Value Week 3

Who's on your team? Our life is like a team and we are the team captain. We have the opportunity to manage our team, and that includes the people you encounter every day—your parents, siblings, friends, classmates, and yes, even your teachers. God blesses us with different types of relationships that He trusts us to handle well. Even when people are hurtful or annoying, like little brothers or sisters, He expects us to handle them with love and with kindness.

Now ask yourself this question, “Am I helping or hurting my team?” It's easy to help the team when you feel appreciated and valued, but that task can be a bit more challenging when the team hurts us. Jesus is such a great example. God trusted Him with a great assignment, and Christ showed the greatest love to people who didn't love Him back. He was able to do this because He trusted God.

Trust is the key. The way you respond to the world around you shows how you can be trusted in it and with the people in it. A person of value can be trusted. God can trust you because He knows you can trust Him to protect her in every situation, even painful relationships.

A person of value can be trusted by God to properly manage relationships that He gives them. They ensure that everyone feels appreciated and valued, just as God the Father makes us feel. And as God can trust you with the relationships you have, He will trust to give you more relationships to both manage well and cherish forever.

Do one thing this week for your teammates that will help them trust you in a deeper way.

Remember Behaviors + Attitude = Results.

FINISH:<sup>[L]</sup><sub>[SEP]</sub>KATY UNITED puts God first and then we Work and Play in that order. So let's put Him first by bowing our heads, two fists in the air and just listening to Him for a brief moment (after 5 – 8 secs say "Amen"). Now that we've put Him first, let's repeat and ask to ourselves what we may want. (after 5 – 8 secs say "Amen").
