

MIRIAM GUERRERO

Surprisingly, Miriam started out as an artist painting on canvas. She was incredibly passionate about color theory. When she was in high school she was always asked to "paint" her friends and families faces for the special events. Makeup put Miriam through college for finance and was even a side hobby while she pursued her career as a private wealth advisor. She finally realized her passion for artistry had more potential, and hasn't looked back since!

Miriam's career started in philanthropy projects. Her first big gig was for a runway show giving back to low-income schools. From there, her artistry has expanded into being one of the top hired artists for weddings with multiple awards and publications as well as many incredible once in a lifetime opportunities in the commercial and cinema world.

Makeup is so much more than painting a face; it is expressing a desired mood through a palette of colors. Getting to know her client, and the vibe they are trying to bring will give both the client and her viewers a most impressionable look! There is so much more to makeup than just applying product to the face. Miriam understands the direction of a production team and seeks to meet and exceed their expectations. Miriam has been recognized in the Houston Chronicle, and in Voyage. She has also received awards from Wedding Wire, several years in a row, as one of the top beauty vendors in the nation. She has received a certificate of excellence for her role as beauty chair in the Celebrate Your Life Cancer Foundation for her philanthropic efforts.

Outside of makeup, Miriam loves to educate her clients one-on-one on how to apply makeup on themselves as well as establishing a quality skin care regimen. She also hosts beauty classes for group parties educating on makeup application and/or hairstyling tips and tricks.

Miriam believes one simple fact and that is this "You've got a beauty that's all your own".
