RECYCLING CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE FOR BUSINESSES

Recycling has a big impact on businesses, the environment and you!

Consider the following facts:

- Recycling is good corporate citizenship.
- Implementing effective environmental practices, such as recycling, can have economic rewards and customers notice! Workplace recycling also helps communities meet recycling goals.
- A typical business generates about 1.7 pounds of material per employee per day and much of it is recyclable paper.
- The most discarded products in an average office are 62 percent recyclable paper, 9 percent recyclable cardboard and 29 percent are other materials.
- Recyclables are the raw materials for many new products. Recycled paper supplies over 37 percent of the raw material for use in making new paper products. A high percentage of office paper is recycled into products such as cereal boxes, tissue and printing and writing paper.
- Every ton of paper recycled saves 3.3 cubic yards of landfill space. Currently more paper is recovered for recycling than is land filled.
- Recyclables have monetary value.

RECYCLING SEARCH ENGINE

www.earth911.org is an updated detailed database of recyclers available in the United States. The search can be based on the recycler, recycling material, area or city.
