The Mansonville Optimist Club held its 13th Annual Golf Tournament fundraiser on August 17 with 116 players participating and an additional 22 people added to the dinner celebration raising $20,478 to allow the club to continue to offer programs for the youth of Potton.

“The members of the Board of Directors and the organizing committee of the golf tournament would like to sincerely thank all of the participants, donors and sponsors for the valuable contribution to this tournament,” said Mansonville Optimist Club President, Daniel Giroux. “We send our gratitude out on behalf of the many children who will benefit from this wonderful event and the help of all who made it possible.”

The organizing committee was headed by Jennifer McGeean, Shana Jandke and Erin Oliver with the support of members, Sophie Germain, Jacques Ducharme and Daniel Giroux. McGeean, Jandke and Oliver were able to organize, collect prizes and call people to assure participation and the three are proud of the accomplishments done when a community comes together in support of the youth. The committee recognizes all of the businesses who contributed in so many ways:

“It’s a lot of work,” shared McGeean. “When the event is over and you see the cheque and what it will mean for the youth of Potton, it is all well worth the effort we put in.”

The Mansonville Optimist Club has long devoted itself to making activities possible for the youth and with a Ski mountain like Owl’s Head available, it presents a win/win opportunity for the kids. Other activities besides the Opti Ski program are also funded by the group.
