We are the future of the LGBT community.

My girlfriend and I want to get married next year. We met in school, and we’re determined to be together.

The problem is that I live here and she doesn’t. She can’t visit me for long periods of time because of harsh immigration laws. And our future together in this country depends on how our leaders rewrite those laws. So it’s important to us that we understand how future elections could impact LGBT citizenship.

We keep up with EDGE’s political coverage on our mobile devices. Because we know that’s where our future will be.

Welcome to BENT LGBTQ Film Festival. Thanks to you, our audience, volunteers, board, sponsors, and artists, for helping us get to where we are today and contributing to our rich history. For 28 years, we have been screening at the beautiful Crest Theatre, and will continue to do so; but we are trying something new and will be closing the festival at the Esquire IMAX Theatre. Also new, our VIP pre-show parties will be offsite at La Cosecha (Friday, Saturday) and at Mayahuel (Sunday). Each only a block away, we look forward to some great food.

Festivals are for fun and entertainment; they make us feel good and bring us together. But they also make us think, challenge our perspective, and create discussion about our lives, in North America and also around the world.

Our opening night film GOOD KISSER should make some of you feel good as Director Wendy Jo Carlson (JAMIE AND JESSIE ARE NOT TOGETHER) returns to our festival with this provocative film. The untold stories of LGBT refugees and asylum seekers who have fled intense persecution from their home countries and who are resettling in the United States are told in UNSETTLED: SEEKING REFUGE IN AMERICA. Never underestimate the power of music to bring people together, as the San Francisco Gay Men’s Chorus embarks on a tour of the American Deep South to bring a message of music, love and acceptance, to communities and individuals confronting intolerance in GAY CHORUS DEEP SOUTH. Another hurdle for trans rights could quite literally be the track and field hurdle. Transgender student athletes are put in the spotlight in the documentary CHANGING THE GAME. Our closing night film LES CREVETTES PAILLETEES (THE SHINY SHRIMPS) is a colorful sports comedy about a homophobic swim champion forced to train a gay waterpolo team, a fun film with heart.

And of course we have short films, sexy, disturbing, funny; you won’t be bored. The sweet film HERE WITH YOU, was produced with an entirely trans cast and crew. Director Candy Guinea screened her first film (LIFE Y POZOLE) with us in 2013. She returns with the delightful MARIPOSA. We love this trans man’s work, Jake Graf continues to tell trans stories with LISTEN. We have previously shown some of his other films DUSK, 2017; CHANCE, 2015; BRACE, 2014.

As always, we will have some of the talented filmmakers and actors here to tell their stories. Let’s come together to contemplate, talk about, and celebrate our lives, loves, and community!

Now for the hard part.....This is my last year with the film festival. I have loved my time with the festival, but it is time for a change. I will mentor, assist, and do what I can for whoever takes over. The nominees for President are……..you?

The festival will continue to evolve and grow, but our goal to bring smart, challenging, and thought-provoking programs to our community will always stay the same.

UNSETTLED
SEEKING REFUGE IN AMERICA

Director: Tom Shepard
2019 | USA | 84 min

UNSETTLED is a feature-length documentary revealing the untold stories of LGBT refugees and asylum seekers who have fled intense persecution from their home countries and who are resettling in the United States. As new leadership in America continues to demonize immigrants and drastically restrict the flow of refugees and asylum seekers into the U.S., UNSETTLED humanizes a group few people know who are desperately trying to create new and safer homes. Subhi, a gay Syrian refugee, who, having survived multiple death threats from Islamic terrorists, beatings by a homophobic father, and a nation devastated by war, finds his voice as a leader for refugee rights in the U.S. Cheyenne and Mari, a lesbian couple from Angola, who, having faced brutal harassment from family and neighbors, seek uncertain asylum through the American immigration courts while pursuing their dreams of becoming musicians. Junior, a gender non-conforming gay man from the Congo, struggles to find even basic housing and livelihood while exploring a more fluid gender identity.

UNSETTLED takes place largely in the San Francisco Bay Area, historically a beacon for dislocated LGBT people in the U.S. While cultural narratives of a “queer promised land” still persist, the film asks whether Northern California is even practical as a place to resettle LGBT refugees, especially given the enormous gentrification, increased costs of living, and scarcity of housing in recent years—a set of problems present in many American cities. What are the costs persecuted immigrants pay for seeking refuge in America? And how are everyday Americans stepping forward to help those most in need?
In response to a wave of discriminatory anti-LGBTQ laws in Southern states and the divisive 2016 election, the San Francisco Gay Men’s Chorus embarks on a tour of the American Deep South. Led by Gay Chorus Conductor Dr. Tim Seelig and joined by The Oakland Interfaith Gospel Choir, the tour brings a message of music, love and acceptance, to communities and individuals confronting intolerance. Over 300 singers traveled from Mississippi to Tennessee through the Carolinas and over the bridge in Selma, performing in churches, community centers and concert halls in hopes of uniting us in a time of difference. The journey also challenges Tim and other Chorus members who fled the South to confront their own fears, pain and prejudices, on a journey towards reconciliation. What emerges is a less divided America, where the lines that divide us—faith, politics, sexual identity—are erased through the soaring power of music, humanity and a little drag.

CHANGING THE GAME

Director: Michael Barnett
2019 | USA | 95 min

This dynamic documentary takes us into the lives of three high school athletes—all at different stages of their athletic seasons, personal lives, and unique paths as transgender teens. Their stories span across the U.S.—from Sarah, a skier and teen policymaker in New Hampshire, to Andraya, a track star in Connecticut openly transitioning into her authentic self. The film centers on Mack Beggs, who made headlines last year when he became the Texas State Champion in wrestling and was heralded as a hero by some while receiving hate and threats from others. Trans athletes have to work harder than their cisgender peers in order to thrive in their field while also having the courage and resilience to face daily harassment and discrimination. The kids in this film have found sports as a way to channel the negativity around them into a positive, to gain a sense of self-worth and validation. This film is their urgent, articulate plea for acceptance.
