¹ On this Sacred Calendar (not to be confused with the Rabbinic Calendar), there are 364 Days per year, equaling 52 Weekly Sabbath Days; Except, in intercalation years when there are 371 days and 53 Sabbaths; And, this exception occurs every 5-6 years when an extra week is inserted in order to keep the 4-seasons in-sync. In this Sacred Calendar, there is a 7-Day Perpetual Creation Week: Sunday - Saturday (the Sabbath Day) that never changes its Day-Night sequence (Gen. 1:3 - 2:3). Therefore, Day-1 of the 364 Days, begins in the Spring of the Year—in relation to the Vernal Equinox. Day-1 always begins on the 4th Day (Wednesday) of the Week following the Vernal Equinox and Day-364 ends the Year on the 3rd Day of the Week (Tuesday). Each Seasonal Quarter begins on a Wednesday. All solar calendars fall behind about 1.25 days each year. This necessitates an intercalation and is why in the U.S. we have a February 29th every 4-years. When the Spring Equinox will fall on a Wednesday, we insert 7-days (thus making that year 371 days) and then restart the 364-Day count on the following Wednesday. The 364-Day count is continuous for the next 5-6 years. In adjustment years in Israel, one set of priests served in the Temple for two weeks instead of one.
