters. Ask your financial professional:

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

Our fees are assessed quarterly and are disclosed in our Form ADV Part 1A, Item 5.E. and more fully described in our Form ADV Part 2A, Items 5.A., B., C., and D. Some fees create a conflict of interest described below and in more detail in our Form ADV Part 2A.

- If our firm charges you asset based fees, more assets in the account will cause you to pay more in fees and therefore we may have an incentive to encourage you to increase the amount of money invested in those accounts.
- If our firm charges hourly fees, our firm has an incentive to recommend specific courses of action through the firm's services that may lead to representatives and/or the firm receiving additional compensation.

There are other fees and costs related to our investment advisory services and investments in addition to the principal fees and costs listed above that you will pay directly or indirectly. Examples of the most common fees and costs associated with client accounts could include custodian fees, account maintenance fees, mutual fund fees and other transactional fees and product-level fees. Our firm does not receive any portion of these fees.

Additional Information:

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For more detailed information about our fees and costs, please review our Form ADV, Part 2A brochure (specifically Items 5.A., B., C., and D.) which can be found at adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/175433.

Conversation starters. Ask your financial professional:

– Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when providing recommendations when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Below are examples to help you understand what this means:

- Recommending rollovers from retirement plan assets such as 401(k) accounts to an Individual Retirement Account (“IRA”) that is advised by our firm can increase the amount of advisory fees you will pay.
- Arrangements with custodians of your assets also present a conflict of interest due to services that are beneficial to us when we recommend you use them to maintain custody of your financial assets.

Conversation starters. Ask your financial professional:

– How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

Additional information:

For more detailed information about our fees and costs please review our Form ADV, Part 2A brochure (specifically Items 5.A., B., C., and D.) which can be found at adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/175433.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals earn cash compensation in the form of salary.

Do you or your financial professionals have any legal or disciplinary history?

No. Our firm and our representatives have no disciplinary history. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our firm and our financial professionals.

Conversation Starters. Ask your Financial Advisor:

– As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
