Mass Shooting Preparedness, Response, and Recovery

Offerings for Mayors and Local Leaders

Panel Discussion

Leadership panel providing basic education on the role of local leaders during the response and recovery from a mass shooting. Panel discussions could include national/regional threat briefings or feature mayors and subject matter experts who have responded to mass shootings.

Audience
Local, regional, or national

Participants
Senior elected officials; Homeland Security professionals; Meeting/conference attendees

Length
60/90-minute panel with questions

Leadership Briefing

Informal discussion with subject matter experts focused on the issues that local leaders need to address prior to a mass shooting. Discussions can be guided by input of the participants and can include a national/regional threat briefing.

Audience
Local official(s) and their invitees

Participants
Senior elected official; Key staff

Length
Two Hours (Flexible)

Executive Seminar

Facilitated roundtable discussions led by subject matter experts focused on unique local issues to be addressed in a mass shooting or mass casualty event. Tailored scenarios may be used to frame jurisdiction-specific issues and provide a realistic context for discussion.

Audience
Local official(s) and their invitees

Participants
Senior elected official; Key staff; Jurisdictional agency leadership

Length
Four Hours (Flexible)

Regional Forum

Multi-jurisdictional forum with comprehensive discussions surrounding mass shooting preparedness, response, and recovery. Subject matter experts present key topics in a plenary session, then lead in-depth topical break-out sessions (such as crisis communications and community resilience).

Audience
Regional

Participants
Senior elected officials; Regional city/county leadership

Length
Four-Six Hours (Flexible)

For more information contact:

DAWN WILSON
Director, CHDS Executive Education Program
Contract Support for CHDS
ndwilson@nps.edu | (515) 556-4770

SARAH PECK
Subject Matter Expert, CHDS Executive Education Program
Contract Support for CHDS
s.peck@phaionline.org | (443) 240-4435