People are always watching other people. You watch people live their lives every day. At school, when you are with your friends, even when you are at practice, you watch how others act and you decide, consciously or unconsciously, if you want to live that same way.

Think about this for a moment. Let’s try something to see if I am right about “people watching”:

What’s a famous line from that movie that you hear a lot?

What’s a popular style of clothing?

What’s a favorite music trend?

What’s a popular phrase you hear a lot to describe good? Bad?

Excitement? Sadness?

All of these things are influences on your life. But in order to be a positive influence you have to be an original. There are plenty of carbon copies out there but they are not becoming positive influences.

You were created for a reason. God designed you to be unique to be-
YOU. He didn't make you to be someone else. You were made with unique gifts and characteristics and being a positive influence starts with being yourself.

This week be a positive influence.

You could:

Encourage someone on your team

Support someone who needs a friend

Give up something to give someone that opportunity to be first

Come up with something this week to be a positive influence in the lives of those who might be watching you.

Remember Behaviors + Attitude = Results.

FINISH: ^{SEP}KATY UNITED puts God first and then we Work and Play in that order. Lets lock arms with our teammates and then let's put Him first by bowing our heads and honoring Him in the quietness BY REFLECTING ON what we just heard.

HIGH FIVE SOMEONE!
